A Wonderful Collection of TOYS

At Baltimore's Best Store

The entire Sixth Floor of our store is given over to the splendid assortment of Toys which we have gathered from far and near.

DO NOT FAIL TO VISIT OUR TOYLAND when you come to Baltimore—it is a sight well worth seeing.

One would never think there were so many toys, or so many kinds of toys in the world—dolls for little mothers, building blocks for future architects, mechanical toys for ingenious little fellows, toy railroads for future railroad presidents—everything that a boy or girl could possibly wish for.

It would be impossible to give a list of the numerous kinds. Write to us for information about any particular kind you desire, and we shall be pleased to furnish it.

Our Lovely Baby Elsie

Dolls at $1.00

Three styles—with jointed body, bisque head, real eyelashes and sewed wig-side—parted or with bangs; two styles have slippers and stockings.

Baby Elsie comes to us from Heinrich Handwerck, the most famous doll maker in the world, and she represents the greatest doll value that it is possible to obtain at $1.00.

JOINTED DOLLS, $1.00 to $12.00. Eyes that open and close; some with natural eyebrows and eyelashes; sewed wigs; some have short curly wigs.

CHARACTER DOLLS, 25cts. to $15.00. In almost endless variety; some with eyes that open and close, others with wigs; and some have natural wigs and voice.

STOCKINET DOLLS, $3.00, $4.00 and up to $8.50. Absolutely unbreakable; ideal for the little folks.

CELLULOID DOLLS, 10cts to $2.50. A varied assortment, including character babies.

GAMES, 10cts., 25cts., and on to $5.00.

PLAY SUITS for boys and girls, $1.00 to $5.00.

IRON TOYS—dump wagons, ice wagons, barrel wagons, etc., 25cts. to $1.00.

TOY TRAINS, 10cts. and up to $2.50.

DOLLS' GO-CARTS AND PERAMBULATORS, 50cts. to $12.50.

WHITE ENAMEL FURNITURE, 50cts. to $10.00.

How Dangerous Germs Multiply.

It has been proved that fresh milk cooled to 45 fahrenheit contains 445 microscopic colonies of bacteria. Some of them are benevolent and some are injurious. The milk obtained early in the morning or the night before, then bottled and peddled from house to house during the glare of the summer; and all the while the good germs and the bad are multipling. The 445 original colonies, within 24 hours, at 50degrees fahrenheit, becomes 1,362 colonies, and at 55 degrees they increase to 67,170 colonies, and at 60 degrees to 134,360 colonies. The germs of typhoid fever, of scarlet fever, of tuberculosis, of diptheria and other deadly maladies multiply very rapidly. It is essential that the mother take precaution against these deadly maladies.

This precautionary measure can be done in an ordinary way to kill the germs in uncertain milk.

The process of pasteurization requires special apparatus because the milk is heated in stoppered bottles, and then cooled quickly and kept cool. But scalding, that is bringing the milk to boiling point, so that a skin forms on the top, is practicable in any house, and scalding makes it reasonably safe for infants or adults. If it is boiled it may be indigestable in some cases.

I have found certified milk, as described by some dealers, is more dangerous than raw milk right out of the wagon; it literally swarms with the very worst kind of bacteria.

What have you learned about typhoid fever?

I am satisfied that it is brought to ones table in milk in very many instances. Cans are washed in contaminated water from creeks, brooks, springs and wells. The cans in many cases are neither dried or sterilized, and thus milk is often infected with deadly germs. Cream is more dangerous than milk, because while its bulk is but one-twentieth of the whole, it nevertheless contains 60 per cent. of the total bacteria.
