DR. DAVIS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Of Methodist Protestant Conference Over Dr. Lewis, Now in Session in Baltimore.

At the opening session of the Methodist Protestant General Conference in Baltimore last week Rev. Dr. Lyman Edwyn Davis, of Sharpsburg, Pa., was elected president over his opponent, Rev. Dr. T. H. Lewis, of Westminster, Md.

The vote was 78 to 71 in favor Dr. Davis.

The election hinged on the question of church union. Dr. Lewis, the defeated candidate, is an aggressive advocate of church unity. Dr. Davis is opposed to further advances by his church on the ground of impracticability.

The feeling that Maryland had too long been represented in the president's chair and that it should go to some other conference also figured in the voting.

Mr. Daniel Baker, a leading lay delegate and a warm personal friend of Dr. Lewis, resigned as a delegate because he "could not agree with what had been said by some."

Rev. Dr. C. H. Beck, of Muskingum conference, was unanimously re-elected secretary of the conference.

Rev. Dr. Lyman Edwyn Davis, of Sharpsburg, Pa., was elected president of the twenty-first quadrennial General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church of America last week by the General Conference, which began its sessions at St. John's Church, St. Paul and Twenty-seventh streets, Baltimore.

Rev. Dr. Thomas H. Lewis, of Westminster, Md., the retiring president and candidate for re-election, was defeated by 71 to 78 out of 150 votes cast. One vote was received by Rev. J. F. McCulloch, of North Carolina. There was only one ballot, the plurality rule being in force.

One of the sensations of the day was the resignation of Mr. Daniel Baker, a leading lay delegate to the conference.

The defeat of Dr. Lewis halted any immediate hopes of church union, as far as the Methodist Protestant Church is concerned.

The statement was made that Maryland had held the presidency for 16 years out of 20 and for 24 years out of 28. The second term idea was also used against Dr. Lewis. But the direct issue was church union.

Dr. Lewis was the head and front of the movement for some grounds of interdenominational co-operation. He was the chairman of the commission on church union appointed by the Methodist Protestant Church to consult and act with like commissions of other churches. His chief labors have been Christian brotherhood for church unity.

This was frankly given as the cause of the defeat of Dr. Lewis. All his opponents on the floor expressed the utmost regard and personal friendship for him. His ability, they said, was great and his value to the church undoubted.

"Minneapolis is waiting to hear what we do in Baltimore," one delegate said. "The Methodist Episcopal Church is waiting for a sign that we are preparing to lose our identity by uniting with that church. We want to send no equivocal answer. Dr. Lewis is too strongly and wholly identified with church union. We must send another name to the world to tell that we are still Methodist Protestants and that we will be nothing but Methodist Protestants. By electing Dr. Davis we will send that message."

MR. BAKER YIELDS SEAT.

Immediately after the new president had assumed the gavel Mr. Baker, leader in the Maryland conference and close personal friend of Dr. Lewis, resigned his position as delegate to the General Conference and asked that his alternate be seated.

"I cannot agree with many things said on this conference floor and request the privilege of retiring and allowing my alternate to take my seat," he said, and he was granted the privilege.

DR. LEWIS CHEERED.

Mr. J. J. Barge, of Atlanta, lay delegate from the Georgia conference, arose to nominate Dr. Lewis for re-election. He said:

"I present the name of the most earnest, the most brilliant, the most efficient man in our church or in any denomination in America, a man who has raised the Methodist Protestant Church to a rank among the churches of the world, who has done more for his church and more to draw admiring attention to our church than any man since its foundation—a man whom we all know, respect and love. I present the name of Thos. Hamilton Lewis, now president."

So spontaneous and enthusiastic was the prolonged applause which followed that Dr. Lewis had to check it by reading a section of the by-laws against unseemly noise in the church.

DR. LEWIS' RECORD.

Again the applause broke forth and Rev. D. G. Helmick, of West Virginia; Rev. A. L. Reynolds, of Ohio; Rev. J. O. Ledbetter, of Indiana, and Mr. Baker and Rev. J. P. Morgan, president of the Alabama conference, and many others spoke for Dr. Lewis, praising his administration, his executive ability and himself personally in glowing terms.

Then the opposition trained its heavy guns. Mr. Sheridan, of the Maryland delegation, began:

"Maryland has had this office 16 years out of 20, and I think 24 out of 28 years. It is time that the other conferences get the honor. All the great men are not in Maryland. Maryland should give way to the other conferences."

From the Texas section of the church Rev. T. L. Garrison spoke.

"We have been negotiating about church union for so many years," he said, "and we are no nearer than when we started. We want these negotiations and bickerings to be closed. We want to devote our efforts to perpetuating our own principals and advancing our own church, and let the other denominations alone."
