The Transcript.

R. H. COLLINS, T. D. BOWERS
EDITORS.

THE cabinet makers are at work.

WE are still winning with Wilson.

THE plum tree is in bearing and the fruit will soon be ripe.

THE place-hunters are packing their grips getting ready to march on Washington.

PRESIDENT James McCrea, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has resigned, same to take effect January 1.

ABOUT the only thing that we know of that will not be prosperous during President Wilson's term of office will be the Republican party.

JUST so long as the Progressives decide to continue their organization, and just so long as the "lame duck" Republicans determine to revive the defunct party, that long may the Democrats sit back and enjoy the scrap.

IT IS to be greatly regretted that Senator Isador Rayner is so ill at his home in Washington. He is suffering with neuritis, supposed to have been brought on by the nervous strain incident to the Corkran-Rayner debate in Baltimore during the campaign.

DON'T be in too great a hurry, Democrats, to get a whack at the tariff. Think well, Governor, before calling an extra session of Congress. The people need relief and should have it at once. But don't rush pell mell into trouble simply because we have absolute control of the government.

UNDER the Road Engineer system of working the roads in Cecil county more than $60,000 of the tax-payers' money was spent in that county last year, and yet there are some people who will tell you that the Road Engineer system of working county roads is the most economical system.

THE Democrats will have an overwhelming majority in the House and a majority of 2 in the Senate. Speaker Clark will be re-elected, and Mr. Underwood will be the House floor leader, while Maryland's Senators and her solid Democratic delegation in the House will play conspicuous parts in the next Congress.

THE management of the Chestertown race track should bend every energy towards the establishment of a permanent agricultural fair. It will not do to simply let the affair be a matinee race promoter. Get busy and get the men and money behind the movement, who, with the present management, will develope an agricultural association on a permanent basis.

IN one State in the Union at least the Republican party is "officially dead." There is a law in North Carolina which says that any party which polls less than 50,000 votes in an election is dead. The Republicans polled less than 35,000 votes in the last election, and, under this law, is officially dead, and has no further recognition in politics.

YOU talk about the size of some of the ballots used in Maryland in former elections, but the one used in Nebraska in the last election "takes the cake." The Nebraska ballot was eight feet long, six inches wide, and contained 82 groups. It was in the form of a scroll, and all you had to do to mark your ballot was to unroll it and put one mark in a circle opposite the name for which you wished to vote.

EVERY farmer in Kent county who can conveniently do so, should attend the meeting of the State Horticultural Society and other kindred societies in the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, November 19 to 23. There is a world of education of these various meetings for the farmer, and the man who fails to attend, misses something greatly to his interest. Farmers, go, and let Kent be well represented.

ONE of the main reasons for the unprecedented plurality which Governor Wilson received in Kent county was the effective work done at the Wilson headquarters on Court street under the management of the Anti-Organization. Thousands of letters and great quantities of campaign literature were sent out, and a stenographer, a most accommodating young lady, was employed to do the work. The members of the Washington College Woodrow Wilson Club also gave valuable assistance at headquarters.

Wedding Invitations.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Jacobs, of Aberdeen, Md., have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Carrie Virginess, to Mr. Clarence A. Greenwood, son of the late Prof. J. A. Greenwood, of Rock Hall. The ceremony will be performed in Aberdeen M. E. Church on Tuesday evening November 26th, at 6.30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood will be at home in Townsend, Del., where the groom is engaged in business, after Dec. 2nd.

The wedding of Miss Nannie Munnikuysen to Mr. William Warwick Reynolds, of New York, will take place today in St. Mary's P. E. Church, near Belair. Mrs. Charlotte Roberts, Misses Louise and Lillian Stam and Dr. James Roy Micou, will attend from Chestertown.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Evans, of Baltimore, to the marriage of their daughter, Rebecca, to Lieut. Robert Emmett Patterson, U. S. A. at 6.30 o'clock, Friday, November 29th, at the church of St. Michael and All Angels. The bride-to-be is a niece of Mrs. W. R. Graham, Mrs. Marion deK Smith and Mrs. John N. Dodd, of Chestertown.

FINE MATINEE.

Big Crowd Attends the Opening of the Chestertown Driving Park, Sees a Good Parade in the Morning and Witnesses Fine Racing in the Afternoon.

Tuesday was a red letter day in the history of Chestertown, the occasion marking the opening of the new race track, recently built on the Walker farm near town. The parade of teams and gaily decorated automobiles in the morning, headed by the Chestertown Band, which furnished excellent music all day was a creditable affair. The fine double team of Mr. Frank Miller from Kennedyville won the blue ribbon for the best looking team. Other handsome double teams were Mr. Alfred T. DeShane with a pair of beautiful black horses well matched, Mr. Samuel G. Roseberry with a pair of handsome bay mares, that would do justice to a city show, and Mr. Albert Jervis, with a pair of handsome and well matched bay colts. Mrs. Edward Stauffer, driving handsome Kitty Knight, one of the best horses in this county, won the blue ribbon for the best looking single team. Other fine looking single turnouts were Mr. Walter T. Bramble, with his handsome Wilkes colt, Mr. William H. Waddell, with his handseme sorrel hitched to a stylish runabout, and Miss Bonwell. Quite a number of fine automobiles were in the parade, but School Superintendent, J. L. Smyth, won the blue ribbon for the best decorated car. It was decorated with flags and bunting, and the different colored chrysanthemums tastily arranged, made it very attractive. Other automobiles in line were Miss Louise Crane, Mrs. J. Biddle Hossinger, James H. Sides, marshall of parade, James G. Beck, Clifton L. Jarrell and Philip G. Wilmer. The horsebackers were Misses Lourine Smith, Roselmer McKee, Master Mckee, and several little boys from Quaker Neck.

THE RACES.

The races in the afternoon drew a crowd of more than one thousand people, and the order was perfect and there was not an accident of any sort to mar the afternoon's sport. The management under the direction of the President, Mr. James G. Beck, had matters well in hand, and the racing proved as interesting as any seen in the county in years. Horses were entered from Oxford, Md., Sudlersville, Church Hill and other parts of Queen Anne's as well as Kent, and each class was hotly contested and furnished excellent sport. Mr. George Sutton, the Worton trainer, proved himself one of the most skillful and competent drivers in the business by the able manner in which he handled Susie F., Mr. J. E. Ferguson's promising mare; Lady Thompson, Capt. Billy Thompson's sweet little pacer, and Mr. Holt Woodall's fine colt, Twinkle March. Tom Quigley, Will Whiteley, Howard Bowers, Tom Toulson, Peter Brice and Edw. Stauffer also showed skill in keeping their horses at their work, while in each race the experienced Charles Rathel, of Easton, and Earle Smith, of Queen Anne's, were given a race for the money. In the fast race Happy J. won the first heat in 2.19 flat which stands as the track record for the present. He was hard pushed in the last heat by Lady Thompson in 2.19¼. Every one was delighted with the results of the opening meeting, and efforts are being made to have another matinee on Thanksgiving Day. If the horses are still in training the matinee will be held, if not the track will be closed until May 30th, 1913, when the first matinee of next season will be held. Other dates will be July 4th, one day in August and a rousing meet in the fall possibly two or three days when purses may be offered for the different classes. People from all parts of Queen Anne's and Kent were present, and the stores and public buildings were greatly decorated for the occasion. The summary of the races is as follows:

Grange Notes.

The meeting of Fairlee Grange on Nov. 5th was full of interest, proposals for membership, etc. During the lecture hour Mr. J. E. Morris gave a paper on "How I Would Run a House if I Were a Woman." You should have heard it as well as those who followed. Mr. Romie Skirven's answer to "If I Were Not Myself, Whom Would I Rather Be?" was full of good common sense and fun. "Which is of Greater Value, the Batchelor or Batchelor-maid?" was discussed by Mr. Stockton Startt, Rev. Mr. Given and others most satisfactorily, declaring that they know batchelors who are fine housekeepers, but that they are trying hard to secure a "better one." Piano duet by Misses Ward and Kendall was well rendered.

Last Wednesday evening, after the usual business meeting, Mrs. T. E. W. Crew read a most instructive paper on What a farmer should always provide his wife with to insure good butter on the farm. Mrs. Fletcher told the easiest way to provide three meals a day. A committee was appointed to investigate and try to secure better telephone service. Special meeting Nov. 27th, interesting program. Initiation in first and second degrees Nov. 20th.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

The first of a series of four entertainments to be held during the winter under the auspices of Fairlee Grange was given Tuesday evening to a large and responsive audience, by the "Nordland Girls." Each one was an artist in her profession. Miss Munson's art as a reader and manager is of a kind that suggests to her hearers in a refined and intelligent way the thoughts, feelings and emotions of the writer whose creations she protrays, and Miss Lindahl is unquestionably the best Norwegian soprano in America. Her grace of manner, purity of tone create most lasting impressions. The violinist, Miss Webster, charmed her audience, rendering difficult selections with ease and skill. Miss White, the cellist, manifested every essential to meet the highest requirements of her company and audience, while Miss Peterson proved an accomplished accompanist to the delight of everyone.

On Dec. 19th Mrs. Marion Bolton Fisk "Cartoonist Lecturer," will speak to the eye, which is said to be the window of the soul. On Feb. 15th and March 19th others quite as good will be present. The grange is to be congratulated upon being able to secure fine talent.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.]

Fairlee Grange No. 249, realizing most deeply the great loss it has sustained in the death of Sister Etta E. Kilbourn desire to place upon record this tribute of its appreciation of her work for the good of the order and to recall her prompt and faithful attendance at all meetings of the grange, and her willing and efficient service wherever needed.

As a neighbor, she was most faithful—ever ready to minister to those in need or to sympathize with those in trouble or sorrow. As a friend she was kind, sincere and true and in all the various walks of life she maintained a well balanced christian character.

The sudden passing from us of such a useful and beautiful life has cast a gloom of sorrow over us. Therefore, it is resolved by a rising vote that we extend to the bereaved family—the husband, the nephew, the mother and father, our deepest and most heartfelt sympathy in this hour of their great sorrow, and request a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and the county papers and that a page of the minutes be set apart on which to inscribe the memorial of our love and esteem.

L. M. C. SMYTH,
WM. G. SMYTH,
CAROLINE I. SMYTH.

Still Pond Grange has resumed meetings in the hall now, and we had a good crowd out Tuesday at 2.30 P. M. The crowd was in time and a brave start made to make this year a memorable one in the history of the grange. If the "stay-at-home" granger and the "go-some-place-else" granger and the "man-who-is-not" a granger all will kindly remember that the grange was worth a considerable amount of money to the farmers of this community this summer by raising the price of tomatoes, I think we ought to have a rousing grange in this part of Maryland. Other localities make the grange stand for something and get all their neighbors interested, so why not us?

Our meeting next week will be omitted on account of Maryland Week in Baltimore, but on November 26th, a special Woman's Suffrage meeting will be held. Bear in mind the date and don't let a thing like a horse race keep you from attending. The speakers and topics will be announced later.

Our Advertisers.

Read about those nobby "Johnny coats" which the Ladies' Apparel Shop of Gertrude Leimbach, Baltimore, is advertising on the front page. They are just the thing for fall and winter wear.

Read the interesting change of advertisement which John Bartley, the furniture, wall paper and paint man, has on page 7. Bartley has the biggest furniture emporium on the Eastern Shore, and it is filled from top to botton with seasonable goods at reasonable prices. Let him estimate on your painting and papering. He will give you a fine job in either.

If you want to enjoy your Thanksgiving dinner all the more, go to jeweler Harry B. Rote's store and buy one of those fine carving sets he is advertising in another column. The turkey will taste all the sweeter if carved with one of those sets.

M. Kramer, the hustling Rock Hall merchant, has a cut price sale on for this and next week. He has purchased a consignment of manufacturers goods at low figures and is giving the trade the benefit of the cut prices. See his advertisement in another column.

A representative of the Hopkins Tailoring Company, Baltimore, will be at Vansant & Newsome's store on Friday and Saturday, November 22 and 23. Now is your chance to get a nobby and stylish Thanksgiving suit. The Hopkins suits have an enviable reputation here. You can tell by their style and finish. Go in and look over the great array of samples.

Get your hog killing supplies at Medders & Co.'s, Still Pond. Everything necessary found there. He also has a big sale on wool horse blankets. Good values at low prices. See adv. page 8.
