Democratic Viewpoint

By ROBERT WATTS

I had a very interesting conversation with a member of the staff at the Bruce for Senator Headquarters.

He pointed out that Mr. Bruce is locked in a grim contest with the State wide Democratic political organization, that is supporting the so called "harmony" ticket.

He showed me a clipping that he felt summed up the main campaign.

The clipping is from a Democratic Advocate and quotes Mr. Bruce as follows:

"I have an organization backing me in this primary contest.

"It is an organization which you will all recognize easily.

"It consists principally of former Governor Preston Lane, former United States Senators George Radcliffe and Millard Tydings, Judge Nellie Marie Marshall, Clarence Miles and many other outstanding citizens of Maryland and good Democrats.

"It is an organization born of the realization that we need a man who can win the general election and give Maryland the kind of representation it deserves in the United States Senate.

"I have an organization — and if this be treason, make the most of it."

* * *

THE STAFF member pointed out to me that the voters ought to know the full story and his emphasis was on the forthright civil rights statement made by Mr. Bruce, which was carried in others editions of this paper.

In order to help the voters decide as between all candidates and because of my great respect for Mr. Bruce, I am happy to mention these facts about Mr. Bruce.

ONE OF THE reasons for the success and vigor of the Verda Welcome campaign has been the great leadership given by Sam Daniels.

He is Verda's campaign manager and is doing a terrific job in her behalf.

Verda is conducting a good clean, forceful campaign and you can give a lot of the credit to Sam Daniels.

Sam was a little concerned the other day for some voters are saying they are sorry they can't vote for Verda because they are committed to Mrs. Dixon.

They are being lead to believe, that they can only vote for one of these ladies.

He wants you to know that you can vote for both Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Welcome in the primary, for they are both Democrats!

Your can't vote for Mrs. Winston unless you are Republican. The Voters should not be fooled but should have the opportunity to vote the candidates of their choice.

GEORGE P. MAHONEY is back in the city along with the other candidates and will be campaigning vigorously for the city vote.

He hasn't been around the city much to date, but from now until the May 20th primary date you can find him at various meetings and in his headquarters in the Knickerbocker Building.

* * *

MANY VOTERS of the fourth District are worried about the fact they don't hear too much from Mrs. Irma Dixon, and Mr. Arlington Phillips, candidates for the House of Delegates from the 4th District on the Democratic Ticket.

Truly Hatchett is campaigning forcefully and it is felt he will win again. Because it is believed he was snubbed by the Pollack forces, because he dared show some independence and dared refuse a favor, many voters are going to work for him.

The hue and cry is for independent candidates, free from shackling ties to political bosses.

If the independent voters vote in the primary Hatchett, Verda Welcome and James McAllister will have an opportunity to win.

If you favor these candidates, then you can help by encouraging all voters in your neighborhood to come out on May 20th.

B-P's Sojourner Truth award to AFRO writer

Some 450 persons were present Sunday evening at the annual founders' day dinner of the Baltimore Club of the National Association of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

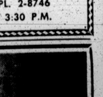
The dinner held at Carver Vocational High School featured the 15th annual presentation of the Sojourner Truth plaque which went to Mrs. Elizabeth M. Phillips, assistant to AFRO president Carl Murphy and writer of the column, "If You Ask Me."

It also featured awards to two other AFRO women writers and greetings by writers on other newspapers and a tribute by Mrs. Poppy Cannon White of New York, an author and foods editor for a national magazine.

Mrs. Lula Jones Patterson, AFRO women's editor received the professional award.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Oliver Abney, AFRO special writer, received the service award.

CITATIONS WERE made by clubmember, Mrs. Edna Rawlings who stated that Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Abney have excelled in their professions, pushed sex aside and have taken place in the vanguard of men in a profession which has long been considered the bailiwick of men."



Mrs. Rawlings

Mrs. Abney was cited as a reporter who has courageously covered all types of news in all corners of the earth.

Mrs. Patterson for having raised the status of women and for giving their activities significance and dignity through her internationally known column, Gadabouting.

Mrs. Phillips was cited as a newspaper woman of 20 years experience who "is equal to any man in her field yet still wife and mother."

Mrs. Rawlings also noted that Mrs. Phillips is one of the first in high administrative office and "her civic sensitivity has made her one of the most valued members in the life of her community."

* * *

THE AWARDS were presented to Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Abney by the club president, Mrs. Lena K. Lee.

However, at Mrs. Lee's request, Dr. Murphy presented the Truth award plaque to Mrs. Phillips.

Dr. Saul Perdue, principal of the Carver school, extended welcome to club members, guests and friends attending the dinner.

Presiding was Mrs. LeRay Stokes who also served as chairman of the banquet committee. Mrs. Janetta S. Ridgely, Sun editorial writer, was mistress of ceremonies.

The Rt. Rev. Edgar A. Love, area bishop of the Methodist Church, gave the invocation and the benediction. Mrs. Marie Fraser accompanied by Mrs. Charlotte Swann, was soloist.

* * *

GREETINGS WERE brought by Miss Helen Delich, Maritime editor of the Baltimore Sun; Ralph Matthews, associate editor of the Washington AFRO; and Mrs. Ruth Shipley, Pittsburgh Courier correspondent who brought a letter of greetings from Mrs. Robert Vann, president of the Courier.

Also bringing greetings was Dr. Murphy who in his speech set the stage for the gaiety which marked the occasion, which saw more women present than men.

He said: "Unless he is a solicitor of funds, a politician, or a candidate for office, any man should think twice before crossing these portals to stand before this organization of business and professional women to make a speech."

To prove his entirely friendly attitude toward women, Dr. Murphy praised the organization "with superlatives" and offered his all-woman family as proof that he knew how to get along with women.

He said: "A house entirely feminine, I am therefore quite accustomed to being overridden by the preponderance of weight in any argument, the omnipresence and evidence of pure logic, and in fact, I am just plain outnumbered."

* * *

AS DR. MURPHY expressed gratitude for the club's selection of three AFRO employees for honors, he revealed that he had known Mrs. Abney, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Phillips, his daughter, "since they were little girls."

He stated: "If you look over the scores of women employed by the AFRO you could hardly have found three more talented or finer young women."

Mr. Matthews also complimented women of the press as he told the audience how women make good newspaper writers.

Mr. Matthews also noted that women who wish to enjoy their work should have "fun" should enter a field which employs a majority of men.

* * *

AS MRS. Phillips expressed appreciation for the coveted Sojourner Truth award she recalled the life of the slave woman who was called "the friend of freedom."

She said: "Since the Business and Professional Women's Clubs have as their theme 'women crusading for freedom' it is appropos that this founders' day celebration should honor a pioneer woman whose life was devoted to the cause of freedom."

Continuing, Mrs. Phillips traced the life of Sojourner Truth who at the age of 10 was beaten by her slave master and later had her five children taken from her and sold into slavery.

Mrs. Phillips vividly described the courageous woman as six feet tall and weighing 200 pounds. She added: "A biographer said her voice was 'as deep as a Boston foghorn.'"

However, Mrs. Phillips said "although she could not read or write she had mother wit and understanding and unusual intelligence. People stopped to look at her and she commanded attention."

Mrs. Phillips termed Sojourner Truth as "Mrs. Civil Rights of her day" and recalled that as a result of an insult to her, the jim crow policy on Washington streetcars was abolished.

* * *

MRS. WHITE referred to the women's world as a "lace curtain world" behind which they used to reside with "little to say and do" in the man's world.

She added: "However, lately women have been making their lives big by adding love and grace to common things.

They have begun leading interesting lives out of the middlesized means put in their hands."

Continuing, Mrs. White noted: "It is a woman's gift to take the small things and make them important. They have stepped from their lace curtain world into the great world of business, industry and communication."

In conclusion Mrs. White said: "It's the God-given responsibility of all women to bring the great world into the world of the heart."

* * *

A LETTER of congratulation to the club and the honorees was received by Mrs. Lee from Vice-president Richard Nixon.

He said: "I appreciate this opportunity to join with members of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs in extending congratulations to Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Abney and Mrs. Phillips.

"Since the days of Nellie Bly, American women have been making names for themselves in the field of journalism. Your guests are no exception.

"They have brought to their profession a particular sensitivity to human relationships and have been able to convey their understanding and knowledge to others through their readable and accurate reports of persons and events."

GOVERNOR Theodore McKeldin wrote a letter of congratulation, as did Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr.

Letters were also received from Miss Pat Meid, Sun Women's editor, and Mrs. Mildred Gearc of the News-Post, Mrs. Beryl W. Williams, president of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs, and Thomas Young, president of the Norfolk, Va. Journal and Guide.

Also extending congratulations by letter were State Senator Harry A. Cole; Art Carter, editor of the Washington AFRO; Congressman Adam C. Powell;

And Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the NAACP; Dr. Willard W. Allen, president of the Southern Life Insurance Company; the Alpha Kappa Alpha and Delta Sigma Theta sororities and Mrs. Anne Beadenkopf, a prominent local civic worker.

* * *

AMONG THOSE present were Mrs. Gwendolyn Norris, Norfolk, Va., president of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Virginia; Mrs. Thomas Madison Hill, B. and P. Ambassador of Good Will, Philadelphia;

And, Mrs. Eureka Whord, Philadelphia, national chairman of the awards and scholarship committee; and Mrs. Charlotte Meislahn, president of the Baltimore Bar Association;

Also present were Mrs. Nellie Buckey and Mrs. Virginia Rolder, supervisors of Home Economics in the local public schools and Mrs. Dorothy Smythe, of the U.S. Air Corps observer corps.

15th ANNUAL Sojourner Truth plaque for 'meritorious community service' went to Mrs. Elizabeth M. Phillips, extreme right, assistant to AFRO President, at Business and Professional Women's annual founders' day dinner Sunday in Baltimore. Dinner was attended by 450 and featured women of the press. Left to right, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Oliver, special AFRO writer who received special citation; Mrs. Lena J. Lee, president of B and P Club; Mrs. Lula Jones Garrett Patterson, AFRO Woman's editor, who got professional award. Mrs. Poppy Cannon White, N.Y. magazine foods editor, was guest speaker.
