Dad admits he left two sons

BULLETIN

On Tuesday night an AFRO reporter found Kurry Armstrang, 23, in a third-floor apartment at 1427 N. 16th St., Philadelphia.

He admitted he is the father of the two youngsters he took to police on Friday with the statement that they were abandoned by an unidentified man.

Another admission was that although he stated his correct name, he gave a former address.

On paper the police message relayed from the 19th and Oxford Sts. station to City Hall communications center read: "23rd (district) — Abandonment — Taken to Children's Reception Center, 1823 Callowhill St. — Two boys. No. 1 — About three years old, two feet, 10 inches tall, weighing 32 pounds.

"Light brown hair, brown eyes — brown complexion — yellow shirt — blue pants — brown shoes.

"No. 2 — About 18 months old, two feet tall, weighing 20 pounds. Light brown hair, brown eyes — red and white shirt, blue pants — white shoes.

"Left in barber shop, Ridge and Master, by a man, 9:30 p.m., Friday, June 6.

"Both in good physical condition."

In person at the reception center, just as the similar physical descriptions in the police message suggest, the two tots appear to be brothers.

On Saturday afternoon, when asked if the smaller youngster is his brother, the larger one's answer was a string of words that left attendants wondering what he was saying.

WHEN ONE of the aides took hold of the "spokesman," led him to the younger child and asked the question while pointing, his answer was an almost unintelligible "yes." His nodding was unmistakably in the affirmative, however.

Up to that time, this was the only conversation the attendants and the foundlings had been able to get across to each other.

Although the larger one was talkative in what definitely sounded like every-day English, there was something about his speech that just did not get his words over to listeners. Still there was no suggestion of a lisp or any such impediment.

When contacted on Monday afternoon, attendants said they were still straining their ears to no avail to learn the boys' names.

The clean-cut youngsters have earmarks of having been well cared for. They did not appear to be frightened by strangers or strange surroundings.

The tykes seemed more afraid less they topple off the hobby horses they were coaxed to ride while being photographed. They did not flinch at the flash of the camera. Nor did they whimper or attempt to pull away when approached or fondled by persons they had never seen before.

Meanwhile, officers of the Juvenile Aid Bureau were trying to establish their identity.

ANDRE DEHLIN

Salesman meets reverse jim crow in local bar

By STEVE DUNCAN

That a public accommodations law would work to the mutual advantage of white as well as colored Baltimoreans was vividly demonstrated last weekend by the experiences of a Louisiana magazine subscription salesman here.

Andre Dehlin, 23, a fair, Alexandria, La., creole, tells the story of meeting jim crow in reverse on Friday afternoon.

It all happened in a Caroline St. tavern which caters to colored imbibers after Mr. Dehlin had entered to buy a soft drink (he doesn't touch hard liquor) and to listen to some music.

THE SALESMAN said he went to the bar to quench his thirst and the white bartender refused to wait on him, stating, "We don't sell to whites in here. It's a colored place. It caters to colored people."

With a hint of patois in his delivery the much traveled Mr. Dehlin said the bartender then recommended that he go across the street to a delicatessen for his drink.

"I explained to him that I was colored," said Mr. Dehlin. "He still refused to sell me anything."

SOMEWHAT resigned but amused ("It happens all the time"), Mr. Dehlin contacted Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the Baltimore NAACP, and told her his story.

"There's no such thing as a white tavern or a colored tavern in Maryland," Mrs. Jackson, who observed that the late Walter White (of the NAACP) "had blue eyes but he was colored."

Mr. Dehlin, who has been in Baltimore two weeks and expects to be here another week, said he has encountered similar incidents in Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Ohio.

He is employed by the National Trade Publications Service, Inc., with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

MR. DEHLIN said he has been employed as a salesman since he was 15 years old and his travels have carried him to all of the States except Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Massachusetts.

In an aside to his experience with reverse - English jim crow here, Mr. Dehlin said:

"I'm very proud to be what I am. I usually let people take me as they want to take me.

"How are his Baltimore subscription sales coming along?

"I've gotten a lot of orders here."

Carter to box Besmanoff on TV tomorrow

NEW YORK — Harold Carter of the boxing scene and home television screens tomorrow (Friday) night at Madison Square Garden.

Carter, a 24-year-old heavyweight, will face German Willi Besmanoff, 25-year-old baker from Munich, in a scheduled ten-rounder.

The highly regarded New Jersey hope has not been seen in the ring since he interrupted a four-bout winning streak to enter the armed services. That was in January, 1957.

Carter ran up his string by knocking out Bob Satterfield, and decisioning Johnny Summerlin, Young Jack Johnson and Bob Baker.

Carters record shows twenty-two victories, two losses and two draws. He has knocked out ten of his foes.

BESMANOFF has been campaigning steadily in this country since his arrival from Germany in 1957.

He fought mostly as a light heavyweight in Europe but has grown into a fullfledged heavyweight since his arrival here.

As a professional, the German has won thirty-seven bouts, lost eleven, and fought seven draws. He has knocked out fourteen rivals.

Seagram's 94 Proof Gin in the new Form-Fit Half-Pint Flask
with the Golden Cup-Cap

At first taste you know it's rare—no other gin comes up to Seagram's Golden Gin.

It's the only gin that comes with its own carrying flask—with a cap that serves as a "shot-glass"—or a measure for making mixed drinks.

It's the livelier-flavored 94 proof gin that lets you see how mellow and rare it really is. The rich golden color tells you that. It is Nature's way of saying, "This gin wasn't made in a day."

Why settle for less? If you haven't yet tried Seagram's Golden Gin, you should. You'll like everything about it—the flavor, the flask, and the proof.

Say Seagram's and be Sure

ETHEL ENNIS

Ethel Ennis rides to Brussels on talent, charm

The people that know her say she deserves every bit of the fame and adulation that has come her way.

That's not just because fortune smiled on a beautiful and talented Ethel Ennis.

Back home after a trip abroad to the World's Fair in Brussels, with swinging band leader, Benny Goodman, her singing career has been really launched into orbit.

Not only did her audiences love her, but critics as well.

"The critics gave very favorable reviews," she said and added:

"They said I was a cross between Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughn and Peggy Lee.

"I don't know where they got that from but as long as they put me in good company, it's okay."

HER BEST AND MOST appreciative audience, says Miss Ennis, was in Berlin.

"The ovation was terrific, lasted about 10 minutes. I tried to learn to say 'thank you' in the language of each audience, and of course that helped, the applause she said modestly this week.

For the program that captivated the Berlin audience, Miss Ennis opened with "Lucky Day," sang a medley and closed with "There's no Fool Like an Old Fool," a number from an album she completed before leaving Baltimore. It will be released in the fall.

Of all the countries she visited, coy girl Ethel decided she liked Switzerland best of all.

"I loved it! Switzerland was so picturesque — the country-side, farmland — and so clean," she said.

"Geneva is pretty, Zurich is nice, but Switzerland is so pretty — I'd like to go again."

With her appetite for travel whetted, Ethel plans to stay in Baltimore about two weeks when she will trot off again to see "what the booking agency has lined up."

IN ADDITION to the broadening effect of the trip, Miss Ennis says it also helped her become associated with a top-flight booking agency.

The booking agency, she confides, "has something lined up for me now, and I am waiting to see what they will offer."

(Other stars of her new agency, GAC, are Nat "King" Cole and Patti Page).

Still insisting she is "the 'homey type,'" Ethel, who is Mrs. Jacques (attorney) Leeds at home, says her greatest ambition now is to build a home but not in the near future.

"Right now," she continued, "I want to rest and get myself together."

"I WANT TO WORK and get to the point where I can make recordings, a few personal appearances a year and stay home with my husband — make a good wife and mother."

However, says Mrs. Leeds, she is not planning to sponsor the appearance of any little Leedses in the near future.

At home or abroad, Mrs. Leeds' charm, personality and talent should take her a long way.

Meanwhile, she says she will concentrate on being "a good housewife."

NAVY BAND CONCERTS

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Navy Band will give summer concerts in July and August, from the Capitol steps on Monday nights and at the Watergate on Thursday nights, under commander Charles Brendler.

Vacationland Notes

By MELVINA A. JACKSON

BUDGETING FAMILY VACATION CAN HELP MAKE DOLLARS GO FARTHER.

Vacation budgeting for the family can mean the difference between a holiday that ends as happily as it started for all and one that brings the family back home disappointed and disgruntled.

Basic elements are few and can be worked out in advance. By doing so the vacation bound family automatically adjusts its plan so that neither the distance to be travelled nor the pleasures to be anticipated outstrip the capacity of dad's purse.

For Family of Four—assuming the family to be made up of four—dad, mom, sis and brother—and starting by being fairly liberal in your estimates, here's how to tackle the simple task:

First, since car operation may be estimated at 3 cents a mile and since 300 miles of driving a day is considered the maximum for safety and pleasure, allow $9 for travel. And remember, there's no law that says you must make 300 miles a day. Better to make less.

Second, since there are better places available for eating accommodations, all over the country now, play safe with the anticipated cost of food by figuring at least 75 cents a person for breakfast and also for lunch and a minimum of $1.50 for dinner, or $12 a day.

Somewhere in these figures there should be room for a fancy meal or two along the way.

THIRD, CONSIDER overnight accommodations. Hotels, motels and tourist homes are listed in the AFRO TRAVEL GUIDE and if you will check very carefully this "8th Wonder of the World," BEFORE you start on your trip, you will save yourself needless headaches.

Rates will run from $4 to $10 a day with cots put in for the kids at little extra cost. Budgeting for lodging at $8 a day is considered wise.

Next comes the item, frequently overlooked, which makes way for Amusements and Admissions.

In Washington, D.C., for example a visit to Ford's Theatre where Lincoln was shot costs a dime, and riding to the top of Washington's monument another dime. To enter Mount Vernon, the home of Washington, costs 42 cents plus tax. Better figure $2 a day at least for the family.

HAVE A buffet. Then there are roadside refreshments which bring a pause in travel, as well as a moment in which to quench your thirst. Add $1 a day here.

On the basis of the above, the family can spend a week happily and comfortably on a budget of around $250 or two weeks on a budget of $450.

It is advisable, however, to have a budget buffer along, perhaps in another fold of the wallet, for use in event of emergency; a new tire and tube, for instance, may make it necessary for you to dig in.

And don't forget to make provision for such things as post cards, stamps, souvenirs and, of course, camera film on which to record all the fun you're going to have.

Safe driving!

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
