Wedding Invitations Issued.—Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Sarah K. Woodall, daughter of the late Andrew W. Woodall, of Georgetown, to William A. Hyland, one of Galena's popular young business men, on Thursday, November 21, at noon, at the home of the bride's mother.

Burned to Death.—Robert Walters, a well-known colored character of Davis Hill, Galena, was burned to death in his house on Saturday night. Walters, it is thought, had been drinking heavily, and going home attempted to build a fire, accidentally setting fire to the house and burning it to the ground. His charred body was rescued from the fire, though the flesh was torn from his arms and limbs in the effort to get him out.

Little Child Burned.—Stirling, the little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney P. Townshend, was badly burned about the face and arms on Wednesday morning. The sweet little boy came down stairs with his parents and wandered to the library where an open fireplace fire was burning. In some manner Stirling fell into the fire and was seriously burned. His screams attracted his parents, and rushing to the child's rescue they found his little dress badly burned, as was also his face and arms. Medical aid was quickly summoned, and the little fellow is recovering. He made a narrow escape from fatal injury. His mother was painfully burned in her efforts to subdue the flames.

Negro Boy Accidentally Killed.—A colored boy, of Quaker Neck, was accidentally killed on Tuesday, election day, while out gunning with several companions. The boy got over a fence on Mr. Clarence Hadaway's place adjoining Mr. John Chairs and stepped in a lot of briars and grape vines. He slipped and fell, and in doing so the gun which he was carrying was discharged, the load entering his abdomen and passing through the liver. He lived long enough to cry to his companions, "Come and get me." He died almost instantly. He was about 18 years old. A jury of inquest was summoned and a verdict of accidental death was rendered. His name was William Johnson.

Nearly Exhausted from Loss of Blood.—Mr. William M. Clendaniel, of near Kennedyville, went to Baltimore on Monday to have several teeth extracted. He returned by way of Betterton that evening, and started for his home accompanied by Mr. John M. Comegys, Jr. Before reaching Still Pond Mr. Clendaniel's teeth began to bleed, and by the time he reached Still Pond, a serious hemorrhage developed and Mr. Clendaniel became exhausted from loss of blood. Drs. Atwell and Kelley rendered surgical aid, and Mr. Comegys rendered valuable assistance. He was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Lane, for the night, and by morning he had recovered sufficiently to go to his home, stopping at Kennedyville to cast his vote for Wilson and Marshall.

BRYAN HAPPY OVER ELECTION.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5—William J. Bryan to-night, expressing his pleasure at the election of Governor Wilson, said:

"As a religious hymn has been brought into the campaign by one of the parties I think that I am justified in using the lines of another.

"This is the day I long have sought
And mourned because I found it not."

"I am happier than Governor Wilson for his joy is repressed by a sense of responsibility while I am happy and free.

"My confidence in Governor Wilson has growth with acquaintance and I feel sure that he will live up to expectations. I believe he listens to his conscience."

WE respectfully call the attention of the Board of County Commissioners to the insecurity of the Chestertown jail. The escape of the three prisoners on Sunday morning is no more chargeable to Sheriff McKee than it is to us. Prisoners have escaped under almost every sheriff for the past ten years. They escaped under Sheriff Keyser, Sheriff Hadaway, Sheriff Medders and now under Sheriff McKee. Nearly every one of the escapes has been made through the corridor doors by means of tampering with the lock. Something should be done to make our jail more secure, and to save our sheriffs the unnecessary embarrasment and inconvenience occasioned by the escape of prisoners. We hope the commissioners will look into this matter, and take steps to make the jail as secure as it is possible to make it.

THE GREAT RESULT.

The result of the election of Gov. Woodrow Wilson to the presidency on Tuesday is so overwhelming in its scope that it is difficult to realize its vast significance. The American people have at one stroke of the ballot annihilated one great political party, and have placed in the hands of another a most serious and grave reponsibility. Conditions in our government were ripe for a change in its management. The Republican party had wellnigh created a revolution by the enforcement upon the people of their theory of protection. When President Taft was elected, the people sounded a note of warning. They wanted a revision of the tariff downward. They were tired of favoritism in government. The Republican party refused to heed the warning, and the day of reckoning came. The country was ripe for the change. Gov. Wilson proved to be the man of the people. The man and the hour met. The battle came, and when the smoke had cleared away, there remained a terrible wreck of one party and a terrible responsibility for another. The people have said they want a change. They have stated it in unmistakable words. They have given the Democratic party absolute control of the government for the purpose of bringing about such changes as will be beneficial to the interests of the people. Will Gov. Wilson measure up to the occasion? He will. The whole type and temperament of the man breathes sincerity, evinces an innate interest in the people's welfare, and convinces the American people that he is broad-minded, wholesouled and largehearted enough to make his splendid intellect and his unquestioned ability the instruments to be used for the people's cause. The Democratic party has a great opportunity as well as a serious responsibility. It can make or mar its future career by the character of the work of its statesmen, but with a man like Gov. Wilson at the helm to guide the ship of State, we believe the destiny of the party is safe and its perpetuation in power is sure.
