THANKSGIVING.

Next Thursday will Thanksgiving Day. Let us pause long enough in life's onward rush to offer a prayer of thanks to the Great Giver of every good and perfect gift that our lives have been spared, and that we have through the providence of God enjoyed our share of the pleasures and joys of life, even though we may have experienced a few of its heartaches. No man is so fortunate that he may not be more so, and no man is so poor that his condition may not have been worse. Have a care, fellow citizens for the spirit of the day; stop, just for a moment, if for no longer, and be man enough to acknowledge the blessings that come to you when you do not ask, and be thankful for the dangers that you have escaped of which you knew nothing.

WE regret to report the extremely serious condition of Senator Isador Raynor, at his home in Washington. The Senator has been in a state of coma for several days and his physicians give no hope whatever to his family of his recovery. He is suffering with Neuritis and a complication of diseases. At the hour of going to press we learn by phone from Baltimore that the Senator rallied and regained consciousness for a short time Friday morning but was not expected to live many hours.

WHILE President-elect Wilson is enjoying the balmy atmosphere of the Bermudas, the applicants for office are circulating their petitions.

WOULDN'T it be nice for some people if the postmastership in Chestertown could be settled by popular vote? Do they think that is their only chance of landing the job?

THERE is considerable talk in Washington among the congressmen who have arrived for the short session of the adoption of legislation providing for an amendment to the Constitution limiting the term of the presidency to six years with ineligibility to either a succeeding or non-consecutive term. President Taft favors such legislation, and the Democratic platform favors such limitation.

BEFORE leaving for the Bermudas where he will remain until December 16th, President-elect Wilson announced that he will call an extra session of Congress about April 15th for the purpose of revising the tariff and to enact other important legislation. Mr. Wilson left New York Saturday afternoon for the Bermuda Islands where he will spend his vacation with his family. So, Mr. Office-seeker, be quiet for a while.

Now that the Court of Appeals has decided in favor of the Havre de Grace Racing Commission, it is up to the Maryland Legislature to pass a law restricting the almost continuous racing in this State from August to November. The Legislature is the only body which, under the law, has the authority to regulate the business, and it should be one of the first acts when the session of 1914 gets under way.

IT IS reported that the term of the postmistress at Millington expires in January next. We understand that many of the Democrats, believing that President Wilson will make the appointment, announced their candidacy last week, and started in to win. The Republicans got a cue, however, the latter part of last week that President Taft intends to make the appointment, and immediately a number of Republicans announced their candidacy, somewhat dampening the ardor of the Democratic applicants. Our advice to the Democratic applicants is—don't get frightened, make your fight. President Taft may make the appointment but the Senate may "hold it up" until after the inauguration, and the Democrats will then have the chance.

A MUCH NEEDED LAW.

There should be passed at the next session of the Legislature a law requiring the State Sanitarium to receive all persons affected with tuberculosis, who are incarcerated in our jails and almshouses, and if the annual appropriation from the State to the Sanitarium is not sufficient to do this, then in our judgment it should be made so. A case in point came to our attention last week, when the colored man, Dunc Butcher, died in the county jail here from tuberculosis. Butcher was a Delaware darkey, who had been arrested for violating the law. It was neccessary for him to be imprisoned pending trial. He was affected with the disease in a malignant form when he was received into the jail by Sheriff McKee. There was no other alternative for the Sheriff but to isolate the man as best he could, but with the best of precaution there was grave danger of inoculating other prisoners. Butcher was kept in jail from June 1 to last Friday morning when he died. Who knows how many other prisoners have contracted the disease? And as these prisoners have been taken to the penitentary and House of Correction, who can tell how many others may be inoculated? This is a serious matter. It is worthy of the most serious consideration, as is also the case of all insane persons who have been or who will be confined in our jails or almshouses. The State should be in a position to care for all such persons, and some means should be adopted whereby it will not be as difficult as it is at present to secure entrance for such unfortunate persons in our State institutions, where they may be properly cared for and given every attention.

THEY tell us that every Democrat in a certain town in Kent county is an applicant for the postoffice. If the question were put to a vote of the people in their town election, every man might vote for himself, and the squabble would still be as bad as ever.

UNITED States Senator John Walter Smith says he has no apologies to make to the people of the State for his vote for a tariff on lumber. Wonder if he has any to moke for his vote for a tariff on hides, on coal, and on several other trust protected necessities. His interview published in the Baltimore Sun recently which contained the statement in reference to his vote on lumber, states also that President Wilson will have no more ardent advocate than he will be. We do not doubt that in the least, because a United States Senator is to be elected next fall, and it is generally believed the Senator aspires to be his own successor, and naturally he wants to be good under Wilson in order to make the people forget his past high tariff record, for the entire six years he has been in the Senate. We never dreamed that Senator Smith could have such little political sagacity as to make a statement at this time for publication which is so entirely inconsistent with his record. His interview in the Sun of this week will greatly weaken Senator Smith's chances of renomination in our opinion.

POSTOFFICE SEEKERS BUSY.

Since it has become known that Postmaster M. Wilbur Thomas' term as postmaster in Chestertown expires in August next, many candidates have gotten out their petitions. Mr. J. Hall Denny, an ardent Organization man, has, it is said, a largely signed petition. Mr. William A. Bell, who has always been identified with the Organization faction, and has been regarded as one of its most loyal and faithful adherents has a strong petition, as has also Mr. A. S. Crawford, another Organization man.

Mr. Wm. A. Wheatley, another ardent Organization supporter, and bookkeeper in the hardware store of Lofland & Culp, is being prominently mentioned for the place. But it has been reported during the week upon absolutely reliable authority that Mr. William B. Usilton, one of the editors of the Kent News, has the endorsement of Congressman J. Harry Covington for the place, and that when the proper time comes the Organization leaders in Chestertown will get behind Mr. Usilton for the place, and other candidates will not be considered. Meanwhile a number of so-called Anti-Organization men have announced their candidacy during the week and have strong petitions. Among those who have announced their candidacy are Robert Moffett, the well-known meat market man, Samuel Hicks, present clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, Edward Robinson, a prominent farmer, and Mr. J. Hydie Thompson, one of the younger Democrats of the town, who is associated with his father in the mercantile business. Other names have been mentioned but there are no other candidates thus far.

Mr. Morris Exonorated.

John Thomas Morris, Esq., of the Baltimore bar, and a native of Kent county, where he was born and raised, who was arrested last week on the charge of forging the name of Herbert E. Young, of Glenwood Avenue, Govans, to four checks aggregating $1,000 during May and June, 1911, was given a hearing Wednesday before Justice Wm. H. Fuller, at Towson, and dismissed. State's Attorney, George Hartman, of Baltimore county, said there was no evidence whatever to sustain the charge. Mr. Hartman gave the following letter to Mr. Morris:

"I think it is due you, in view of the publicity which has been given to the charges causing your recent arrest on the charge of forgery, that I should write you this letter, stating that after an investigation of the matter before the justice who issued the warrants, I am entirely satisfied that no wrong was perpetrated by you, and that the checks on which the charges were based were given by you in the course of business and for the benefit of Herbert E. Young, who laid the charges. The checks appear to have been given by you upon your own bank and the money placed to the credit of Herbert E. Young. Under these circumstances it is apparent that no injury was done to Herbert E. Young, and there is no foundation for the charges.

Mr. Morris had deposited money in bank to the credit of Young to invest for Mr. Morris. Young did not make judicious investments and Mr. Morris simply called in his money. Mr. Morris, besides having a lucrative practice in Baltimore, is a large land owner, and is a young gentleman of the highest integrity and character.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

DEXTER—VEASEY.

The Bethany Methodist Protestant Church, of Pocomoke City, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday of last week, when Miss Lillian Gertrude Veasey, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Eugene W. Veasey, of Pocomoke, and George Washington Dexter, Jr., of Baltimore, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. I. Humphreys, of Baltimore, a former pastor, assisted by Rev. E. A. Sexsmith, the present pastor of the church. Mrs. W. R. Graham and daughter, Miss Jessie, of Chestertown, attended the wedding.

DOUGLASS—WHITE.

At St. Peter's P. E. Church, Salisbury, on Wednesday, Miss Mary Lee White became the bride of Capt. Sam'l Robert Douglass. Miss White is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. White, of Salisbury, and a granddaughter of the late United States Senator George Vickers, of this town. The bride's sister, Mrs. Wm. S. Gordy, was matron of honor and Mr. Marion Foskey, of Philadelphia, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Douglas, of Philadelphia, Pa., N. Leonard Wales, G. V. White and Dr. A. B. Burris, of Salisbury. Rev. David Howard performed the ceremony.

THE GRIM REAPER.

MRS. D. LEE GREENFIELD.

Mrs. Georgia Greenfield died at her home in Pittsburg, Pa., on Sunday last, aged 34 years. The deceased was the youngest daughter of the late George H. and Clorinda Fisher Thompson, formerly of this county, and during her childhood and earlier life resided in Chestertown with her mother and sister. Some years ago she married Mr. D. Lee Greenfield, son of Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield, formerly of this town, and they went to Pittsburg to live, where the groom held a very lucrative and responsible position. The deceased and her husband had a wide circle of friends here, all of whom were shocked and grieved to learn of the early demise of the wife, and sympathize with the husband in his sorrow. Mr. Jacob F. Thompson, brother of the deceased received a telegram announcing the sudden death of his sister, and he left by train on Monday for Pittsburg to attend the funeral. The remains were brought to the home of her sister, Mrs. George W. Merritt, in Baltimore county, where funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. D. L. Greenfield. Interment was made in Oak Lawn cemetery. The deceased leaves an infant child one week old.

MRS. MARY C. CLOUGH.

Mrs. Mary C. Clough, widow of the late Chain Clough, of Queen Annes county, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. Marion Everett, near Church Hill, on Tuesday morning of last week, aged 74 years. The deceased is survived by ten children: N. McGinnis, of Wilmington, and Lemuel Thomas McGinnis, of Queen Anne's county, by her first husband; Stephen Clough and Mrs. Amanda Morris, of Smyrna, Del.; Albert Clough and John Clough, also of Delaware; Charles Clough, Joseph N. Clough and Margaret J. Everett, of Queen Annes county.

MR. J. EDWARD BRUNDIGE.

Mr. J. Edward Brundige, a well-known young business man of Westminster, was found dead in bed last Friday morning, his death having resulted from heart failure. Mr. Brundige was only 22 years old, and was very popular with a wide circle of friends. He was well-known in Chestertown, where he had been a visitor on several occasions.

MRS. SARAH E. REED.

Mrs. Sarah E. Reed died on Tuesday at the home of her son, Mr. William H. Reed, on Calvert street, aged 77 years. She leaves the following children: Wm. H. and James T. Reed; Mrs. Mary S. Shilling, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Lottie Hatcher, Westville, Ohio; Mrs. Sadie Stirling, Peru, Ind., and Mrs. Marion Vinillner, Cleveland, Ohio. Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett. Interment was made in St. Paul's cemetery. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Grange Notes.

The regular meeting of the Still Pond Grange will be held Tuesday afternoon promptly at 2.30 at the Grange Hall. The lecture hour will be open to the public at 3 o'clock, the subject being "Women's Suffrage." A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested to be present. The following program will be rendered: Singing, "America," (revised) Grange; "Grange March and opening the 'Votes for Women' pie; solo, "Marching Together" Mrs. Bennett; reading, "Women's Suffrage for the Whole Nation," Mrs. Ford; singing, "Just as well as He," Grange; reading, "University Students and Women," Mrs. Williams; "Twelve Objections to Woman's Suffrage," by Miss Maxwell; answered by Miss Crew; duet, "Give Women Votes," the Misses Price; reading, "A Farmer's Judicial Opinion of Woman's Suffrage," Mrs. Kelley; "Straw Vote Taken by Grange"; singing, "Vote for Women," Sure to Win; Bring it to pass in the year; Come vote, ladies.

A special meeting of the male members of the Grange will be held a few minutes before the regular meeting. All the gentlemen are requested to be present as there is a matter of importance to be attended to.

Maryland Week.

Baltimore City has been the mecca for farmers, fruit growers and dairy men of the State during the week in attendance upon the various meetings of the State Horticultural Society, the State Grange, the Crop Improvement Association and the Dairy Men's Association. The exhibits of farm products from all parts of the State together with the magnificent display of chrysanthemiums, fall roses and other flowers have eclipsed anything ever seen in the Fifth Regiment Armory.

The Rich Neck Farmers' Club, of Queen Anne's county, has a display that attracts much attention and causes favorable comment. Among the exhibits are Irish Potatoes that ran 348 bushels to the acre, following a crop of red clover that grew 32 inches high. These potatoes were grown by the scientific method of sterilizing the seed and spraying the vines; not a flaw can be found in them. W. Irving Walker is president of the club; H. P. Skipper and J. McC. Rhchester are in charge of this exhibit.

The prizes for the various exhibits had not been awarded at the hour of going to press, but will appear in full in our next issue.

Kent county will be well represented among the prize winners, as will also Queen Annes. The Crop Improvement Association and the Dairyman's Association elected officers on Wednesday. The officers of the Crop Association are as follows: President, Harry P. Skipper, of Queen Annes county; vice-president, J. Collin Vincent, of Baltimore; secretary-treasurer, Nicholas Schmitz, of College Park; directors, G. D. Radabaugh, of Harford county, and S. S. Stabler, of Charles county.

The scene presented at the opening in the Armory on Tuesday was a most beautiful one. Fruits and flowers, farm products and artificial decorations made the great armory a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Former Governor Edwin Warfield presided. Mayor James H. Preston delivered the address of welcome and presented the keys of the city to the farmers, while Henry M. McCullough, of Elkton made a fitting response. Great crowds have attended every session, and the meetings have been the most successful in the history of the various associations.

The Pretty Girl of Kent.

"Maryland girls still take the palm for beauty," remarked Col. E. W. Creecy, of Howard county and New York, at the Emerson, Baltimore, on Wednesday.

"In the great gathering in Washington to view the monument to the Confederate dead in Arlington there were hundreds of exceedingly lovely and attractive daughters of Eve, but the fairest of all was Miss Pansie Willson, of Kent county, Md., but for some time a resident of the national capital. Miss Willson's striking beauty made her the cynosure of all eyes. She is as modest, however, as she is pretty. Her family is one of the oldest of the Eastern Shore and her birthplace, Trumpington Farm, has been in its possession for generations. Her grandfather, Judge Bennett Willson, was one of the noted men of his day."

Edward C. Carrington, Jr., stated that the Bull Moose party would have in the field next year a candidate for Comptroller, candidates for the legislature throughout the State and for local offices.

Colonel Carrington also said the Bull Moosers would claim all the privileges and patronage accruing to the party which polls the second largest vote.
