Tough fight forecast for MSA track crown

By SAM LACY

In the opinion of one local authority, the 1958 championship in Maryland Scholastic Association track will be settled only after one of the most heroic scrapes in the history of the organization.

Carver High School coach Ed Smith, himself a track star during his collegiate days at University of Wisconsin, believes that Poly will enter the MSA championships as the favorite to win.

But the lithe ex-hurdler opines, "they can expect a pretty good fight" from several member schools.

CARVER, boasting one of the stronger teams in the schoolboy league, tangles with Poly this afternoon (Friday) at Carver Tuesday, the Trainers meet McDonogh and then next Friday (16th) they square off against Dunbar.

The MSA championships are scheduled for May 20, 21 and 24, probably at Kirk Field.

"Poly looks capable of entering the championships as the favorite," Smith told the AFRO Thursday, "largely because of her depth. They can pile up a lot of points on you in every event.

• • •

"I've got some fine boys, and we figure to win our share of first places. But whether we can hold our own down in the second, third and fourth positions, is something we'll have to see."

"I think we can beat McDonogh next week. Poly looks extremely tough today, and Dunbar will be a real toss-up. In that one, the first team to score 100 points might well come off with it."

• • •

INDICATIONS are that the championship meet will offer several lively competitions.

The sprints figure to be a ding-dong match between Carver's Gil Travers and City's Al Saperstein. Travers has a 10.2 century to his credit this spring but Saperstein whipped the Trainer ace in 10.4 the last time they met.

The City speedster has some classy support in Joe Grady and Mel Calliman, which bears out what Smith says about other schools being able to pile up points in certain events. Callaman has shown great promise since being elevated to the varsity after only two weeks on the jayvee squad.

Sylvester Gadsden is Carver's best hope after Travers in the speed events.

In the hurdles, Jimmy Howard, with a clocking of 16.7 at 120 yards, may not look back although City has a fine young tan fencer, Joe Johnson.

• • •

"ROYSTER of Dunbar may give Poly's Bob Johnson a battle in the discus. He has thrown 114 feet as against Johnson's 125 feet, but Royster is a late comer and has been improving steadily," observed Smith.

"I believe our Pete Dawson's mile will stand up. His 4:43.8 is the best time in the city, and he shouldn't have any trouble defending in that event. I think, too, that my kid, David Blackwell, will take the broad jump. He has a 20-11 mark, and his nearest rival, I'd think, is Art Polynowski of Mervo.

"As far as the 440 goes, it looks like a donnybrook between Wagner of City, the defending champ; my boy Lester Weight, and the Douglass kid, Whittle. Whittle was catching Wright at every stride when we met Douglass the other day."

• • •

ACCORDING to the Carver tutor, the mile relay also shapes up as an exciting test. Carver has a speedy foursome winner of one event in 3:39.6 recently.

"But I remember Smith, "Forest Park came right along later and beat us in 3:39.3, and on our track too."

Baltimore Giants to play Galesville

The Baltimore Giants will travel to Galesville, Md., Sunday afternoon to meet the Galesville Sox in a double-header.

The club will be under the management of Murray Watkings, one-time Newark Eagles and Baltimore Black Sox infield star.

Ex-Clowns inspire '58 players with OB feats

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — With baseball little more than a month old, former Indianapolis Clowns players are making their presence felt in the major leagues.

In the Northwest Class B League, outfielder Vardes Drake and Pitcher Mike Franks are reported doing "very well." Both are property of the Milwaukee Braves, and play regularly for Yakima (Washington) Bears.

Elsewhere, George Smith, an infielder and property of the Detroit Tigers, is anxious to return to the starting lineup and take up where he left off when injury sidelined him. Smith plays for the Durham Bulls of the Class B (Carolina) League.

• • •

WITH THE success of their former teammates in mind, players on the Clowns are making the scouts sit up and take notice of their talents as well.

The four-time Negro-American League champs swept their opening two games of the season beating the Los Angeles Hawks, 5-3, at Bartow, Fla., and 10-9 at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Sports scribes have made note of the fact that the Clowns outdrew all previous attendances of past years at Bartow, and seem bent on one of their biggest years at the gate.

Post office league sets softball play

4 DC high schools in CIAA track meet

WASHINGTON

Four public schools from the District are in the CIAA championships at Morgan State College in Baltimore, Saturday.

A crippled Cardozo team, upset in the American University Invitational Meet by Washington - Lee last Saturday, is a slight favorite to take the schoolboy end of the meet.

McKinley Tech, Phelps and Spingarn are to compete also.

An expected highlight is the much - talked about duel in the mile between Cardozo's Maurice McIntosh and Roland Wilkins of McKinley Tech.

Ring ratings show 5 tan champions

Latest ratings by the National Boxing Association disclose that colored fighters once more dominate the eight divisions of the fistic world.
