WHAT IS AN AD?

Problem That is Now Puzzling Officials of the Government.

"What's an ad?" This question is puzzling Government officials, as "What's whiskey?" did several years ago. In the new Postoffice bill there is a provision that all articles published in newspapers for which the newspaper receives "valuable consideration" must be marked "advertisement." The designation "ad.," which is printed at the end of many reading-matter articles, will not do; the word "advertisement" must be spelled out.

Strict enforcement of the law may hit the country editor hard. Many times a farmer subscriber of a country newspaper raises a crop of apples or produce of which he is proud. He wants his neighbors to know about it. So he marches in the country editor's office half a peck of apples, a couple of heads of cabbage and a peck of potatoes, and asks the editor to write something about them. The editor always does so, but hereafter if the apples, cabbage, peaches and potatoes are accepted they may be held as constituting a "valuable consideration" and the article would have to be designated as an "advertisement."

That's the law, Mr. Farmer. But you bring along you apples, cabbage, peaches and any other things you have for the editor, and you will receive the same thanks and courteous mention that your generosity deserves.

Kennedyville Items.

Plenty of rain now, with cool weather reminding us that Fall is near at hand.

Two or three car loads of packed tomatoes have been shipped from the Baldwin cannery, of our village, to a New York firm, recently.

The Philadelphia company receiving milk from this point report same in fine condition.

Some of the party visiting the Havre de Grace races from this vicinity, last week, for experience, report gambling on a large scale, with very much excitement and corruption, and are disgusted that such a stain and disgrace should be allowed in our fair State. They do not care to go again.

Mr. Harry Hill returned to school in Newark last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whiteley entertained a dinner party in honor of their son, John Wesley, and bride, on Tuesday of last week. The bride, a most charming young lady, quite captivated those present, who were: Dr. J. W. Urie and wife and little daughter, Catherine; Rev. F. H. Mullineaux and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pote, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Jarrell, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Wiltbank. John Wesley, the groom, is a former Kennedyville boy, of push and perseverance, full of business tact, having formerly clerked for Mr. W. A. Pote of our village. He now holds a lucrative position in Philadelphia. The many friends of the bride and groom wish them long life and great success.

Rev. Mullineaux was in Baltimore Thursday and Friday of last week, and visited friends in Towson, a former charge. While there he took in the W. C. T. U. Convention of Baltimore county, which held its sessions in the new M. P. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Hague dined with the former's father and sisters on Sunday last.

Services at the M. P. Church were well attended Sunday morning, and among the rest, five school teachers were present. This very much pleased the pastor, as he was a teacher himself before entering the ministry.

The public worship in the M. P. Church for next Sunday will be in the interest of all schools, the pastor's topic being: Vital Christian Truths Concerning the Whole Work of Education. School teachers are particularly invited to be present.

Song service and sermon in the evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. Everybody come, and get ready for Evangelistic Services for October.

Hick's Forecast for October.

A regular storm period is central on the 4th and 5th, near the center of a Mercury period. A regular storm period reaches into the 1st and 2d. These disturbances will pass over central to eastern sections but a falling barometer, with cloudiness and rain will prevail generally on and touching the 4th and 5th.

A regular storm period, central on the 9th, covers the 7th to 12. Earth, Mercury and "Vulcan" will unite in this period, with Moon at perigee on the 7th, on the equator on the 8th, and new, at a total eclipse node on the 10th. Great atmospheric disturbances are probable at this period.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 14th, 15th and 16th. The Moon is at greatest south declination on the 16th, hence the atmospheric tides will flow from northerly directions, bringing boreal storms of cold rain, merging into sleet and snow over vast areas. The quadrature of Uranus and Neptune with Sun and Earth on the 19th and the 23d, will intensify conditions at this time, prolonging the tendency to seismic perturbations.

A regular storm period is central on the 21st, extending from the 18th to the 24th. During this period the Moon is in apogee on the 19th, and on the celestial equator on the 23d. Look for the decided fall of the barometer, approaching from western extremes, as early as the 20th, and during the 21st, 22d and 23d storm conditions will increase, causing rain, wind and thunder storms to pass progressively from west to east across the country.

But the indications for the present October are that milder weather will prevail, as a rule, forcing the severe storms and inclement weather, ordinarily due in October, later in November.

ACROSS BAY TO SAVE LIFE.

"Bud" Simmons, Wounded In Kent County, Dies In Hospital.

As the result of a fight over $4 that grew out of a practical joke at Eastern Neck Island, Kent county, Friday night, "Bud" Williams, 30 years old, died at the University Hospital, Baltimore, at 1.20 Sunday morning from a fractured skull and Henry Turneau, 17years old, of New Jersey, is in the Kent county jail at Chestertown charged with assaulting Simmons with intent to kill.

In an attempt to save the life of the injured man Justice George P. Ashley, Capt William Camp and John Wilson, of Rock Hall, made a run across the bay in an open gasoline launch through a heavy sea Saturday afternoon, covering the distance from Rock Hall in less than three hours.

On the way Simmons, who was delirious, fought those who had come to his aid and when the launch docked at the police boat headquarters in the harbor the strength of the three men was almost spent. A telephone message to the Eastern Police Station brought the ambulance, and Simmons was taken to the hospital. An operation was performed immediately.

TROUBLE BEGINS IN JEST.

The trouble started when Simmons, whose home is at Golden Hill, Dorchester county, took $4 from the sleeping quarters of Turneau a farm hand employed by Mr. Henry Newhouse. The youth met Simmons Friday night and asked for the money. Simmons began to jest about the matter, intimating that he intended keeping the money. Turneau became angry and as his temper increased the more pointed became Simmons' taunts.

Turneau went to the farm of Mr. Newhouse and asked several friends to assist him in getting his money. They refused and Turneau returned to Simmons and demanded it. Picking up a spade, Turneau repeated the demand for the money. Simmons laughed.

The next moment Simmons was sprawling in the roadway with a deep gash in his head. He was picked up by another farmhand and taken to Mr. Newhouse's home. Turneau walked away. What aid was at hand was given the injured man. In the afternoon his condition became worse and Mr. Newhouse took him to Rock Hall, eight miles away. Dr. W. O. Selby, of Edesville, dressed the wound and advised that Simmons be taken to a Baltimore hospital.

Turneau was arrested by Constable Frank B. Wheat. Justice Ashley committed him to jail.

ROUGH TRIP ACROSS BAY.

The magistrate was informed that Simmons would die if an operation was not performed within a short time. Calling Captain Camp and John Wilson, Justice Ashley requested them to carry the injured man to Baltimore. Captain Camp's 30-foot gasoline boat was fitted for the run and shortly after 4 o'clock in the afternoon the journey began.

The water on the bay was rough and the little craft was tossed about. This aroused Simmons and he became delirious. He became worse as the trip progressed and it required the efforts of the three to hold him in the boat.

MARYLAND TO SHOW PRODUCTS.

Governor Arranges For Display at Land Exposition.

As the first step to bring about cheaper living conditions by means of increasing agricultural production and stimulating immigration of the best class into Maryland, Governor Goldsborough last week decided to establish an exhibit at the American Land and Irrigation Exposition in New York November 15 to December 2. Among the members of the committee that will arrange for the exhibit the following have been mentioned:

George Blakiston, president of the Union Trust Company, to represent Baltimore county; Dr. R. S. Hill, representing Prince George's county; Fred Mertens, representing Western Maryland; William Rannahan, representing St. Mary's county, and former Senator George T. C. Gray, representing Charles county. The Governor will name representatives from the Eastern Shore also.

The superintendent of the State Bureau of Immigration has been commissioned to obtain from all sources the best specimens of agricultural and horticultural products, as well as specimens of the State's fisheries, minerals and other branches that will be of interest to the homeseeker.

This State is expected to prove the winner in potatoes, corn and apples. Poultry products and tobacco also are expected to give products from other States a close run for the handsome prizes.

It is estimated that a creditable exhibit can be made for $5,000. Half this amount has been obtained. The balance will be sought by private subscriptions throughout the State. F. De Sales Mudd is chairman of the exhibit committee. His offices are at 11 East Lexington street, Baltimore.

Oyster Can Change Its Sex.—At the Academy of Science in Paris recently Edmund Perrier, director of the Museum of Natural History, submitted a series of singular researches by M. Danton, who has discovered that the sex of an oyster often varies in the same subject without apparent cause. Another fact ascertained by M. Danton is the triumph of feminity among oysters, the male being the inferior and weaker sex, and as food conditions change for the better or worse, they transform themselves from one sex to the other.
