How Bad Backs Have Been Made Strong—Kidney Ills Corrected.

All over Chestertown you hear it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are keeping up the good work. Chestertown people are telling about it—telling of bad backs made sound again. You can believe the testimony of your own townspeople. They tell it for the benefit of you who are suffering. If your back aches, if you feel lame, sore and miserable, if the kidneys act too frequently, or passages are painful, scanty and off color, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that has helped so many of your friends and neighbors. Follow this Chestertown citizen's advice and give Doan's a chance to do the same for you.

Mrs. I. M. Blyman, High St., Chestertown, Md., says: "We have found excellent results from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and I can recommend them highly. A member of our family had backache and other symptoms of weak kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally obtained from Toulson's Drug Store and their use gave complete relief.

A READING ROOM.

Church Hill Has This Much Needed Improvement, Which Opened Jan. 1.

The Vestry of St. Luke's Parish has appropriated the use of the Sunday School or Vestry House to the use of a public reading room. The committee, appointed by the Social and Dramatic Club on repairs, decorations and furniture, will have their work completed in a few days. At 1 o'clock on New Year's Day it was thrown open to the public, to be called and used thereafter as the "Public Reading Room of Church Hill." It will be opened every afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock and in the evening from 7 to 10 o'clock. On Saturday evening to 11 o'clock. Here will be found the New York and Baltimore daily papers and one or more of the county weekly papers, besides magazines and other publications. Here also will be furnished games for all. The men can bring their pipes and cigars and smoke them.

Such a public reading room will meet a long-felt want in Church Hill and it will furnish every one an opportunity to keep abreast of the times, and read of current events transpiring in different parts of the world.

The Rector, Warden and Vestry were invited to come in a body to the opening of this public reading room at 1 o'clock on New Year's Day, and they extended a cordial welcome to the general public.—Centreville Record.

In and Around Georgetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Chamberlain are spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Voss, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Woodall, Jr., and Miss Marian B. Woodall attended the Christmas dance at Middletown last Friday night.

Mr. Thomas Beck left Wednesday for a few days visit with relatives in Philadelphia.

Mr. Fletcher Cochrane and Miss Margaret H. Cochrane, of East Orange, N. J., and Master Alexander Wilson, Jr., and sister, Miss Elsie B. Wilson, of Cecilton, are spending this week with their grandmother, Mrs. J. Fletcher Wilson.

Mr. Ernest A. Howard, of Wilmington, Delaware, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in town.

Mr. Howard Stradley, who for the past year has been employed with the firm of Pierce & Bolton, left on Thursday for Wilmington, where he will take a business course at Goldey College.

Mr. J. E. Woodall, Jr., spent New Year's Day in Middletown, Delaware.

Miss Jennie Parr is having her cozy little home on Main street, Galena, improved by a new coat of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. John Welch entertained the younger set at a sumptuous dinner at their home last Friday afternoon.

Miss Ella Cochrane, of Galena, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Crow, of near Black's.

Mr. Herman McCauley, of Wilmington, Del., spent a few days of last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney McCauley, at Galena.

Miss Jennie Bowers has returned to her school at Savage, Howard county, after spending the Xmas holidays at home.

The bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ford, returned home Thursday evening. A six o'clock dinner had been prepared, where a few friends were invited to welcome them back.

The Newspaper Your Friend.—Much has been written about the county newspaper. An exchange adds the following to the voluminous output: "'Tis a thing of sentiment, this little country newspaper. When perchance disgrace paints the scarlet letter on the family circle it listens to the pleadings of the broken heart and whispers not of it. When it does you a favor you come and beg a few extra copies, but when it steps on your toes you drop around and lick the editor. Without your dinkey country paper your towns and hamlets would be like the man who threw kisses at the girl in the dark—he knew it, but nobody else did. You might imagine you were alive; but other people would have to buy a railroad ticket to come and see for themselves."

SENATOR SMITH'S RECORD DISCUSSED.

"Old-Line Democrat" Propounds A Series of Questions to Senator John Walter Smith and Demands Straight Answers.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: Senator Smith's reply to ex-Attorney-General Straus' publication of his Senatorial record is nothing but subterfuge. This is not the way a Senator should answer public criticism of his public acts.

Mr. Straus stated facts which, if true, shows Senator Smith false to Democracy and to the people's cause. These statements demand prompt and direct answers, and there is no use for Senator Smith to try to throw the public off the track by talking about matters aside from the issue.

The issue which Mr. Straus raises admits of no equivocation. Probably the foremost pledge of the Democratic National Convention of 1908 was for free lumber. The party promise to the people was clear and positive. It said: "We demand the immediate repeal of the tariff on wood pulp, print paper, lumber, timber and logs, and that these articles be placed on the free list." Great force, as Mr. Straus claims, is unquestionably added to this declaration by the fact that the platform does not declare that any other article shall be put upon the free list, although it strongly denounces protection.

This declaration was binding upon every Democrat, and especially so upon those commissioned as Democrats to carry out the party principles and pledges by their votes in the Senate, because it is there that such votes must be cast if at all.

Now, then, the naked question is, did Senator Smith vote for "the immediate repeal of the tariff on wood pulp, print paper, lumber, timber and logs, and that those articles be placed upon the free list" or did he not so vote? If he did so vote, then Mr. Straus' biggest charge falls. If Senator Smith did not so vote, then Mr. Straus' biggest charge is sustained. It ought not to take a week for Mr. Smith to say, without evasion, whether he voted for or against this plain, leading party pledge. The people are pressing this question and want an answer to it, and not a discussion of something else they care nothing about.

If Senator Smith not only voted against the pledge of free lumber, logs and timber, but, as Mr. Straus further states, took part with another Senator in advocating a tariff of $2 per thousand on lumber, while the Republican proposition itself before the Senate was to put the rate at $1 or $1.50, then Senator Smith's recreancy to his party is aggravated in degree as well as in principle.

The questions Democrats want Senator Smith to answer are:

Did you vote in the Senate against free lumber, logs and timber?

Did you vote against the immediate repeal of the tariff upon lumber, logs and timber, or against any proposition to put these articles on the free list, as the platform "demanded"?

Did you advocate or vote for the Dingley tax of $2 upon lumber?

Did you vote or argue, with a proposal before the Senate to reduce the tariff on lumber from $2 to $1.50 or to $1, that it be kept at the $2 rate?

Did you vote with the Republican organization of the Senate for the Jones amendment to the Railroad Rate bill and against the Cummins amendment, which was supported by the Democratic party in the Senate, according to the party platform?

Did you cast a vote which retarded for two years a resolution for the election of Senators by the direct vote of the people, which Senator Owen declared practically killed that reform?

Did you vote twice to retain Lorimer in the Senate?

Were you against the Direct Primaries law, the Corrupt Practices act and the Public Utilities law in Maryland?

If the Senator broke the party pledges on these subjects, he certainly ought not to be sent back to the Senate.

Naturally, Senator Smith does not like Mr. Straus for bringing these questions forward, but the people are to be congratulated that there is some one in the State not only with a mind to appreciate the importance of them, but with the courage to take them up.

OLD-LINE DEMOCRAT.

Emmitsburg, Md., Dec. 26.

Peninsula Horticultural Society.

Prof. C. P. Close, formerly horticulturist of the Delaware Experiment Station, now fruit expert in the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., will be the chief judge of fruits at the convention of the Peninsula Society, Wilmington, Delaware, January 14th to 16th. George Morrison, commercial market Gardner, Uplands Farms, Baltimore county, Maryland, will be the chief judge of vegetables. Both are on the program for addresses.

The program committee has been mindful of the large number of ladies who will attend the horticultural convention. The program Wednesday evening, January 15th, has been arranged specially for the ladies. Richard Vincent, Jr., of Whitemarsh, Maryland, who attended the National Flower Show held in London last June, the finest flower show ever held in the world, has a large number of colored slides illustrating the most prominent and beautiful features of the show and will give an illustrated lecture on the flower show in general. The other interesting feature of the evening will be an illustrated lecture on the training of rural and village girls for home life, by O. H. Benson, United States Department of Agriculture. Wilmington merchants have made arrangements to give space in their show windows for fruit exhibits during the convention.
