what is this CYCLO-MASSAGE FURNITURE that people are talking about?

"Niagara Cyclo-Massage® Furniture," says Arthur Godfrey, "looks like other good furniture, but the feeling you get when you sit or recline on it is different from anything you've ever experienced. The action you feel — they tell me it's called Cycloid action — travels right through you and makes you feel better. At least that's been my experience . . . and I do believe that Niagara Cyclo-Massage® helps to relieve tension and nervous fatigue due to overwork or over-exercise . . . and I think it does it through increased circulation of the blood."

Clinical tests prove — and many thousands have already affirmed — that Niagara Cyclo-Massage® does indeed help to increase blood circulation in the area of application . . . to endow deep, natural sleep . . . to provide relief from tension. It may well help provide new zest and joy of living for every member of the family.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Alpha Mu Chapter, is taking first place in the headlines this week.

Two of its members have distinguished themselves, — one by marriage and the other by recognition from the school from which she graduated.

A romance, which started in December, 1956, ended in marriage when Alice Elizabeth Holt, one of the members of the large prominent Holt family at Lothian, became the bride of Leroy A. Battle, well-known musician, on Saturday, April 26.

Alice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Holt and Leroy is the son of Mrs. Marjorie Battle, formerly of New York City, but now of Washington.

BEFORE ONLY members of the immediate families at the home of the bride, the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Levi B. Miller Jr., executive secretary of the Board of Education, Washington Conference, of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Miller was assisted by the Rev. E. S. Williams, pastor of Grace Methodist Church at Fairmont Heights, Md., and the Rev. John E. Evans, pastor of the Mount Zion charge at Lothian.

Alice was sweet in white silk organza, fashioned with a tight bodice, which was accordion-pleated and a full, full skirt.

Her simple rounded neckline was accented by clear cut beading. The bolero she wore over her dress was made to fasten in the back, set off by a row of small buttons. It had a dainty round collar.

She wore earrings to match the beading on her dress and a tiara of seed pearls with a short veil. Her shoes were white in a sculptured fabric and lo.

The bride's bouquet was made up of a white orchid and stephanotis, artistically arranged with white satin ribbon on a white Bible.

Her only attendants were her two sisters, Mrs. James A. Finley of Baltimore (she's the real estater), and Miss Noverne Holt, a teacher at Bates Junior High School.

BOTH WORE dresses that were made alike in silk organza, styled along bouffant lines with boleros which fastened in front. The tight bodices had sweetheart necklines and the skirts were very full.

Each carried a nosegay, made up of roses, carnations and orchid. Both sisters, Vashti in greenish blue, maid of honor, and Noverne in yellow, maid of honor, looked very lovely.

The best man was Benjamin Cumbo, faculty member of the Douglass High School at Upper Marlboro.

The bride's mother wore navy blue organdy, while the bridegroom's mother was dressed in rose crepe. His aunt, Mrs. Roberta Roderick, formerly of New York, but now of Washington, was in green crepe.

Her godmother, Mrs. Bessie Joyce Plater of Baltimore was in grayish blue. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

They were all attractively attired and wore corsages of carnations and roses.

Alice is principal of the Lula G. Scott Elementary School at Shady Side.

A graduate of Maryland State Teachers College, she has done graduate work at Boston and Maryland Universities.

She is director of young people's church camping for the Washington Conference of the Methodist Church, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Northwest Street YMCA at Annapolis.

Other than her sorority of which she is journalist, she is member of the Anne Arundel County Teachers Association, the Maryland State Teachers Association the National Education Association and the Anne Arundel County Branch NAACP.

The bridegroom, is a graduate of Morgan has attended the Juilliard School of Music in New York, and is doing graduate work at the University of Maryland. He is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

A teacher of instrumental music, Battle is head of the music department of Douglass High School at Upper Marlboro. He heads up the popular "Men of Note" Orchestra, which marched in the Cherry Blossom Parade in Washington this spring.

The happy couple is at home to friends at 1519 49th St., NW, in Washington.

J. ALEXANDER WISEMAN, a leading citizen here, and one who is public spirited and race - minded, has been the dynamic force behind what we might consider one of the finest projects formed for the benefit of young people here.

He set up a committee of three persons representing graduate classes of 1954 and 1955 of the Bates High School, for the purpose of making these young people mindful of their duty as citizens to be registered and prepared to vote.

These young people fall into the category of those who have just turned 21 years of age, or those who are over 21.

The committees obtained names and addresses of all members of the two classes and sent out letters urging them to register and vote.

The letter in part reads:

"There are two things you can do with very little effort in order to prevent the forces of prejudice from scoring a victory in Anne Arundel County.

"First, register and vote for candidates who support the constitutional rights of all citizens. Second, persuade your friends, relatives and neighbors to do the same."

In contacting these committees, it was discovered that both were highly elated over the results of their efforts.

It was reported that the members of the two classes responded enthusiastically and that at least ninety per cent of the entire membership of both classes placed themselves in line for the privilege of voting.

Members of the two committees and their classes were Misses Eleanor Murden and Marguerite Johnson and Philip Brown Jr. of the 1954 class, and Misses Sylvia Randall and Gloria Ennis and William Jones of the 1955 class.

Mr. Wiseman is a member of the faculty of Maryland State Teachers College at Bowie.

Honored by Employer — "Giving credit where credit is due," is an old saying, but it always is significant when it becomes a reality.

MRS. ALMA JOHNSON, who has been head of the stockroom of The G. C. Murphy Five and Ten Cent Store here in Annapolis, was honored at a surprise party by the manager, J. D. Reed, for her 15 years of services.

Mrs. Johnson who is the first colored person hired by the company here, was presented a gold pin, 15 beautiful roses, a lovely travel case, and was given a day off with pay.

In addition, she will journey to Pittsburgh this month for the G. C. Murphy Company Convention and ball, as the only representative from her store, with all expenses paid and her salary.

Mrs. Johnson is the lovely wife of the Rev. Philip Paul Johnson, assistant pastor of the Town Neck Methodist Church. The couple lives in Eastport.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson, who will attend the Washington Annual Conference in Pittsburgh, will join his wife there.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Electa Holland for her recent achievement in being honored by Hunter College of New York City, from which she graduated.

It isn't often schools take out time to recognize and single out the graduates "who make good" in their communities.

Electa is doing a fine job in her field, is a fine citizen of our community, and deserves such recognition.

It would be wonderful if more schools followed the example of Hunter College.
