Foot Ball Notes.

Georgetown University defeated Washington College at Georgetown, D. C., last Saturday by the score of 84 to 0. Don't mention it.

Washington College and Maryland Agricultural College will clash in an important game at College Park to-day. Washington College wants to win this game and her squad will bend every energy to do so. With this game dangling from their belts, the Eastern Shore warriors will go after St. John's in Baltimore on Thanksgiving day, and if Washington can defeat St. John's, she wins the State championship, which is a most coveted honor. Go after M. A. C. to-day, boys, and eat'em up.

BIG SHOW TO MARK MARYLAND WEEK.

Organizations Work Hand in Hand for Success of Event.

The official program of Maryland Week has been completed and all arrangements have been made for the greatest occasion in the history of the Maryland State Horticultural Society, which will hold a big show at the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, during the week beginning November 19.

It will be peculiarly Maryland Week, because during that time there will be held the annual meetings of the Horticultural Society, the Maryland Crop Improvement Association, the Maryland State Dairymen's Association, the Maryland State Beekeepers' Association, the Farmers' League of Maryland and the Associated Boards of Trade of Maryland. These organizations have memberships of horticulturists, agriculturists and business men in all sections of the State, and their meetings will bring to the city at least 10,000 visitors.

All of the associations named have been working for years to increase not only the quantity but the quality of production.

EXHIBIT TO COVER 60,000 SQUARE FEET OF SPACE.

The exhibition will cover 60,000 square feet of floor space. The exhibit of the florists will be a notable one. There will be thousands of chrysanthemums and other fall flowers on display. The fruit growers' exhibit also will be a big feature.

Demonstrations by experts from the Maryland Agricultural College and Experiment Station will be of interest to every visitor. These demonstrations will be of laying out orchards, pruning and planting trees, packing apples for shipment, etc. An interesting exhibit by the college will be that of cereals and forage crops. These will be taken from a score or more experiment beds.

The dairymen will have an interesting exhibit, consisting of a model of a barn and dairy, showing how it is possible through arrangement of farm buildings to attain highest efficiency.

TO SHOW BEES AT WORK IN GLASS HIVES.

The bee-keepers' exhibit will be an especially interesting one. There will be a hive of bees, the hive to be of glass, so that visitors may see the bees at werk.

Governor Goldsborough and Mayor Preston will speak on the opening night. Former Governor Warfield will preside. Governor Goldsborough will preside at the affiliated meeting on Friday, when W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway Company, will speak.

Among the men who will address the various associations at their meetings are Prof. W. J. Spillman, Chief of Farm Management of the United States Department of Agriculture and Dr. C. J. Owens, director of the Southern Commercial Congress. Others to speak are: Prof. W. N. Hurtt, of North Carolina; C. E. Bassett, of Michigan, and M. G. Kains, of New York.

A NUMBER OF ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES ARRANGED.

There will be a number of entertainment features in connection with the exposition. Each afternoon and evening there will be a concert by the Fifth Regiment Orchestra.

A ladies' auxiliary committee will look after the comfort and entertainment of the visiting ladies, and girls of the Eastern and Western High Schools will be on the reception committee. There also will be a display of the Baltimore moving pictures that were made for the city government and were sent to Texas with the Advertising Club.

SAYS IT WILL BE A GREAT SHOW.

George Morrison, president of the Maryland State Horticultural Society, said this morning:

"This will be the greatest show our society ever has held. Not only is our organization stronger this year, but we have the hearty co-operation of the other organizations that are interested in the development of the State. Our exhibits not only will be larger, but better than in previous years, due to the great advance made in methods of production.

"The exhibit of the Maryland Agricultural College and Experiment Station will be of great interest to every man in the State. The commercial exhibit also will be a large one."

New Order For Box Cars.

To provide the highest class of ventilated equipment for perishable frieght, the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk Railroad has just ordered the construction of 800 box cars. In addition to these, 50 gondola cars will be built.

The New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk railroad is a natural route to the North for the perishable vegetables and fruit grown in such abundance in Virginia, the Carolinas and other Southern States. In addition, the Delaware, Maryland, Virginia Peninsula, through 100 miles of which the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk Railroad runs, is one of the greatest truck raising sections in the country. It is to provide equipment for any increases in this traffic that the company is ordering new cars.

The box cars will be equipped with end ventilators, making them suitable for handling potatoes and other produce shipments. These 850 will cost approximately $1,000,000. The contracts for the cars were awarded this week as follows: American Car and Foundry Company, 800 box cars, Ralston Steel Car Company, 50 gondola cars.

The World in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., Nov., 1912.

All anticipations concerning The World in Baltimore Missionary Exposition have been exceeded by the attendance which has marked the enterprise since the opening day, October 25th. Successful as were the Boston and Cincinnati expositions, the one now in progress in this city is more so, both in point of numbers of people entertained and in interest taken by those connected with the city churches. Some indication of the crowds which have marked the special days can be gained from the fact that at the special mass-meeting for children, Sunday, Nov. 2d, not only was the Lyric theatre, auditorium and gallaries completely filled, but, after the Missionary Play hall and the Lecture Hall (the two accommodating perhaps six hundred people) had been filled, an open air program was given to satisfy the thousand or more people who clamored for entrances which could not be granted them.

There is a close race for supremacy in popularity on the part of the Exposition Hall, the Pageant Hall and the Missionary Play Hall. In the Exposition Hall the exhibits of nations, with the hundred or more daily demonstrations by stewards in costumes, attract much attention.

But at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening, this attention is transferred to a large degree to the Pageant Hall, or Lyric auditorium, where the Pageant of Darkness and Light is given by a cast of local talent which now has reached a superb stage of training. The pageant is a decidedly majestic spectacle, carried out with the dignity deserved by its theme, its setting and the accompaying music.

The Missionary Play Hall is not behind the others in claiming its share of patronage, and its seating capacity of about 400 is tested almost daily. Perhaps the most popular features of the Play Hall are the two plays by Miss Helen L. Willcox, "The Pilgrimage" and "Two Thousand Miles for a Book," and the wonderful motion pictures of Mr. S. R. Vinton, although the lesser plays and the costume lectures are proving very popular.

Golts Items.

Mr. Mastin Shallcross has been very ill but is much better now.

Mr. A. T. Sweetman has taken up his potatoes and finds he has grown a large crop according to the acreage he had in. He counted one vine that had 65 potatoes on it.

Mr. Wm. M. Simpler of this town has started to build a nice new house.

Mr. Wm. N. Turner has moved out on the farm with Mr. Ralph Brice.

Some of our young ladies are working in the sweet potato factory at Massey but it will wind up this week.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY'S HOPE.

Hon. Wm. Jennings Bryan, in his weekly letter in the Sun says:

"The party's hope for the future depends upon its fidelity to the progressive cause. Any turning back would be fatal. Expediency, therefore, will join hands with principle in compelling the party to advance to the fullfilment of its pledges.

"Under the leadership of a man like Governor Wilson, who has demonstrated not only capacity but courage and conscience also, there is every reason to believe that the Democratic party will so discharge its duty to the public as to lay the foundation for permanent ascendancy in the nation. Governor Wilson has shown that he appreciates the fact that his administration will mark an epoch—an epoch that can be made glorious by the vindication of the party's claim to the confidence of the public."

A Genuine Service.

"I believe," says an old subscriber, "that every time The Youth's Companion enters a home it does that home a genuine service." That describes the purpose of the publishers exactly. The paper is not filled with mischievous or idle thoughts to fill an idle hour. It provides healthy pastime, recreatien that builds up. It is to the minds of eager and impressionable young people what sound athletics are to their bodies.

At a cost of less than four cents a week The Youth's Companion opens the door to a company of the most distinguished men and women in America and Europe. Whether they are revealing the latest discoveries in science, or describing great industrial achievements, or telling of their wanderings in strange corners of the world, or feeding the imagination with rare stories, they are giving Companion readers the best of themselves.

Seven serials at least will be published by The Companion in 1913, and nearly 200 other complete stories, in addition to some fifty special contributions, and a treasure-box of sketches, anecdotes, expert advice as to athletic sports, ideas for handy devices round the house, and so forth—long hours of companionship with the wise, the adventurous and the entertaining. Announcement for 1913 will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address on request.

Every new subscriber who sends $2.00 for the fifty-two weekly issues of 1913 will receive as a gift The Companion Window Transparency and calendar for 1913, the most exquisite novelty ever offiered to Companion readers; also, all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1912, free.
