THE engagement of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, widow of the former President of the United States to Dr. T. J. Preston, of Wells College, Aurora, N.Y., was announced at Princeton on Tuesday night. The date of the marriage has not yet been determined. The engagement of Mrs. Cleveland has some local significance in that Dr. T. Howard Fowler, of this town, is a member of the faculty of Wells College with Dr. Preston, and Mrs. Cleveland is a member of the board of trustees of Wells College.

VICE-PRESIDENT JAMES S. SHERMAN died at his home in Utica, New York, on Wednesday night at 9.42 o'clock. Mr. Sherman was a candidate to succeed himself on the Republican ticket with Mr. Taft in the election which will be held next Tuesday. The death of the Vice-President will of course have much effect on Mr. Taft's vote, but the Republican National Committee can fill the vacancy. Mr. Sherman's name will not be taken from the ticket. Whomever the committee selects will be given the Taft and Sherman vote after the election.

THE GRAND JURY in its report to the court recommended that the Board of County Commissioners appropriate an additional sum of money to assist the State's Attorney in ferreting out violations of the local option law. We are opposed to such an appropriation of this sort upon general principles. A thing of this kind was tried several years ago. A colored detective was employed, and a number of arrests were made, and only one conviction was secured out of a total of seven or eight cases. The detective was paid $400 for his services, and besides this it cost the tax-payers a good sum in the prosecution of the cases. We are in sympathy with every right move made to bring all violators of the law to justice, but we fail to see how an additional appropriation by the County Commissioners of the tax-payers' money can accomplish anything. The only way to prevent the almost wholesale violation of the local option law is to change the law so as to make it less difficult to secure evidence against violators of the law. How would it do to make the law conform to the Corrupt Practices Act, which punishes the buyer instead of the seller?

MR. VICKERS IMFORMS GRAND JURY.

Harrison W. Vickers appeared before the grand jury last week as an informer. He told the grand jury that Mr. Harry Nicols, a tenant on his mother's farm for twenty-five years, and one of our County Commissioners, had violated the Corrupt Practices Act, in the report which he filed in the clerk's office, and asked the grand jury to investigate Mr. Nicols' report. Mr. Vickers made the statement to several of our prominent citizens that he did so inform the grand jury and that he assumes all the responsibility. The grand jury sent for Mr. Nicols and asked him several questions, and also asked him to produce a check for $31, as the balance of $60 which he received from Mr. J. E. Morris, treasurer in the last State election. Mr. Nicols did as directed, the grand jury quickly found that Mr. Nicols had done no wrong, and the matter was promptly dropped by the jury. It may be well for the people of the county to know that Mr. Vickers made the charge against Mr. Nicols for money that had been received and expended in a State election for Governor and Legislators, when it was supposed that all Democrats should be working together in a lawful manner for the election of the Democratic ticket.

OPPOSED TO BOND ISSUE.

The tax-payers of this county will be called upon at the election on November 5th to vote for or against the bonding of Kent county for the sum of $20,000 to repair the court house in Chestertown. This is a matter for very serious consideration upon the part of the tax-payers of the county. The TRANSCRIPT is opposed to the bond issue for a very good and sufficient reason. We do not mean to say that there is no necessity for any improvement to the court house. Money could very easily be expended for a number of needed improvements. But it seems to us to be folly to take $20,000 of the tax-payers money and undertake to improve an old building. Better build a new court house for $20,000 than seek to improve an old one for such a large sum. Our greatest reason, however, for opposing this bond issue is that at this time, when the tax payers are just emerging from the excessive burden of taxation and the waste of their money, it would be an unjust and unwise burden to impose such an indebtedness upon the people. The people need a respite from the burden of heavy taxes, and we do not believe that the large majority of the tax payers of the county are in favor of the bond issue at this time. We believe the above is a sufficient reason for our opposition to the bond issue. But there is a possibility of its passage, not by the vote of our intelligent tax payers, but by a coalition of forces, and we urge all our people to oppose the passage of this bond issue, which we believe to be against the financial interests of the people at this time.

LET INVESTIGATION BE GENERAL.

The grand jury in its report to the court last week made the following recommendation:

"We would recommend the different treasurers of the funds for political purposes to be more careful in the future to render their reports in itemized form concerning all expenditures and receipts in compliance with the law."

Such a precaution as this is a wise one. But we would respectfully suggest that hereafter when any such investigation is begun by the grand jury that it be more general in its character and include all reports filed by treasurers of political funds as well as the reports of the candidates themselves. When the investigation is confined to a single individual upon testimony that is neither reliable nor truthful, the grand jury lays itself open to the charge of partisan tactics in its deliberations, and as the TRANSCRIPT is anxious that the dignity and honor of our grand juries shall be preserved, we respectfully suggest that if any information regarding violations of the Corrupt Practices Act is furnished the jury hereafter, that it broaden the scope of its investigation, in order that its deliberations may be free from the suspicion of partisanship. We make this recommendation not that we desire to infer that any treasurer or any candidate has been guilty of wrong doing, but simply as tax-payers and citizens of a county whose grand jury should never subject itself to the charge of violating its oath as jurors, or make itself liable to censure for allowing partisan politics to be injected into its deliberations by testimony furnished by those who may be proven to be untruthful and unreliable informers.

LOOK for Wilson and Marshall's names in the third column, near the middle, of the official ballot; Albert Constable's at the bottom of the first column, and James Harry Covington's in the bottom group of the second column, and put a X mark in the square to the right of these names. That will mean a vote for all the Democratic candidates.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT.—DEAR SIRS:—I find so many people that believe Charles Dodd's report in the Kent News, was a report of money spent in our last primaries, and being one of the accused of spending that money unlawfully, I would like the public to know, that the sixty dollars I received from Mr. J. E. Morris was for last fall's election (when a Governor and Legislators were voted for) when it was supposed all Democrts were working together lawfully for their party's success. And I herewith submit my report to you so the public may know if I did right or wrong.

Gov. Wilson Thanks Contributors.

Gov. Woodrow Wilson has sent to the editors of the TRANSCRIPT the following letter thanking all those who contributed $1 to the fund which the TRANSCRIPT raised for the purpose of defraying the legitimate expenses of his campaign:

October 15, 1912.

MESSRS. R. H. COLLINS AND THOMAS D. BOWERS, Chestertown, Maryland—

MY DEAR SIRS:—Allow me to acknowledge with sincere appreciation the receipt of your letter of October third, enclosing your cheque for $108.00, representing the voluntary contribution of $1.00 each from one hundred and eight fellow-citizens of Chestertown.

I greatly appreciate this contribution and am highly honored by such confidence in me displayed.

Cordially and sincerely yours,
WOODROW WILSON.

In addition to this appreciative letter, each of the 108 contributors to the fund has received a neat receipt for his $1 with the picture of President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall engraved upon it. These receipts may be kept as relics of a stirring campaign, and when your children get old enough to vote you can refer to your receipt as helping to elect the second Democratic President since the war.

LOOK for Wilson and Marshall's names in the third column, near the middle, of the official ballot; Albert Constable's at the bottom of the first column, and James Harry Covington's in the bottom group of the second column, and put a X mark in the square to the right of these names. That will mean a vote for all the Democratic candidates.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

BRYAN—BAILEY.

A verry pretty marriage took place at the parsonage of South Baltimore Station Methodist Protestant Church, 1214 Light St., at 3 P. M., Wednesday, Oct. 30th., when Miss Anna Rebecca Bryan, a sister of Rev. J. Franklin Bryan, at whose home she was married, and Rev. Benjamin A. Bryan, pastor of Bethany M. P. Church, Lafayette Ave. and Washington St. was married to William Arthur Bailey, of Baltimore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas R. Bailey, of Aberdeen, Md. Mr. Bailey is a traveling auditor of The Crown, Cork and Seal Company of Baltimore. The bride was attired in a blue broadcloth going away suit and carried a large shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The groom wore the conventional black suit.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Franklin Bryan, a brother of the bride, and pastor of South Baltimore Station M. P. Church, assisted by Rev. Benjamin A. Bryan, another brother of the bride, and pastor of Bethany M. P. Church, Lafayette avenue and Washington street, and Rev. Richard N. Edwards, a relative of the groom and pastor of Montford avenue M. E. Church, Baltimore. The wedding march was excellently rendered by Miss Naomi Mitchell, of Baltimore, who also softly sang "Oh Promise Me," while the ceremony was being performed. The parsonage was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Only the immediate families were present at the marriage. After the ceremony refreshments were served when the bride and groom then left for a trip south. After their return Mrs. Bailey will accompany her husband on a business trip to Toronto, Canada.

The man that really believes and has faith in God readily finds a congenial political house in the Prohibition party.

The consistent and sincere temperance man and christian citizen can only stand, by vote, upon dry ground in the civic life of a christian nation.

A candidate who fails to openly declare himself against the nation-wide destruction of the liquor traffic has no claim upon the church vote or the vote of any man opposed to a licensed liquor traffic.

Young man, let your first vote be an expression of a clean conscience and sincere purpose to be on the side of civic righteousness. As an evidence of such, vote the Prohibition ticket, and such action will not be clouded with remorse.
