An I H C Manure Spreader Is an Investment—Not an Expense

A MACHINE that makes two dollars where one was made before is not an expense—it is a good investment.

Careful tests made at the Ohio Experiment Station showed an average increased crop yield of $15 an acre when eight loads of manure were properly spread. Spreading with a fork, it would take at least sixteen loads to an acre to produce the same result. By fertilizing twice as much ground with the same quantity of manure and doing the work better, an I H C manure spreader soon pays for itself. Add to this saving an increase of $15 an acre in the value of your crops, and you at once see why we urge the purchase of an

I H C Manure Spreader

Kemp 20th Century, Corn King, or Cloverleaf

Ask the I H C local dealer to show you the self-aligning, removable boxes on the main axle; notice that the axles are roller bearing to reduce the draft; study the apron construction, and note the large rollers on which it runs. I H C spreaders can be used in any corner of the barnyard. There is no reach to interfere. The seat folds out of the way when filling the spreader.

If you appreciate machines of extra merit; machines that spread manure in ample range of quantities; machines which can be equipped with drilling attachments for use in market gardens, and above all, machines which are made in sizes convenient for every farm, investigate I H C spreaders. Go to the local I H C dealer and look carefully over the machines he shows you. Get catalogues and full information from him, or, write
