for me. Jerry Burke, from whom I bought the copper still, engages, his promise to buy me some rye in the neighborhood of Mercersburgh. I think I can certainly get 200 bu of these, from what he says. Jerry is now in Md. and by Dr. Doctor I write me shortly after his return, I will go up myself to Mercersburgh. Thus much for the rye: I am buying some corn: it will get plentier in a week or two. Given 70 c. I have sold 100 bols whiskey 29 c. to be delivered at distillery by myself. I have sent up wagon to be mended. Will be done in a day or two. It took from bbls of my whiskey to refill & make up your 3 bbls. Please give me a credit of £ 10. which will hardly cover the manufacture. By rights you ought to buy it from me @ 60 c.

But that is not the way, I request you to take it. I only heard from Mr Kinsey on yesterday.

I intend to remit for you, from the whiskey sold; when I will try and remember. If there is any rye through Pa, I will have it: as I have appointed Jacob to buy it. Hogs, are 8 3/4 I am told.

Very truly

Yours &c
