JUNE WEEK AT THE COLLEGE

Commencement Exercises of the 130th Year at Washington Interesting and Largely Attended.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH SUNDAY EXERCISES.

Mt. Vernon Anniversary Largely Attended, and Congressman Covington Receives Oration.

Oratorical Contests Inspiring—List of Graduates, Prize Winners and Degrees Conferred—Commencement Ball.

"June week" at Washington College has been a very interesting and enjoyable occasion. The commencement exercises of the 130th year were largely attended and many of the Alumni of the college returned to "do" the festivities and to renew old friendships. The exercises began on Saturday afternoon with a base ball game between Washington and Mt. St. Joseph's. The weather was cloudy and the field soggy. A close and interesting game was impossible, and after batting for eight innings, the Mt. St. Josephites left the field, claiming that they had just time to catch the boat at Tolchester, the score standing 16 to 13 in favor of the visitors with last bats due to Washington College.

BACCALAUREATE SUNDAY.

Baccalaureate Sunday dawned cloudy and rainy, and at the hour of assembling in William Smith Hall, the seat of the commencement exercises, a heavy downpour prevented those who desired to attend the services from reaching the hall. Those who braved the elements, however, were fully repaid, as Dr. James W. Cain, the president of the college, delivered an able and forceful address. The Glee Club of the college, under the direction of Mrs. James W. Cain, rendered pleasing music for the service.

SERMON TO Y. M. C. A.

The sermon to the Young Men's Christian Association was delivered at night by Rt. Rev. Frederick Kinsman, Bishop of the Diocese of Delaware, and this service, much to the regret of the people, was marred by a heavy thunder storm. The bishop had a good audience, however, and he delivered a most excellent sermon.

BASE BALL GAME.

The game of base ball on Monday afternoon between Washington College and an All Star aggregation, made up of the best players of the School League teams, with several other acquisitions, was one of the best played and most hotly contested games seen at Washington College for years. For eleven innings the teams fought like Trojans for the victory. Beck, the crack pitcher of the Millington team, and probably the best pitcher on the Eastern Shore, was on the mound for the All Stars, and he pitched a grand game for the full nine innings. He weakened in the last rounds, and by some good and timely hitting the college team was able to push the necessary runs over the pan to win the game. Bowen and Biddle, Washington's regular pitchers, were in fine form and received excellent support. The final score was 3 to 2 in favor of Washington. The features of the game were spectacular catches by Garrett and Derringer, and the fielding of Porter and Kelley. Mr. Charles W. Kibler, Jr., umpired the game and gave general satisfaction.

MT. VERNON ANNIVERSARY.

The sixty-fifth anniversary of the Mount Vernon Literary Society was held on Monday evening. Mr. Wm. Frazier Russell, Jr., president of the society welcomed the audience and introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. J. Harry Covington, representative in Congress from the First Maryland District, in a speech replete with fine expression and splendid thought. Mr. Covington received on ovation from the audience when he arose to speak. He is one of our most popular Eastern Shoremen, and is a most attractive and considerate speaker. It is said that one of the finest arts known to public speakers, is the art of knowing just when to stop. Mr. Covington possesses this art to a splendid degree, and it is this that makes him one of our most pleasing and popular speakers. Mr. Covington spoke for thirty minutes upon a most timely theme—"A plea for the maintenance of Rural Life," and he said as much and more in those thirty minutes than some men would say in an hour and a half. Congressman Covington pleased his audience greatly.

DECLAMATION CONTEST.

The declamation contest for the Simpers medals took place in William Smith Hall on Tuesday morning. The following were the contestants and their subjects:

William Lester Baldwin, Chestertown, "Robert Emmet's Protest Against Sentence of Death as a Traitor."

"Heroism and History"—Leon Hanford Jones, Church Creek, Md.

"The Declaration of Independence", William Getty Keller, Winchester, Va.

"Eulogy on William Pinkney White," Marion Howk Landing, Marion Station, Md.

"Lessons from the Sinking of the Titanic," Frederick Stanley Porter, Princess Anne, Md.

"Crime its own Detective," Clyde McCellan Stouffer, Hagerstown, Md.

The judges Harrison W. Vickers, Esq., Herbert E. Perkins, Esq. and Dr. Frank B. Hines, awarded first medal to Leon Hanford Jones, of Church Creek, and second medal to Clyde McCellan Stouffer, Hagerstown, Md.

Weber's Fifth Regiment Orchestra, that ever popular musical organization with the people, furnished inspiring music.

ORATORIAL CONTEST.

The oratorical contest for the Oates medals was held in William Smith Hall on Tuesday evening. There were four contestants—one of the best classes in the history of these interesting features of June week. Indeed, so well matched were the contestants, that the judges had difficulty in reaching a decision. The contestants and their subjects were:

Wendell DeWitt Allen, Towson, Md., "Further Restriction on Immigration."

William Lester Baldwin, Chestertown, Md., "Men and Women Should Have Equal Suffrage."

Marion Howk Landing, Marion Station, Md., "Wealth versus Commonwealth."

William Frazier Russell, Chestertown, Md., "The American Patriot of To-day."

The judges, Professor William M. Hunley, Professor J. Sharshall Grasty and Professor Harry Primrose Porter, awarded first prize to William Lester Baldwin, Chestertown, Md., and second prize to Marion Howk Landing, Marion Station, Md.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The commencement exercises of the 130th year were held in William Smith Hall on Wednesday morning.

First Honor Oration was delivered by Miss Josephine Redue Wheatley, of Chestertown, Md., whose subject was: "Education: Should it be Liberal or Vocational."

Second Honor Oration—"Self-reliance," was delivered by Miss Caroline Frances Hopkins, Chestertown.

The address to the graduates was delivered by Prof. John Sharshall Grasty, Ph. D., University of Virginia.

The following degrees, honorary degrees and prizes were awarded:

Following the commencement exercises the class shield was unveiled in William Smith Hall. These ceremonies were followed by a splendid luncheon served in West Hall under the direction of Caterer George E. Lambert to the Alumni and guests.

Dr. Cain announced at the close of the exercises that plans are being made for the erection of a handsome gymnasium during the summer, the last Legislature having appropriated $40,000 for the purpose.

ALUMNI OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting of the Alumni Association held after the commencement exercises in the library the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:-

President, Dr. Valk; vice-president, Dr. Carroll; treasurer, M. W. Thomas; recording secretary, Miss Bessie Wheatley; corresponding secretary, Mr. Sasscer.

ALUMNI GAME.

A great crowd witnessed the alumni game in the afternoon on Washington Field. The game was hotly contested, but good pitching was difficult because of the wet ball. The final score was 12 to 10 in favor of the college team. The lineup was:

Washington—Porter, 1b., Wallace, 2b., Lewis, ss., Meekins, 3b., Larmore, rf., Garrett, cf., Long, c., Bowen and Biddle, p., Corddry, lf.

Alumni—Massey and White, 1b., Turner, 2b., Kibler, ss., Branham, 3b., Johns, rf., White and Beck, cf., Waller, lf., Withgott, c., Baden, p.

Umpire—Vickers.

COMMENCEMENT BALL.

The exercises of the week closed on Wednesday with the commencement ball, held in Davis & Satterfield's skating rink. Numerous visitors were present from nearby cities and surrounding towns, and splendid music was furnished by Weber's Fifth Regiment Orchestra.
