STATE'S ELECTORS VOTE FOR WILSON.

Simple Ceremony Completes Election of Next President.

The Maryland Electoral College, consisting of the eight Democratic electors elected at the last November election, met at the State House, Annapolis, Monday last, January, 13th, 1913, and formally cast the State's vote for Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, for President and Vice-President, respectively, of the United States. A like ceremony was performed in the forty-eight States of the country.

The casting of the State's vote by the Presidential electors was a simple ceremony and required but little time to complete.

W. S. BRYAN MADE PRESIDENT.

The college organized with the selection of former Attorney-General Wm. S. Bryan as president; Col. James W. Owens, of Annapolis, as secretary, and A. S. Goldsborough, as messenger, and also appointed John R. Sullivan as sergeant-at-arms. After formally registering the vote the necessary papers were delivered to Mr. Goldsborough, who, in the capacity of messenger, will convey them to Washington to be delivered to Congress.

The only other item of business that came before the meeting of the electors was a request from the Jackson League of New York inviting the Maryland electors to take some action in line with requesting President-elect Wilson to rescind the order of President Taft which placed thousands of employes under the civil service regulations. The college, however, took no official cognizance of the request.

Following the meeting the electors were entertained at luncheon by Governor Goldsborough at the Government House. Other guests at luncheon included State Comptroller Harrington, Treasurer Vandiver and Secretary of State, Robert P. Graham.

13,000,000 Sunday School Scholars.

The International Sunday School Association reports 13,000,000, under 20, in all Sunday schools, and 23,000,000 of the young people of the United States under 20 years of age who are not in Sunday schools.

Taking out all who are under five years of age—and many of those should be in Sunday school kindergartens—there are more millions of children and youth outside of Sunday schools than in them; and those who are not in Sunday schools are very few of them in churches, and very few of them are getting religious teaching at home or in any other school. We are shut up to the horrible fact, which should make it impossible for any good man to be inactive in this matter, that one-half the children and youths of the United States are in the streets' school of evil on the Lord's Day, and every day, and alas, many of the parents don't care, and in many cases there are no anxious apostles seeking to bring relief.—The Christian Herald.

A SOUTHERN WAR SONG.

Messrs. Editors: In the Baltimore Sun I find in the "From the People's Column" an inquiry from one who signs herself "A Southern Matron, Solomons Island," asking for the words of "The Southern girl's reply to the Federal officer who asked her hand in marriage." As I have this very beautiful Southern war song in my collection of Southern gems, I take great pleasure in sending it to the Sun.

Pikesville, Md. H. H. MATTHEWS.

"TRUE TO THE GRAY."

I cannot listen to your words, the land is long and wide;
Go seek some happy Northern girl be your loving bride;
My brothers they were soldiers—the youngest of the three
Was slain while fighting by the side of gallant Fitzhugh Lee!

They left his body on the field (your side the day had won),
A soldier spurned him with his foot—you might have been the one;
My lover was a soldier—he belonged to Gordon's band;
A saber pierced his gallant heart—your's might have been the hand.

He reel'd and fell, but was not dead, a horseman spurred his steed
And trampled on the dying brain—you may have done the deed;
I hold no hatred in my heart, no cold, unrighteous pride,
For many a gallant soldier fought upon the other side.

But still I cannot kiss the hand that smote my country sore,
Nor love the foes that trampled down the colors that she bore;
Between my heart and yours there rolls a deep and crimson tide—
My brother's and my lover's blood forbid me be your bride.

The girls who loved the boys in gray—the girls to country true,
May ne'er in wedlock give their hands to those who wore the blue. PEARL RIVERS.

REMEMBER HIS VOTE ON LUMBER.

"Hayseed Democrat" Says People of Moderate Means, Who Have Built Houses in Anne Arundel in the Last Year, Which Have Cost Them More Because of the High Price of Lumber, Will Remember Senator Smith's Vote on the Lumber Schedule When the Primaries Roll Round.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: Today's issue of your paper gives out a statement that Dr. Wells is advocating the election of Messrs. Smith and Talbott to the United States Senate.

Dr. Wells has very great influence in Anne Arundel county, but I apprehend that along the lines of the two electric railways, at Curtis Bay, Brooklyn, the suburbs of Annapolis and along the oyster courses of South, Rhode and West rivers and Herring Bay, more building has been done in the last year than probably anywhere in the State except immediately in the suburbs of Baltimore. Along the railways the building has been done mostly by settlers who have bought properties there and who are residents of Baltimore, but around Annapolis and on the water courses referred to the houses have been built by laborers, oystermen and people of moderate means, and they recognize the fact that Senator Smith voted to keep the high tariff on lumber and that as a result they have paid probably 25 per cent. more for their lumber than it would have cost them with a reasonable tariff. This being the case notwithstanding Dr. Wells' great influence, it will be an impossibility to carry Anne Arundel county for Senator Smith. So don't put any faith in the statements that the county will go for him.

HAYSEED DEMOCRAT.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 3.

HOME RULE NEEDED.

Mr. William H. Maltbie, a member of the last House of Delegates from Baltimore city, and Director of the Baltimore Bureau of Municipal Research, in an interview published in the "Baltimore News" Wednesday last, strongly advocates genuine home rule for Baltimore city and of the counties of the State, by an amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. Maltbie is a lawyer of high standing, and has been investigating this problem for some months, and his opinions are entitled to great weight.

State after State have adopted this method of giving home rule to the cities and counties, with marked success, and its adoption by Maryland would be a decided advance in State government, and in accordance with the progressive sentiment of the times, and towards the ultimate thule, of shall the people rule.

As it is now Mr. Maltbie truly asserts that the Legislature is clogged at every session, with local bills that could be readily and more enlightenedly be acted upon by the commissioners of the severa counties had they the necessary authority, and who at the same time would be responsible directly to the people, and whose wishes it is safe to assume they would attempt to meet.

As it is now, all local legislation is referred to the members from that county, where it is made the football of politicians or combinations to advance political or personal measures.

Mr. Maltbie's suggestions and recommendations are on right lines, and the sooner they are enacted into laws, the better it will be, not only for the city of Baltimore, but for the counties as well, and the people generally.

The TRANSCRIPT will be very glad to publish opinions of our tax-payers and the public generally in reference to this matter. It is a question of vital importance to the counties of the State, and our people should study the question, and discuss it.

A Singular Coincident.—A singular and distressing coincidence in connection with the death of Judge Page is the information that his sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Crisfield, of Washington, D. C., is also in a serious condition resulting from a stroke of paralysis. Still another in the same circle of relatives is the case of Judge J. Upshur Dennis, who is very ill of the same ailment, at his home in Baltimore.

REPORT
OF THE AUDITING COMMITTEE
OF KENT COUNTY, MD.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners for Kent County, Maryland,

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with an act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed January, 1904, we who have been appointed auditors for Kent county, beg leave to state that we have examined the books, accounts, vouchers and papers of the office of County Commissioners, Treasurer, Board of School Commissioners and Trustees of Almshouse, and submit the following report as shown in

EXHIBITS 1-6.

In the items of expenditure we find bills for delivering Delinquent tax notices aggregating $249.80. Also in the items of receipts we find the Treasurer collected from Delinquent tax-payers $195.40 for 1911-12, also $17.40 for 1910-11.

He according to his books received 8 per cent. commission on taxes collected after April the 1st, 20 cents of which went to the county. It was the opinion of the Attorney to the County Commissioners that if the Treasurer actually levies he is entitled to compensation for such levy. If he does not actually levy he is entitled to no fee for the delivery of Delinquent tax notices.

We are also advised upon what we consider other competent authority that these charges are not legal.
