LIVESTOCK BOARD UP TO NECK IN WORK.

Hog Cholera, Tubercular Cattle and Infected Milk Keep Men Busy.

DAIRYMEN CO-OPERATE.

Owners Seem Anxious to Rid Cattle of Diseases—Lack of Funds a Drawback.

With hog cholera raging in three districts on the Eastern Shore, with numerous herds of cattle to be tested for tuberculosis and with typhoid outbreaks, alleged to be due to infected milk, to be looked after, the members of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board are at the present time passing through the busiest season they have experienced since they were appointed to office by Governor Goldsborough early last spring.

However, it is not the amount of work the board members have to do that occasions them the most worry. They are embarrassed by a shortage of funds, and that is where the shoe pinches. The legislative appropriation for the use of the board amounts to only $3,000 a year, whereas twice or perhaps three times that amount could be profitably expended under conditions such as exist at present.

Since the present board took hold of things some months ago it has tested, all told, about 3,000 head of cattle for tuberculosis. Something like 15 per cent. of the total number of tests made have given indications of the presence of the disease. This includes the slaughter house tests, and in each case the infected animal was destroyed.

DAIRYMEN CO-OPERATING.

This morning President Harry P. Skipper of the board gave out some interesting information relative to the work the board has been doing. He said, for instance, that the Maryland owners of cattle, particularly the dairymen, have, instead of objecting to tests being made of their herds, almost universally co-operated in every way with the board and the State Veterinarian.

Just at this time the outbreak of hog cholera in the Stevensville district of Queen Annes county and the Tolchester and Betterton districts of Kent county is causing Mr. Skipper considerable worry. The disease is the most common, probably the most fatal, and certainly the most dreaded of all maladies peculiar to swine. Experience has shown that it is a disease to be prevented rather than cured, and Mr. Skipper in bending all of his energies toward starting preventive measures before the disease spreads to other sections of the State.

USING COSTLY SERUM.

The method to be pursued by the Livestock Board in getting rid of the disease will be to immunize all the hogs in that section by inoculating them with hog-cholera serum, the best preventive of the disease which has yet been discovered. This sort of treatment is expensive. It costs at present a minimum of 40 cents to inoculate a hog weighing 100 pounds. The prescribed dose is one cubic centimetre to every five pounds the hog may happen to weigh, and even the State does not expect to be able to supply the serum for less than 2 cents per cubic centimetre.

During the last session of the Legislature $15,000 was appropriated for the establishment of a biological laboratory, under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture, for the manufacture of vaccine and serums for inoculating cattle and swine. The director of the State Agricultural College has notified Mr. Skipper that the laboratory will begin turning out the vaccines and serums about September 1, but he is anxious to begin the use of the hog-cholera serum before that date. Consequently, he has made arrangements to purchase a supply.

President of the Live Stock Sanitary Board, Harry P. Skipper, was in our office on Monday morning and verified the above statement which appeared in Friday's Evening Sun. He stated that he had ordered 20,000 cubic centimetres of the serum for use in Kent and Queen Annes counties and assigned Dr. Jarman to the work in the two counties. Hogs belonging to Mr. William Hendrix, Mr. William H. Bonwell and Mr. Wiltbanks, near Kennedyville, are affected, and other farmers in the county have hogs affected with the disease.

The Grange Picnic.

Several hundred farmers representing the granges of Kent and Queen Annes counties met for their annual picnic in Klinefelters woods near Chester bridge last Saturday. The program began at one o'clock with Col. Wm. J. Vannort, of the Chestertown Grange, as the presiding officer. After an invocation by Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett, a stirring address of welcome was delivered by J. H. C. Legg, Esq., of the Centreville bar. The response was fittingly made by State Lecturer Wm. G. Smyth, of Fairlee Grange. The following speakers delivered forceful and thoughtful addresses—Miss Essie Funk Muhse—Farm Sanitation; Walter B. Miller of the Good Roads Commission—Good Roads and Their Importance to Farmers; Miss Lola Trax—Why Women Should Vote; Prof. N. T. Hull, National Lecturer—Farming and Agriculture.

Those of the grangers who arrived before the noon hour enjoyed a sumptuous basket dinner under the shade of the trees. The music furnished by a choir of 25 voices under the direction of Mrs. Merrick Clements and Miss Ida Crew, with Mrs. George Hatcherson at the piano, was splendid and was a pleasing feature of an enjoyable program. There was a creditable display of farm implements and machinery by Davis & Satterfield, of Chestertown, and a fine display of wheat, fruits, farm products and garden truck by various members of the grange. The picnic was not so largely attended as last year, owing to the inconvenient day on which it was held. But Saturday was the only day in the week the National Lecturer could be secured this year, and the management desired his presence especially. The executive committee did its duty well, and supplied every convenience for the pleasure of the guests and for the safety and comfort of the teams.

Maryland Wheat 88 Per Cent. Good.—Maryland's crop of winter wheat is not quite up to the standard of 1911. On August 1, 1911, the State's wheat crop was classed as 91 per cent. good. On August 1 last the crop was reported 88 per cent. good. The yield for this year is 15 bushels per acre, as compared to a yield of 15.5 bushels per acre last year. The winter wheat production of the State this year is 8,970 bushels, as compared with 9,378 bushels produced last year. The percentage of yield per acre for the country at large is 15.1 bushels per acre, as compared to 14.8 bushels per acre in 1911.
