The Transcript.

R. H. COLLINS, T. D. BOWERS
EDITORS.

WE DO NOT believe that Mr. Beck and his faction will be able to carry Senator Smith through Kent county on the back of Senator Lee. The people of Kent county are for progressives and progressives only, and their indorsement of Senator Lee, not through any love for Senator Lee, but only for the purpose of pulling Smith through has fallen flat.

THE Centreville Observer is booming Mr. James T. Anthony, a prominent agriculturist and granger of Queen Anne's for president of the Maryland Agricultural College. Few men in this State know more about the agricultural needs of the people than does Mr. Anthony, and his connection with the State Grange, and kindred associations makes him a man worthy of serious consideration.

THE election of Willard Saulsbury to the United States Senate from Delaware is a distinct victory for progressive principles in the affairs of government. Mr. Saulsbury is an ardent advocate of the principles represented by President-elect Wilson, and his election is an evidence that the people not only believe in the policies of President Wilson, but that they mean to be represented in our halls of legislation by men who are in thorough accord with the interest of the people.

THE friends of Congressman Talbott in Carroll, Harford and Baltimore counties are offended with Senator Smith because of the fact that Senator Smith's friends on the Eastern Shore are endorsing Senator Lee for the short term Senatorship. They don't like the game Smith is playing. They censure Senator Smith because they declare that a word from him could have brought an endorsement of Congressman Talbott by his friends on the Eastern Shore. It begins to look more and more every day that Smith is playing the game for Smith and Smith only, and is using Senator Lee, where Lee is strong and Congressman Talbott, where Talbott is strong. In Dorchester, Worcester and Garrett counties where Senator Smith has powerful influences, he is "standing pat", giving his influence to no one knows whom. The question is will Senator Lee and Congressman Talbott allow their friends to be used in any such way.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION.

The question has been asked by numerous persons interested in the Senatorial contest, what will be the attitude of the hold over Senators. You know the primary election law requires that the delegates and Senators from each county must vote for those candidates receiving the largest number of votes in the respective counties. For instance should Senator Lee and Mr. Straus carry Queen Annes county, the representatives in that county in the Legislature will be required to vote for Senator Lee and Mr. Straus so long as there is a possible chance for these candidates to be elected. In certain counties in the State there are bold over Senators. Mr. Beck is one. The question is will Mr. Beck feel himself bound by the popular vote when he is not a candidate. Our opinion is that Mr. Beck will be required to vote for the popular choice for each term.

QUEEN ANNE'S FOR STRAUS AND LEE.

Political circles throughout the State were stirred last Saturday by the simultaneous endorsement by the Centreville Record and Centreville Observer, the leading Democratic papers in Queen Anne's county, of former Attorney General Isaac Lobe Straus for the long term Senatorship and Senator Blair Lee for the short term. The TRANSCRIPT however, is not at all surprised at the announcement for we have known for sometime that there is a powerful anti-Smith sentiment in the county among the farmers and men of influence. The endorsement of Straus and Lee by the Centreville papers is simply a recognition of the powerful sentiment against Smith, and if other papers on the Shore were bold enough to give recognition to the sentiment for progress and true Democracy in their counties, they would line up for any good and capable progressive, in perference to sacrificing the great interests of the people to the wishes of a politician who has had the best offices the people of this State can bestow.

HOW ROAD ENGINEER SPENDS MONEY.

It has been repeated to us several times during the week that a number of road workes have presented their bills to the road engineer during the past two weeks, and they have been met with this statement, I'll pay you a part now, and the BALANCE IN THE FALL. This lead us to ask Mr. Samuel Hicks, Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, for a statement showing the amonnt of money to the credit of the road engineer, or, in other words, how much the engineer has to spend on the roads in April, May and June, when the roads need the greatest amount of work. This statement of Mr. Hicks, which shows the amount spent by the road engineer since the striking of the levy in June last, and the amount to his credit is as follows:

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT
DEAR SIRS,—Your inquiry for the amount spent by the road engineer since the levy was struck in June 1912 with the amount at this time to his credit and the amount which it would be possible for him to have should all the taxes be paid, you will find below:

Amount allowed in levy	$21,236.21
Amount spent since levy by engineer	17,350.30
	$ 3,885.91
Amount now to credit of Isaac Gibbs, Road Engineer, collected and not spent	$2,250.00
Possible amount to be collected	1,635.91
	$3,885.9.

The above statement is interesting in view of the fact that the road engineer has spent already $17,350.30 since last June, and has only $3,885.91 to his credit with which to repair the roads in the spring. If this system of road management keeps up how long will it be before there are no roads in the county? That is a serious question to our tax-payers.

THE REACTIONARIES AND LOCAL OPTION.

ARTICLE 2.

In Which We Prove That Mr. Vickers Concealed From the People the Real Reason for the Failure of What He Calls His Bill to Pass the House in the Last Session.

We published last week the bill which Mr. Vickers says he drew up for passage in the last Legislature, and which we proved did not contain a single provision making it less difficult to secure evidence against violators of the local option law.

A month or so ago Mr. Vickers published the following in the Kent News:

HERE'S A FEW FACTS.

MESSRS. EDITORS KENT NEWS:

Gentlemen—For the benefit of the Editor of the Chestertown Transcript, who questioned my veracity, I will give the public some facts so that they may judge who is the truthful one in this controversy.

The Transcript said I never had drawn a Bill for the prevention of the sale of whiskey in Kent county.

I drew the Bill and Senator Beck introduced it in the Senate on January 31, 1912, it passed the Senate on February 15 as shown by the Senate Journal and from there it appears in the House of Delegates, as shown by the House Journal, of February 15th, on page 407, known as Senate Bill No. 61.

Messrs. Harris and Miller, as far as the records disclose never attempted to have it pass the House.

It was a local Bill and entirely up to them to pass or defeat it. The Kent News in their issue of 17th February published the Bill in full; the Baltimore Sun also published an account of the Bill being introduced in the Senate and then passing to the House.

Are these sufficient facts to convince the Gentleman of the Chestertown Transcript that he should be more careful when he accuses one of not being truthful?

If these are not sufficient, I will give him a little inside information to the effect that in his own honorable paper of February 3rd, he refers to the fact that Senator Beck had introduced this very Bill in the Senate.

One can hardly censure him for not keeping track of all he publishes.

Members of our Honorable Court have deplored the fact that this Bill was defeated as Kent county needs this law.

HARRISON W. VICKERS, JR.

We are perfectly frank to state that the editors of the TRANSCRIPT were not satisfied with Mr. Vickers' "facts," and we set about to learn the real reason of the failure of this bill to pass the House. We got our cue from Mr. Vickers' letter. He said, "Messrs. Harris and Miller, as far as the records disclose, never attempted to have it pass the House."

Mr. Miller was a member of the temperance committee in the House, and those who know Charlie Miller as well as we do, know that he is not the kind of man Mr. Vickers intimates that he is. Mr. Miller, Mr. Geo. W. Dexter and Mr. John C. Bentley, were the three members of that temperance committee whose record upon all temperance legislation was beyond reproach, and on the great local option fight these three men stood by their guns and brought in a minority report favorable to the local option measure. Why, then, should Mr. Miller want to defeat a bill that was for the moral and social welfare of his constituents?

We asked Mr. Miller to give us the correct reason for the failure of the Vickers bill to pass the House. Mr. Miller has been waiting to secure evidence in support of his position from those who know his position on legislation in the House. Here is Mr. Miller's statement. It is the most incriminating arraignment of those who have tried to make the people of this county believe they are strong advocates of local option, when the evidence of Mr. Miller, backed up by other testimony, proves that they have tried to deceive the people, and have been caught in the trap which they set for somebody else:

Gratitude, Md., Jan. 15, 1913.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Enclosed find a letter from Mr. Charles Newman, chairman of the House Temperance Committee. This is in answer to a letter asking him why the bill (meaning the Vickers bill) was brought out with an unfavorable report, WHEN HE HAD PROMISED HIS SUPPORT, and I also had a majority of the committee promise the same thing because it was a local bill. When the bill first came from the Senate I tried to get it before the committee at once, but the chairman (Mr. Newman) asked me to wait, AS HE HAD PROMISED SENATOR BECK TO SEE HIM BEFORE ACTING ON IT. I waited, and almost every day after I insisted that the bill be acted on, and was always answered with promises to do so. I WENT HOME ONE NIGHT AT MID-NIGHT BECAUSE I WAS TOO SICK TO STAY LONGER, AND I WAS TOLD NEXT MORNING THAT THE BILL HAD BEEN KILLED WITHOUT ANYONE BUT THE MAJORITY MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE KNOWING IT HAD A MEETING. Please publish this and also the enclosed.

Yours,
CHARLES L. MILLER.

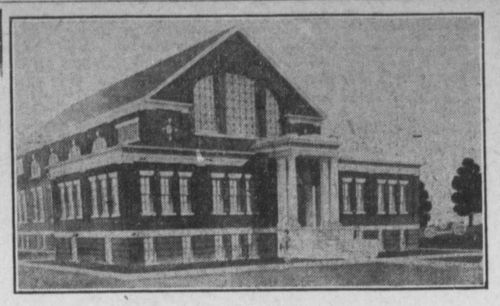

We want our temperance friends in Kent county to read this letter of Mr. Miller. We want them to know just how the Organization—with Mr. Beck and Mr. Vickers as the ring leaders has been tampering with the people of the county, and we want our temperance friends to know who their real friends are.

Will Mr. Beck tell his county people why he asked the chairman of the House committee to hold up Mr. Vickers' bill until the chairman heard from him, and then finally in the absence of Mr. Miller and his friends on the committee, to kill the bill by reporting it unfavorably after a majority of the committee had promised to report the bill favorably?

And will Mr. Vickers tell the members of our Honorable Court at the April term in open session, so that all may hear his confession, the actual truth as to why he wanted the county commissioners to appropriate money to employ a detective, and why his local option bill did not pass the House?

GREAT BLESSING TO THE TOWN

There is a moral and religious force at work in this community such as has not been experienced for years. We refer to the great revival now in progress in Christ M. P. Church under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Graham. More than 100 of the town's young men and women have been brought into the church, and the efforts of the meeting are being felt in almost every church in the county. The young people of our community are its future dependence. The moral and religious welfare of the future depends upon them, and if they can be saved to the church, and started on life's journey in the right way, who knows what a blessing and honor they may become? The church people of this town have a grave responsibility. We deplore conditions of immorality and vice around us, and yet how few, comparatively speaking, realize the necessity of surrounding the young with church influences as a preventive of youthful recklessness and sin. There is room for a great moral awakening in this community. Let the churches of all denominations realize their grave responsibility.

THE NEW WASHINGTON GYMNASIUM.

The new gymnasium at Washington College is now nearing completion, and the formal opening of the handsome building took place last evening. A reception was given, at which appropriate exercises were conducted for the formal opening of the gymnasium. At nine o'clock a dance was given, with refreshments.

The gymnasium will fill a long-felt want at the college, and has been planned not only to meet the present needs, but those of a good many years to come. The building consists of rooms and corridors in the front elevation with the main gymnasium in the rear. On the left upon entering are the director's office and trophy room, on the right is the storage and supply room. Downstairs are provided shower baths, toilets, lockers and dressing rooms. The building has been so arranged that two athletic teams can be accommodated downstairs. Upstairs are ample rooms and space for any other functions, social or academic, which the college may see fit to hold in that hall.

The building, in its simple elegance, harmonizes well with the other buildings of the college, and completes one side of the "open square" building scheme for the erection of college buildings. The structure will be completed at a total cost of about $35,000, and ranks with the most modern gymnasiums in the country. The architect was Mr. Hopkins, son of Mr. Harry J. Hopkins, of Annapolis, and the builder was Mr. John Waters, of Baltimore.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE CHESTERTOWN TRANSCRIPT:

Gentlemen:

Believing it will be a matter of general interest for the people of this county to know what money has been expended by the county Road Engineer on the roads and bridges of the First District, since the striking of the levy on June 9th, 1912, to January, 1913—six months—I requested Mr. Samuel Hicks, clerk to the County Commissioners, to give me a statement showing all the bills rendered for work, materials, etc., with names of parties. Below is Mr. Hicks' reply:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter received asking for the parties' names and the amounts which appear on the books in this office for work done on roads and bridges and material furnished for the First District since the striking of the levy in June last. They are as follows:

R. W. Johnson	$110.65	P. T. Jones	$ 111.95
Paul Dunn	18.80	Wm. Simpler	24.50
J. W. Naylor	11.50	Wm. H. Stradley	131.25
John Anthony	12.50	Clayton Johnson	36.75
John Johnson	9.00	Thos. Quinn	73.75
Adolphus Davis	238.90	T. J. Dunn	40.25
Duelley Everett	145.50	Isaac Gibbs	477.85
C. J. Connor	6.50	John Dixon	13.00
W. H. Riley	12 30	W. H. Burris	15.00
John Blanchfield	574 90	T. C. Roe, Jr.	105.30
W. B. Edwards	55.25	Clarence Maslin	3.09
E. Freeman	20.25	J. P. Ahern	507.68
Wm. Durham	65.80	Graham & Clements	29.70
Samuel Tibbett	80.75	L. Price	35.00
Wm. Gallager	30.00
J. D. Lucas	129.50	Total	$3,126.27

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL HICKS, Clerk.

The above is for not more than seven months' road work.

It will be remembered that the amount of the levy available for work and materials on the roads and bridges in Kent county for the year beginning June 9th, 1912, and ending June 8th, 1913, is $21,236.21. A glance at these expenditures, their character and scope in the First District, will show the tax-payers why our roads are neglected as they have been neglected. Indeed, from this it will be seen why many roads in the First District are in such shocking condition. As an instance, take the road which runs from Galena to Lambson's Station. Next week I shall publish the same information with reference to the Second District.

Yours very respectfully,
HOPE H. BARROLL.

Chestertown, Md., Jan. 30th, 1913.

Mrs. E. M. Gaylor, who has been quite ill at times for more than a year, is able to be about again. Dr. Nurkin was called in about ten days ago, and now Mrs. Gaylor is able to do without his care. This speaks well for Dr. Nurken. He has been very successful in his work.

Senator Harper May Be Candidate.

State Senator Frank Harper, of Queen Annes county, was in Baltimore on Wednesday, and it was rumored that he intended to be a candidate next fall for the state comptrollership. Some of the Eastern Shore Democratic leaders have urged him to announce his candidacy and before leaving Baltimore for home he said: "I have heard that I would be a candidate and some of my friends have urged me to run, but I cannot go further than that at this time."

Senator Harper attended a meeting of the Eastern Shore Hospital Commission in Governor Goldsborough's office. State Comptroller Harrington was there also, and after the meeting some one remarked to Mr. Harrington that "Greek met Greek." To this Mr. Harrington replied: "Well, Senator Harper is a mighty fine man."
