THE RELIGIOUS WORLD.

Do not forget the entertainment to be given in Firemen's Hall next Tuesday evening by Miss Harriet Marine, the well-known and popular elocutionist of Baltimore. You will enjoy an interesting and profitable evening. The entertainment will be given under the auspices of the ladies of Christ M. P. Church. Mr. George Morror, city editor of Baltimore Sun, says: "I know of no amateur who is her equal, nor any professional for that matter. Her natural talents have been carefully trained and her intelligence can always be relied upon. She will exceed her promises, and unless I am mistaken, your expectations."

The Sunday school classes taught by Mrs. Stewart Matthews and Miss Mayme Thompson will give a fine entertaiment in Firemen's Hall in the near future. Particulars next week.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham, the popular pastor of Christ M. P. Church, has been confined to his bed during the week with a severe attack of laryngitis. Dr. Graham contracted a heavy cold during the great revival, and he was unable to fill his pulpit last Sunday. Mr. Wm. A. Wheatley conducted the morning services, and gave a most interesting address, while Rev. G. A. Morris, of St. James', had charge of the evening service and preached a magnificent sermon. Eleven persons were received into church membership.

Salem M. E. Church.—Preaching at 10.45 by Rev. O. H. Connelly, of Piney Neck; 7.30 P. M. by pastor.

Union M. E. Church.—Preaching at 3 P. M. by pastor.

Presbyterian Services.—Georgetown, 10.30; Kennedyville, 2.45; Worton, 7.30. The pastor and people of the above churches cordially invite all to their services, and especially those who have not yet indentified themselves with any church. All such will find a hearty welcome. The pastor will endeavor to preach short, sharp, interesting and restful sermons, and will also strive to make the music attractive.

Chestertown M. E. Church, Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D. Pastor—Services next Sunday, Feb. 23rd, as follows: 10.30 A. M., preaching by the pastor. Subject, "The Four Anchors"; 2.30 P. M., Sabbath School and Pastor's Bible Class; 7.00 P. M., Epworth League song service, followed by preaching by the pastor. Subject, "Moses Leading the Children of Israel Across the Red Sea." All invited. On Friday evening, at 7.30, the pastor will meet the converts and any others who may wish to come in the Lecture room. An interesting time is expected.

Kennedyville Methodist Protestant—Church services for Sunday, Feb. 23rd, Sunday School, 9.30 A. M.; John Medders, Superintendent; Sermon at 10.30 A. M., followed by a meeting of the qualified members under the direction of the board of stewards for the election of delegate to the coming annual conference to meet in the city of Lynchburg April 2nd. The Fourth Quarterly Conference at 7.30 will be held in the parsonage of the church in case Mr. Cleaver be unable for the conference to meet in his home as announced. The C. E. service for Sunday evening, on The Life and Mission of David Livingstone in Africa, will be led by Mrs. Mullineaux, followed by a brief sermon on the topic by the pastor. A full attendance is solicited. All welcome. Special music.

Piney Neck M. E. Church, Rev. O. H. Connelly, pastor—Services on Sunday, Feb. 23rd, as follows: Sunday School, 2 P. M.; 7.00 P. M., Epworth League; 7.30 P. M., preaching. Subject, "The Lord's Prayer," No. 6.

Grange Notes.

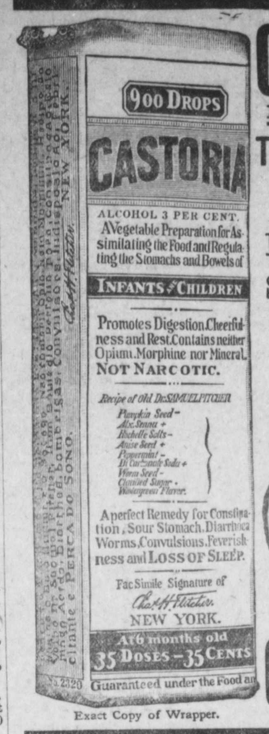

We regret very much that we were compelled to omit our Grange Notes last week. All of them were extremely interesting and profitable reading. Late arrivals of advertisements, however, compelled the omission of much reading matter. We cannot forbear the publication this week of the very interesting discussion of the question, "To What Extent Should Agriculture be Taught in our Public Schools", by Mr. A. M. Kendall, of the Fairlee Grange at its last meeting. Mr. Kendall said:

"I am of the opinion that agriculture should be taught in the public schools of the county, not those in the city, however, to the extent of thorough botanical and chemical courses. Laboratories should be provided and the studies properly taken up. Thus the pupils will be enabled to obtain rudimentary or elementary knowledge of plant life. They will be made familiar with the elements that are necessary for the proper development of that life. The knowledge thus obtained may be somewhat theoretical and perhaps not very practical. To equalize this there should be an Agricultural College in every State, distinctly a State institution. Those intending to follow the vocation of a farmer, should finish their agricultural education there, where means should be provided to make practical as well as theoretical agriculturists. A manual training department has been granted our county high schools, teaching almost exclusively the use of mechanical tools. In our country schools, perhaps two thirds of the children when grown become farmers, so an education pertaining to agriculture should certainly be obtainable rather than that pertaining to the use of tools. My solution of the problem is: drop the manual training department in the country schools, append chemical laboratories and other necessary agricultural appurtenances in place thereof. Manual training as taught in the county now, would be a better adjunct to the city school and all right for the country school too, but in the event of not having each, use the agricultural courses suggested in the country schools where there are so many more prospective farmers than mechanics and the manual training courses in the cities where mechanical industries predominate.

Sassafras, Md., Feb. 10, 1913.

Sassafras Grange met at the home of Mr. Rosin Monday night, Feb. 10, with a goodly number present. Mrs. Robert Johnston and Mrs. Sam Massey gave readings from an article by Prof. E. J. Ward, of the University of Wisconsin, on the fuller use of the public schools by the rural population and what might be accomplished thereby. Reading, "Successful Co-operation by Farmers of Mammouth County, N. J.," by Worthy Master Johnston. Music from grange melodies. There was quite a spirited discussion as to the need of better school facilities for the pupils of the upper end of the county. There are now three children driving daily from here to Massey that they may go through the eighth and ninth grades. Next year there will be four more from this school who will be compelled to do the same thing or stop school. When they finish at Massey we will not know what to do with them as we are unwilling to send children of fourteen or fifteen away to board in the city even were we able to do so as some of us are not. It was the general opinion that we should have another teacher in our school here so that our children might be taught the eighth, ninth and tenth grades without having to be sent away from home.
