LOCAL MATTERS

Deputy Treasurer Appointed.—County treasurer, Clarence S. Hurlock, has appointed Mr. Ollie Estes, of Chestertown, his deputy. A good appointment to a worthy man. Treasurer Hurlock and Deputy Estes will take charge of the office June 1, 1912. The term is for two years.

Anti-Saloon League Year Book.—This office is in receipt of a copy of the Anti-Saloon League Year Book for 1912. Like its predecessor, it is a big book of 256 pages of carefully selected, up-to-date material respecting all phases of the temperance question. It can be secured at the office of the Anti-Saloon League, Baltimore, and sells for 35 cents.

Town Improvement.—The cement gutters on main street from Bacchus' corner to Water street are nearing completion. The town commissioners have raised the wall about 10 inches at the foot of Water street and are laying a cement walk from the end of the pavement in front of Mr. Wm. B. Usilton's house to the corner of the lot recently purchased by Mr. Harry Graham. This was a much-needed improvement.

Votes for Women.—The Just Government League of Maryland has arranged for a public meeting in the court house here on Monday evening, May 20, in the interest of equal suffrage. Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett, who will preside, will call the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. Miss Lenora O'Reilly, of New York, and Mrs. Nannie Melvin, will address the meeting. The public is cordially invited to attend, and questions from the floor are to be asked for. The speakers will appreciate an opportunity to answer objections. No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken.

Run Into Hog.—On Tesuday last Mr. J. Fred Stevens, principal of the Church Hill school, while returning to his home in Church Hill from Chestertown, met with quite a painful accident. He was near the old Smith farm on his motercycle going at a fair speed when a bunch of hogs ran across the road. The machine struck one, turned over, trowing Mr. Stevens several yards, cutting his head in three places, bruising his arms, legs and shoulders and ruining his clothes. Outside of bending the horn and twisting a few things, the machine was not much damaged. Mr. Stevens, while not seriously injured, will be laid up several days and will have to have some one to feed him. He does not know whether the hog was killed, but hopes that it is not only dead but has been prepared for the pot. Dr. Sudler rendered the necessary medical attention.

At the regular meeting of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society last Saturday evening the following subject was debated: Resolved, That a system of compulsory voting should be adopted in the United States. On the affirmative were Messrs. Landing and Jones. On the negative were Messrs. Allen and Keller. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

Mr. James H. McCracken and Hope H. Barroll, Esq., have been appointed administrators of the estate of the late William S. McCracken, and they filed their first account in the Orphans' Court on Tuesday. The estate consists of money in bank, life insurance, etc., and is valued at about $10,000.

Mr. C. W. Clements, of Crumpton, has contracted with the Merrick Security and Trust Co., of Wilmington, Del., to get up a complete directory of Kent county. The directory will contain the names of every man woman and child over fifteen years of age, their correct address and occupation.

Mrs. Imogene Dorsey Slingluff, of Baltimore, has entered suit against the Cecil Apartment House for $35,000 damages for the loss of one of her feet in an elevator accident in the apartments some months ago. Mrs. Slingluff sues for $30,000 and her husband sues for $5,000. Mrs. Slingluff is well-known in Chestertown, where she visited Mrs. Samuel Vannort.

The fine Victor Hendrickson farm located near Chestertown was offered at public sale by Hope H. Barroll, attorney for the heirs, on Tuesday, but was withdrawn on a bid of $12,500. This is one of the best and most conveniently located farms in this section, and the price bid is no money for such a fine tract of land.

A Hustling Firm.

The well-known clothing firm of Moody & Lusby enjoy the destinction of having one of the most progressive clothing firms on the peninsular. Their success in business is due to years of experience and to a natural adaptability to business harmoniously combined in the two members of the firm Messrs. William E. Moody and Walter U. Lusby. Mr. Moody was a successful clothing man before the organization of the firm 18 years ago this July, and Mr. Lusby brought to the firm a natural adaptation to business. This combination rapidly built up a most successful clothing business until today, by honest methods, square dealing and conservative and persistent advertising, the firm is known in all parts of Kent and widely in Queen Annes in which territory they are doing a flourishing business. You can always find a large and varied assortment of clothing and gents' furnishings of the best texture and design at Moody & Lusby's and the members of the firm are courteous salesmen and affable gentlemen. The TRANSCRIPT extends congratulations to the firm upon its long and successful business career, and we wish them continued success and prosperity in an ever increasing trade.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Other base ball notes on page 6.

Beginning with Wednesday, May 22nd, Washington College will play her first home game in the series arranged with the important college teams of the State. On this occasion they will cross bats with Rock Hill College, whom they have once defeated this season, on the latter's grounds, in a close and exciting ten inning game. The visitors will come to Chestertown determined to have the last laugh, while the locals are equally determined to "put it on" heavier than before.

On Saturday, May 25th, Washington will again take the diamond, this time with St. Johns, her State rival. These two teams have not contested for four years. Washington has centered the interest of her whole season on this game and one to be played the following Friday at Annapolis, and St. Johns, mindful of her defeat last fall, at Washington's hands, is eager to even up the year's athletic record with Washington. A hot contest therefore, is sure to follow.

THE GRIM REAPER.

GEORGE HUDSON.

Mr. George Hudson, one of Kent's most prominent agriculturalists and best citizens, died at his home near Chestertown yesterday (Friday) morning at 5 o'clock, after a long illness of the hardening of the arteries of the brain, aged 55 years. Mr. Hudson had a host of friends in this county, and was one of our most popular citizens. We have never heard any one say an unkind word about him—he was universally beloved by every one who knew him. Large hearted and generous in his judgment of his fellowman, he was always a welcome caller wherever he went. He was the youngest son of the late John M. Hudson. His mother died when he was an infant, therefore he was raised without the tender and loving guidance of a mother, yet he grew and measured up to noble manhood. He was an ardent Democrat and an active worker in the Democratic ranks, and one of the most prominent leaders of his party in the Sixth District.

Mr. Hudson was born on the Doe Neck farm at Worton Heights 55 years ago. He started farming on the farm now owned by Mr. Wm. J. Tarbutton near Fairlee, from there he moved on the Washington Skirven farm at Worton Point and remained there until he purchased the farm near Flat Lands where he has since lived and died. Mr. Hudson was twice married, his first wife was a Miss Ida Moss, of this county, who bore him one daughter, Mrs. Malin Lee, who lives with her husband near Fairlee. His second wife, who with one son, Raymond, survives him, was a Miss Edith Anderson, of Baltimore. A loving husband, devoted father and a true friend has passed away and no one can say naught against him. Funeral services will be held at his late residence at two o'clock Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. G. A. Morris. Interment in Chester cemetery. The pallbearers will be: Thomas J. Davis, Jesse R. Usilton, Linwood Sutton, J. E. Morris, Wm. T. Nicholson, Jesse H. Copper. Charles L. Dodd, funeral director.

I. CLARK TAYLOR.

Mr. I. Clark Taylor, one of the oldest and most prominent of our citizens died at Centreville, Queen Annes county, Tuesday last, aged 96 years. When a young man Mr. Taylor tought school in this county for a number of years. After he gave up teaching he engaged in farming, buying a farm near St. Paul's Church, this county. He continued farming until a few years ago when he retired, renting his farm to his son, Mr. Benjamin Taylor. Mr. Taylor was wice married. By his first wife he is survived by two sons, Dr. Taylor, a prominent and successful physician of Laurel, Prince George's county, and Mr. Benjamin Taylor, of this county. His second wife survives him. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of recent years have been spending the winters in Centreville, returning to Kent in the spring and remaining until the fall.

Mr. Taylor was a man of stong convictions and of unusual intelligence. He was an ardent Southern sympathizer and an uncompromising Jeffersonian Democrat. His remains were brought to Kent county on Wednesday and interred in St. Paul's cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. S. S. Hepburn assisted by Rev. Dr. Sharpe. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. James Bell, George Beck, S. C. LeCompt, I. R. Leaverton, Charles M. Brown and Dr. Frank Smith.

CAPT. J. N. MCCULLOUGH.

Capt. James N. McCullough died suddenly from apoplexy at Port Deposit Wednesday afternoon. Seated in his chair in the office of the Tolchester Steamboat Company at that place he fell forward and, without a murmur, lay half an hour and then expired.

Born in Port Deposit 79 years ago, he had spent every day of his life along the shores of the Susquehanna river and the Chesapeake Bay. He was a bayman who laid by for the day of adversity and at his death was one of the largest stockholders of the Tolchester company, as well as a heavy holder of bank stock of the National Bank of Port Deposit. He was a director of both companies. Throughout his long life he always spoke in praise of his native town, and it was through his efforts that the all-water route to Baltimore was established. His pride was the steamer Susquehanna, and each season found him its most regular passenger. In this way many persons from Kent became acquainted with him. He leaves an estate valued at $60,000.

JOHN A. MORADETZ.

John A. Moradetz died at his home at Betterton last Friday night, aged 62 years. Remains were taken to Baltimore Sunday morning. Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 P. M. Interment in Bohemian cemetery. W. H. Krusen funeral director.

New Election Supervisors.

The new Board of Supervisors of Elections—Messrs. John C. Davis and Walter S. Trew, Republicans and Samuel G. Caldwell, Democrat, met on Wednesday, after qualifying before clerk of the court, James T. Dixon, and organized by electing Mr. John C. Davis, president, and Mr. William W. Baldwin clerk to the board. For the next four years the election machinery of the county will be in control of the Republicans, but with such men as John C. Davis, Walter S. Trew and Samuel G. Caldwell at the helm, everybody will be assured of a square deal. The appointment of Mr. Baldwin is a good one, capable, intelligent and obliging, and so far as Mr. Caldwell, the minoriety member, is conceived, we can assure Messrs. Davis and Trew that he is among the county's best young citizens, desirous always of doing right and being in thorough accord with things that are right.

A Fine Reception.

The members and friends of Christ M. P. Church gave Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham and family a charming reception in the lecture room of the church last Monday evening. More than 200 guests called to wish the pastor and his family a cordial welcome to Chestertown for a third pastorate. The guests were met at the door by Messrs. Charles N. Satterfield and C. S. Smith, of the Board of Stewards, who introduced them to the receiving party consisting of the pastor and his family, Rev. G. Morris, pastor of St. James, Mrs. A. M. Bowers and Mr. James W. Lambert. Mr. Charles L. Dodd, president of the Board of Stewards, in a splendid address welcomed Dr. Graham and his family. Dr. Graham replied in his usual happy manner. Other addresses of a splendid character and full of cordial good feeling and fellowship were made by Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett, pastor of the M. E. Church, and Rev. G. A. Morris, pastor of St. James. Refreshments of block cream and fancy cakes were served in abundance, and the pleasure of the occasion was greatly increased by sweet music rendered by an orchestra composed of Messrs. T. Kemp Bordley and Warren C. Hurlock, violins; Arthur Bacon, cornet; Foster Cannan, trombone, and Miss Clara Usilton, pianist. The reception was one of the largest and most pleasant ever given by the church, and to Mrs. Charles N. Satterfield, Mr. Robert Huey, and other members of the Christian Endeavor Society is due the credit for a splendid social funct. n.

Grange Notes.

Did you ever have a "pain in your sawdust?" If not, come out and hear Mrs. Hazel K. Bornschein next Monday evening. For an evening's entertainment, she is hard to beat. She gives an entirely new program and then a few extras "by request." The program for next Tuesday's grange meeting is a little bit of a secret. So come out and hear all about it. The audience for the domestic science was very good last week. They were patient when the "female speakeress" was interrupted by the baby, and with their good questions helped the meeting considerably. Even the men seemed interested, but I reckon it was because it referred to "eats." A talk on canning will be given shortly and a fireless cooker demonstrated.

Rock Hall Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ayres were visiting friends and relatives in Baltimore this week.

Mrs. Bloustein was a Baltimore visitor the first of the week.

Clarence Thompson and several young men of the town went over to see the circus, which was held in Baltimore.

While on his way from Worton last Sunday evening George Ashley was run into by a drunken colored man with a team from one of the Chestertown liveries. The horse come up behind Mr. Ashley in a full run and became wedged between the hind wheel so that the wheel had to be removed before the hore could be cleared. This might have proved a serious accident had not the horse been taken out immediately, as it was, no one was hurt except for a few scratches on the horse.

On account of very bad weather moving pictures were postponed from last Wednesday till Thursday night.

Mr. T. B. Durding made a short business trip to Baltimore this week.

Mrs. Addie Satterfield was in Chestertown last Wednesday.

The Fifth District Trotting Association are putting their track into condition, and several horses are being worked out for the events soon to be pulled off at that place.

There is some talk of organizing a base ball club in Rock Hall this summer. Boys, it's a little late. But let her go.

Maryland 28th In Butter.

According to the latest figures of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Maryland ranks twenty-eighth in the production of butter of the 48 States and one territory. In the South Atlantic group of eight States, Maryland ranks fourth in the production of butter.

During the last year 90,858,000 pounds of butter were made in the State, the value of which was $20,333. Maryland people appear to dislike factory butter, as only 10,119 pounds of this amount was made in factories. The total value of the factory butter was about $3,000.

West Virginia leads the North Atlantic States as a butter producer by a wide margain, over 450,000 pounds being produced in the Mountain State, valued at $180,970.

Born After Mother Dies.

The world's first baby boy to be born after his mother's death is now a patient in Fordham Hospital, full of vitality and apparently destined to a long life. By a cesarian operation the child was delivered, the physicians at Fordham Hospital assert 10, minutes after the mother had died of apoplexy. The boy weighed eight and a half pounds.

The case is said by physicians to be without precedent, and, as showing that life persists in the organs following the phenomenon of death. The boy's mother was Mrs. Rebecca Lipschutz, of the Bronx, New York.
