Story of American jazz told at Carver's annual variety show

Starting with the beaf of the African tom-toms, the clubs of Carver Vocational Technical High School brought their theatre audience along the milestones of jazz in its annual variety show.

Entitled "Jazz Saga," the show sponsored by the Carver Parent - Teacher Association, rhythmically moved from an African village to the first American scene—an Indian settlement.

The role of the New Orleans voodoo ritual was presented next.

The work songs of the slaves relieved the heavy load of the workers and introduced harmony in this new music being born. At this time, are also being heard the jubilee songs, expression of hope, joy, and future rewards.

Jazz was not just an expression of work and hope. It also embraced the delightful melodies presented by the traveling minstrel shows. It sowed and flourished in the speakeasies of New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago as it brought forth ragtime, boogie-woogie an Handy's blues.

"Even the college crowd was not safe from this musical expression that by the Roaring Twenties was sweeping the country. To its beat was danced the Charleston, Black Bottom, and Ball and Jack."

After being left breathless by the bounce and bump of the Twenties, jazz devotees ever ready and willing to sway to the lilting strains produced by "sweet" jazz. Songs like George Gershwin's "Rapsody in Blue," followed by big bands sent females swirling over countless dance floors.

Mrs. Dedmond named a judge

Mrs. Flossie M. Dedmond, a professor at the Coppin State Teachers College, will be a member of the Maryland judging team for the newly adopted high school English Achievement Awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

The aim of this program is to grant recognition to the nation's outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English.

As one of eight judges, Mrs. Dedmond will evaluate the nominees' writing and special tests to determine outstanding high school students in English in Maryland secondary schools.

There will be seven Award winners throughout the state. These winners will receive recognoition from NCTE and its 142 affiliated organizations and will be recommended for college scholarships.

4 Cherry Hill classes visit Friendship Airport

Recently, the four special education classes of Cherry Hill Junior High School No. 180 visited Friendship Airport. The visit was part of a culminating activity on the social studies units, Transportation and Baltimore.

Robert Griner was in charge of the trip and assisting him were Mrs. Christine Franklin, William Spencer, and Heyward Hamlin. All are teachers.

At a recent school assembly the special education classes gave a spectacular rendition of the "Easter Story." The production was presented in narration, song and bronze statues.

The skit was written by Henry Etheridge of the physical education department.

Miss Hermione E. Wharton is principal and Cyrus W. Marshall, vice - principal.

THE FTA Club journeyed to Hagerstown, Maryland on Saturday with 17 of its members to attend an all-day conference at the South Hagerstown High School.

Henson trophies for Morgan State

Mrs. Matthew Henson, widow of the Arctic explorer and first man to set foot on the North Pole, has presented to Morgan State College for permanent display:

1. Mr. Henson's copy of the bronze bust presented to him by the Explorers' Club of New York of which he was honorary member. The original bust of Mr. Henson's remains in the Explorers' Club.

2. Silver loving cup presented to Mr. Henson by the Bronx Chamber of Commerce in 1929 for his "service to science" as a member of the 1906 Peary Expedition, which discovered the North Pole.

3. The diploma given Mr. Henson when he was awarded the Honorary Master of Arts degree at Morgan in 1924.

Morgan diplomas in those days were signed by J. Oakley Soper, president of the college; Charles W. Baldwin, president of the corporation; Lee Marcus McCoy, dean; and Carrington Davis, secretary.

FORMAL presentation of the Henson gift to Morgan will be made by Herbert M. Frisby, president of the Alumni Association, Mr. Victorine Adams, fashion co-ordinator at the Charm Centre, presented a style show entitled "As Others Like Us."

The last half of the clinic was the installation of our Business Club into The Future Business Leaders of America.

Officers were: William Evans, president; Mary Hubard, vice-president; Priscilla Putty, secretary; Jacqueline Fleet, treasurer; and Diane Hawthorne, reporter.

Douglass Hi seniors elect their officers

By DAISY WILSON

Another school year is about to close and the seniors at Douglass High School are busy making preparations for one of the most elaborate moments—commencement.

As officers for the Douglass June Class, the seniors have elected the following:

Carolyn Ford, president; Charles Koonce, first vice-president; Patricia Morton, second vice president; Pacific Green, secretary; Dorsey Cutler, first assistant secretary;

Joyce Pettiford, treasurer; Alexander Gaskins, first assistant treasurer; Jacqueline Wheatley, second assistant secretary; Sylvia White, second assistant treasurer; Frank Chester, business manager;

William Johnson, first assistant business manager, and Frances Flanagan, second assistant business manager.

TWELVE SENIORS received citations at the second annual High School Honors Day at Morgan State College.

Included were:

Ann Smith, Daisy Wilson, Carolyn Faunileuy, Carol Perkins, Patricia Morton, Phyllis Stevenson, Samuel Travers.

Dorothy Richardson, Ernestine Arnett, Morton Miles, Jean Holcomb and Beverly Kent.

To raise money for its benefit scholarship fund, the Douglass PTA sponsored a magic extravaganza in the school auditorium featuring Ray Mond.

Democratic Viewpoint

By ROBERT WATTS

A few weeks ago, I indicated that a Negro Senator Sorphy would file for the State Senate as an independent candidate and I posed several questions that such a move would give rise.

Now that its official and he has definitely filed we should begin analyzing the effect of such a move.

At first glance it is obvious somebody plans to split the colored vote between Mickey Jones and Senator Cole and in this case Mr. Sorphy is right.

The question arises as to whether he will hurt Cole or Jones.

* * *

MR. SOYPHER'S friends must think he will hurt Jones, that is why they put him on the race and that the fight will narrow down to a fight between Mr. Soypher and Cole.

He may gain votes in the Lumpkins Lumpkins area where once was a strong pull colored and anti Pollack feeling when ppl decided they had an opportunity to vote for a man who is neither.

On the other hand most well informed politicians wonder if Mr. Sorphy will pick votes in the Pollark area to amount to anything and how he will affect any votes in the colored area.

This indicates, I am advised, that he will be hurt by the defeated.

I have not found one politician who gives him any chance.

The question that will be uppermost in the minds of all politicians is this:

If, of course we have no yet had the primary election of May 20th, and this fifth this week does give the politicians and should give the intelligent citizens something to think about between now and the November elections.

* * *

ANSELM Sodaro and Joseph Allen, the nitting twins from Union I have urged all to vote for and support, have begun nicking up support from all places but are primarily depending on the votes of the non-politicians.

Many politicians in a general sense are trying to elect People, interested in the sound administration of our courts are called upon to get out and vote for I have incumbent Judges Anselm So-daro and Joseph Allen, two very outstanding judges of our courts.

* * *

THE BAR Association has indorsed Chief Judge Delaney Foster Daniel Friedman and Judge Foster is a man who deservedly called for the re-election of Dulaney Foster, a man of outstanding ability who has brought real dignity to that office after a somewhat shabby court record for some time.

Sitting with him has been Judge Daniel Friedman who has proven to be been a real credit to the Court.

Judge Friedman has demonstrated a keen judicial temperament and has proven his fitness for this office, and so I wholeheartedly urge the citizens to stand behind these two men.

The Monumental Bar Association has indorsed these two judges and now that the Baltimore City Association has done the same, I can without hesitation recommend all four.

* * *

IN THE 4th District, Verda Welcome is banning away.

Everyone is talking about the type of campaign she is waging. I am proud to see this civic minded campaign with such dignity and skill and I sincerely hope that other women will become active in politics because of the example set by Mrs. Welcome.

Well thinking voters of the fourth district in their own blocks and in their own circles are spreading the word that Verda Welcome should represent the District at Annapolis. Verda Welcome and Jerry (Jerry) Robinson have by their great work these past two years endeared their fitness to be returned.

Jerry, regardless of race, creed or color has been an effective legislator and in my opinion he is perhaps the outstanding man in the House of Delegates.

He is aligned with the Jack Pollack organization, but is a such outstanding ability, and has shown such a job that he transcends party.

I support Verda Welcome, Jerry Robinson and Jerome Robinson for the 4th District House of Delegates seats.

13 inducted at Morgan State

"The Aristocrat of Deception."

Thirteen top-ranking students were inducted into Alpha Kappa Mu National Honor Society at Morgan State College Wednesday.

The occasion was the 22rd annual Honors Day, sponsored by Morgan's Pi Lambda Psi Chapter of the general scholarship society.

The ten other honor societies at Morgan, nine of which like Alpha Kappa Mu are national groups, participated in the ceremony.

Of the inductees eleven are from Maryland and eight from Baltimore City.

SENIORS INCLUDED were:

Evelyn Hallman, Gaithersburg, Md.; Eleanor Queen, Severn, Md.; Toward P. Rawlings and Elizabeth Thornton, Baltimore.

Juniors initiated were: Bardera Broadway, Jeanne Coleman, Baltimore; William Deauder, Frederick, Md.; Ella Leake, Arlene McLain, Baltimore; Nathaniel Pierson, New York City; Grace E. Robinson, Cornelius Woodson, Baltimore; and Doris Wooten, The Bronx, N.Y.

The students were initiated by Dr. Samuel Myers, one of the faculty advisers of Morgan's chapter.

Honor students for two consecutive semesters were presented certificates and citations were presented to the twelve Morgan students elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for the 1957-58 year.

These certificates were presented by Dr. Ruth Brett, coordinator of scholarships.

Miss Almyra Lage, president of Alpha Kappa Mu, presided. Other members of the society are: Thelma Moore, vice president; Clara Anthony, secretary; Leroy Anderson, Maurice Dorsey, Eugene Moseley, Dorothy Popkins, Robert Reed, Maurice Robinson, Morris Thrower and Robert Wheatley.

Dr. Richard I. McKinney is the other faculty adviser.

Scholarships offered by Pratt Library

Five scholarships for graduate study in library science, available for the first time last year, again are being offered by the Enoch Pratt Free Library.

Arthur H. Parson Jr., library director, announced that two of the awards are for $1,500 each, and the remainder $1,000 apiece.

Applicants must hold a degree from an accredited university. Mr. Parsons said, and recipients must agree to accept employment at the Pratt for at least two years following the successful completion of their library school training.

These scholarships, are made possible by gift funds, Mr. Parsons explained.

Inquiries concerning the grants should be directed to the library's personnel office, with the deadline for filing applications.

Enchanted Treasure

"The Enchanted Treasure" by Anne Wilkinson, based on a tale by Washington Irving will be presented by the Traveling Players of the Baltimore Recreation Department at 2:30 p.m., May 3.

This production, directed by Roy Bockelefer is the annual benefit program for the Young Musicians Series.

Grooming tips at Carrollton

The Girls Council of Carrollton Junior High School presented an assembly centered about "Good Grooming for Boys and Girls" with as speaker Mrs. Victorine Adams' of Charm Center.

The fashion show in which students from Carver modeled appropriate teen-age apparel comprised the concluding portion of the program.

Rosella Farr of 8A2 will represent Carrollton in the spelling finals to be held at Mergenthaler.

From sixty-four contestants, representing the Junior City Schools, Rosella placed seventh in the semi-finals at Clifton Park Junior High School.

Now in the fourth week of practice teaching, three students from Morgan are finding their assignments interesting and enjoyable.

Relative to students are Miss Jo-Ellen Lofton in English under Miss Antoinette Johnson, Miss Thelma Hall in music under Mrs. Consuella Newton and Miss Eleanor Queen in English under Miss Judy Bennett.

In Memoriam 1

COLLINS — In loving memory of our dear mother, FLORENCE COLLINS who passed away one year ago, May 3, 1957.
Peacefully she laid down her weary head
Gently the day-moon faded away
Always bearing her suffering
Without a murmur or word of complaint
The Golden Gate opened and she passed through
And with a farewell unspoken,
Calmly she closed her eyes
From her loving
HUSBAND, SISTERS, BROTHER, DAUGHTERS and GRANDCHILDREN.

COLLINS — In loving memory of our dear grandmother, FLORENCE COLLINS who passed away one year ago, May 3, 1957.
We think of you often, And will to the end
Your memory is dear
Gone but not forgotten, by some you have left behind
We think of our memory you ever will be
LOVING GRANDCHILDREN.

GONNELL — A tribute of love to my husband, Jerome Gonnell, who passed away May 4, 1957.
Sweet was your face, Dear was your smile
Your voice was music, Your ways were mild
They God called you away
Our Mother dear, we loved you
Our hearts are for you still
Forgotten by some others
Never by your family.
WILLIAM AND MARCELLA

JOHNSON — In loving memory of our dear father, CHARLES J. JOHNSON who passed away May 4, 1956.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last
Your work's, weary troub
