ANNAPOLIS DINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

"An Evening of Music. What a lovely thought and what an enjoyable way to spend an evening! . . . And that is just what many, many of the people of this community did on Friday evening.

Emily Thompson, piano teacher, presented her students in their first annual recital at the Bates High School Little Theater, and from what I am told, it was wonderful.

She was assisted by Leroy Berlag, guitar teacher and his students and Hemiz Reichert, assistant teacher.

To my regret I had a previous engagement. But from authoritative sources I learned there was a fine display of talent and technique.

Those who participated were:

Josephine Powell, Jacqueline Fisher, Lee West, Edwina Bullock, Joyce Tongue, advanced students (Charles Green, Carolyn McGowan, Lonnie and Aris T. Allen, Edward Sellman, Linda Hunt.

Also Karen Sargent, Doris Ricks, Georgiana Alsup, Joan Jemison, advanced student, Michael Johnson, Lester Mae Powers, Valerie Schmatz and Charles Simms.

Josephine Powell, advanced student, and daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Powell, received a special award for "outstanding work during the year."

The award was in the form of a small gold pin (a replica of a grand piano. Other students received report card certificates.

The beautiful flower decorations were arranged through the courtesy of Mrs. Theodore Johnson.

ONE OF THE outstanding events of the school year in the southern end of the county was the annual PTA dinner of the beautiful new Lula G. Scott Elementary School at Shady Side on Friday.

The hall was beautifully decorated in the dominating colors of pink and green, and in between the light fixtures hung bunches of odd-shaped balloons in a variety of pastel colors. Each table was centered by greenery and spring flowers and gardens of PTA members.

The dinner, which was well attended, was dedicated to the school faculty members.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Mary Campbell Brown of Annapolis, visiting teacher of Anne Arundel County.

Mrs. Brown centered her talk around the proper training of children and the importance of reading.

Greetings talks were given by Miss Sarah N. Jones of Baltimore, supervisor of schools in Anne Arundel County, Frank B. Butler of Annapolis, retired vice-principal of Bates High School, and Leon White of Glen Burnie, president of the country PTA.

The welcome address was given by Mrs. Dorothea Dennis, who also read original verses, composed in honor of the individual faculty members.

PIANO SOLOS were played by Mrs. Theresa Fountain and Mrs. William H. Richardson of Annapolis. Presentations were made by Mrs. Christolyne Scott.

The honorees were:

Mesdames Alice Holt Battle, principal, Olivia Thompson, Frances N. Brown, and Ethel DeAkson and Misses Marian Holt and Yvonne Holland.

Those at the guest table were:

The Rev. and Mrs. C. Y. Trigg, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Butler, Elmer Thompson, master of ceremonies, Mrs. Brown, Mr. White, Mrs. Eleanor Dotson of Glen Burnie and Mrs. Richardson.

The menu consisted of, tomato cocktail, chicken salad, ham, potato nests, string beans, hot rolls and butter, iced tea, apple and lemon meringue pie, mints and nuts.

Overall chairman for the affair was Mrs. Dorothea Dennis. Other chairmen and their committee members were as follows:

Food preparation: Daisy Thompson, chairman, Arvenia Crowner, Helen Gorham, Carrie Matthews, Rachel Salisbury, Eunice Nick, Jessie Brown and Geraldine Thompson;

Program: Margie Thompson, Lenora Crowner, Alice Battle, Yvonne Holland, Marion Holt and Frances Brown;

Publicity: Christolyne Scott, Credella Matthews, Roberta Thompson and Dorothea Dennis.

Decorations: Yvonne, chairman; Jean Johnson, Sarah Thompson, Dorrine Steward, Sadonia Gray, Frank Gross, Charles Crowner, Hazel Baker and Edith Gross.

Cleanup: Charlotte Hicks, chairman; Julia Crowner, Elizabeth Offer, Arnett Scott, Susie Thompson and Elizabeth Thompson.

Waiters and waitresses: Mrs. Hinds Thompson, Joy Crohner, Ella Mae Thompson, Diana Nick, Thomas Lee Thompson, Onthine Holland and Anthony Gowing.

THE STRAINS of beautiful dinner music and touches of art evidenced by floral arrangements and place-cards on the tables provided a wonderful setting for the teacher recognition dinner, sponsored by the Parole PTA Thursday evening at the school.

Frank B. Butler, retired vice-principal of Bates, was the guest speaker. A "Thank You" from the parents, presented by Mrs. Annie Grandison, and words of inspiration by the Rev. John T. Chambers, were also features of the program.

A highlight was presentation of a token of appreciation from the PTA to Mrs. Arilenia Parker, a third-grade teacher, who has served on the faculty of the school for 32 years, by Mrs. Evelyn Parker.

Those teachers in attendance were:

Walter S. Mills, principal; Jean Queen, vice-principal; Marita Carroll, Helen Chambers, Helen Cook, Aline Horsey, Mary Isaacs, Margaret Johnson, Patricia Makell, Mary Minor, Josephine Morselle, Paul Neale, Pearl Plattenburg, Mary Queen, Madeline Randolph, Melissa Sweney, Mary Swann and Ethel Thompson.

Other guests were Phillip Chambers, Mrs. Ruth Chambers, Mrs. Irene Mills, Lowndes Morselle, James Parker and Mr. and Mrs. James R. Webb. Mrs. Webb is school secretary.

THOMAS WATERS HARRIS 3rd, the little bundle of joy of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Waters Harris Jr. of Baltimore was christened by the Rev. I. R. Berry at Asbury Methodist Church on Sunday.

Godparents of little Thomas are Dr. and Mrs. Richard H. Hunt, also of Baltimore.

Others in the christening party from Baltimore were Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Crosby and Melvin Harris.

After the christening, the party joined the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waters Harris Sr. at their beautiful residence on West street.

Others present were Messrs. and Mesdames James Parker and Ernest Harris.

Mesdames Louise Burton, Lulu Hardesty, Beulah Diggs, Margaret Quillen, Geraldine Scott and Sarah Kane, Dr. Faye Allen and Miss Marita Carroll attended the North Atlantic Regional meeting of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority in Phily.

They are all members of Delta Pi Omega Chapter of Annapolis.

The regional meeting was also attended by Mrs. Harriet Wayman, who was a delegate from her graduate chapter, Delta Sigma Omega of Maryland State College.

Accompanied by her husband, Charles M. Wayman, they spent the entire weekend at the Penn - Sherwood.

FASHION - MINDED people had a great opportunity to enjoy a parade of fashions last week at Asbury Methodist and First Baptist Churches.

At Asbury the show was sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Cooke and Mrs. Maud Jones and Ursula Chambers.

The Rev. I. R. Berry is pastor.

Mrs. Corina Knight sponsored her first annual spring hair style and fashion show at the Baptist Church in the in-
