The surgeon has a handsome green tent, cosily fitted up, and uses a splendid Indian canoe for fishing and boating. He is leading an Indian life, far away from the noise and bustle of the city, and when we saw him this week he was enjoying the color produced by contact with a country sun.

Mr. B. Blackiston Wroth will enter the Johns Hopkins University October 1 for a course in chemistry.

A Great Grape Crop.

Messrs. Rash Bros. will finish to-day harvesting what is undoubtedly the greatest grape crop ever raised in Kent county. Those who have had the great pleasure of seeing the beautiful vinyard and who have eaten some of the luscious fruit grown on Mr. B. F. Rash's home farm and on their Flower Grove fruit farm near Worton, know what good fruit is. A number of colored hands have been employed for the past two or three weeks picking and crating the grapes which have been shipped from Worton Station to a prominent Philadelphia commission firm, who sent an experienced packer to the vineyard to instruct the labor in properly crating the fruit. The grapes are the Concord variety and they grow to fine size and produce abundantly. The yield this year has been about 4,200 crates. Prices have ranged from 40 to 70 cents per crate. It would seem from these figures that the Messrs. Rash have simply coined money from the crop. But when you count the cost of labor and the loss incident to picking and shipping, there is simply the usual profit attached to any other well-handled fruit crop. The gathering of the crop has not been without attendant losses, either. The day after the circus Mr. B. F. Rash went as usual to Butlertown to bring the colored people to the vineyard to go to work. Only one showed up. He had to come to Chestertown and secure labor, being able to get only a few boys. They were worse than nothing, for they packed 40 crates, got into a fight while doing it, and as a consequence of the worthless labor, all but 13 of the crates were ruined in packing and had to be thrown to the hogs. The other evening a wagon load of crates filled with select fruit was sent to Betterton for shipment to Philadelphia. In going down the hill at the entrance to the town, the driver forgot to lock the wheels, and the wagon collided with the end of a warehouse on the wharf, upset on top of the grapes and mashed every crate into jelly. The loss on the grapes was $78 besides commission for packing, and the damage to the wagon amounted to some $25. Besides the losses we understand that a carload was ruined in shipment. But notwithstanding these heavy losses, and the worry and expense of incompetent labor, Mr. B. F. Rash states that the crop has been a paying one. Besides this large quantitie of tomatoes have been shipped from the farms daily, and the big keiffer pear crop will shortly be picked and sent to market. If you have not seen this beautiful and thrifty farm, you should ride out that way some of these pretty fall days and see it. The Rash boys are hustlers and they deserve much credit for the good judgment they are displaying in their system of intensive farming.

Misses Bessie and Nellie Nicholson have been visiting their brother, Mr. Robert J. Nicholson, at Mt. Washington, during the week.

SERVICES WARRANT RE-ELECTION.

The services rendered by Hon. J. Harry Covington during his two terms in Congress have been of such a high order that the people of the Eastern Shore could ill afford to be deprived of a Representative in Congress of his type. This, even the Republicans, recognized in refraining from nominating a candidate against him. The Bull Moose party, evidently from no other purpose than to establish an organization on the Eastern Shore, put forward a candidate to contest the seat of Mr. Covington. We do not believe that they seriously contemplate his election and their purpose is merely secondary. Their course is not one that will appeal to the voters in this Congressional district. They could well have afforded to have accorded to Mr. Covington the recognition of his great worth deserves and returned him to Congress without opposition, and we believe that they would have been in a better position for the next fight had they done so.

It can hardly be expected that the Republicans will vote for Mr. Grier, and no Democrat could think of pursuing such a course. Consequently the showing to be made for the Bull Moose candidate will be a poor one. It is quite beyond us to see how there can be any question as between these two candidates, however high the personal character of Mr. Grier may be.

Mr. Covington with his splendid equipment and four years of most valuable experience, is to-day one of the most useful members of Congress, and without unkind reflections upon his predecessors, we believe that we can safely assert that he is the most efficient member of Congress that has ever been sent from the Eastern Shore. His talents are of a high order and his natural aptitude for the duties that devolve upon him make him one of the leading men in public life at Washington. This is not fulsome flattery and any person who will take the trouble to even listen to the reports that go out from Washington will be convinced of the truth of this statement. His assistance in the framing of the tariff bills, his leadership in the construction of the government for the Panama Canal Zone and the regulation of the use of the canal, his speeches relating to the income tax, his efficient services on the Election Committee, his great service to this district in opening up and improving the waterways, which are now occupying a great deal of his attention, and only last week was the subject of a most brilliant speech before the Deeper Waterways Association at New London, Conn., and numerous other important duties that he has performed and works in which he is now engaged are abundant proof to every person of his usefulness, not only to the people of the Eastern Shore, but to the people of the Nation.

There is no question about the election of Mr. Covington whoever may have been nominated by the Republican party, and we know that the movement of the Roosevelt party in putting forward a candidate will not embarrass him to any degree whatever. The people of the Eastern Shore ought to return him to Congress by a unanimous vote and we believe would do so if consideration of practical politics were laid aside in behalf of good government and efficient service.—Easton Star-Democrat.
