have heard fr her as she frequently speaks of you with great affection - I was given to hear yr sister had been a supper in yr absence - the next visit you make me you must indeed her to accompany you & we will endeavor to brighten her. Though you know our establishment is a dull one for that purpose - Give my kind love to Eliza as also Ella yr aunt Dorsey - Mr. Carter when you see him remember me to - Yr friend the Dr very often speaks of you & regretted yr departure exceedingly he has gone this aft. to church with his Aunt K - or wd I know have a kind my say for you - Ann is as usual gay & happy she has been devoted to me in Em's absence - It would add much to my pleas-ure at N. Port if you were to be of the party - Ann is still undecided. The con-dition of her family remains much the same - My darling Willie is a great com-fort to me they mortify me by telling me that I spoil him - Miss Crawford is as faith-ful as ever she desires her best love to you & hopes you will not forget her - Mrs Kuhn desires her love as also Mary you are much a favorite in the whole concern - H & C - their kindest regards as also Mr R - Yr attached friend E. H. K -

My dearest Molly

Mrs Kuhn allows me to add a few lines to her letter, to assure you how very much we all have missed you would be almost impossible, but I presume your duties at home have so completely occupied you that you have had hardly the time to bestow one thought upon us. I was rejoiced to hear that you arrived safely at your home, and found that matters and things had not suffered in your absence, it will cause you to be more interested upon some other occasion. We have all missed our dear Em very much, but her mother is always equal to any emergency! and is perfectly well. We expect her here to-morrow. What are the chances for meeting you at Newport my movements are still uncertain. Ella I presume will not leave home, but how glad we should all be to see her. When you see Mr. Carter make my kind regards acceptable to him.
Now lady fair, let me hear from you very speedily as you promised when we parted. Mr Cramond who is seated at my right desires me to say that he lives in hopes of being able to explain the cause of all his asperities upon the occasion of that memorable ride, that he never can attempt to make a more impressive speech than he did upon that occasion to the dinner, and he tenders his kindest regards and consideration.

Ever your attached Annie.

Ann begs for my pen which I resigned after signing my name - I received a letter this aft. fr Emin saying they will be with me on Tuesday to dinner - The fatted calf shall be killed on the occasion - Yr room is ready for you if you are disposed to return to it -
