Mount Saint Mary's.— March 6th 1852.—

My dearest Father,

Some time ago, I wrote you a letter, and directed it to Annapolis, where I presume you now are, but a day or two after I had sent it, I received a letter from Mother, saying that you had just returned home. So I suppose you did not get my letter at all, as I have received no answer from you, nor heard any thing about it; so I thought I write to you again, on the same subject, as I now have a little leisure time. Every time that I have been over to Saint Josephs this year, Sister has had some little present for me, and it is impossible for me to get any thing here to take her in return and I feel quite ashamed to be always receiving something from her, and yet not to be able to give her any thing. So I have a little request to make of you, my dear Father, which I hope you will not refuse: it is this. No doubt you have often seen some of those beautiful books, which are published every year, called Annuals. Now, I want you to get a pretty one, and to send it up to Sister in my name, for it will not cost more than 2 or 3 dollars at most. I would not
