Monarchs, Red Sox play for NAL lead

The Kansas City Monarchs, 1957 Negro American League champions, make their first appearance in a Baltimore ball park in six years when they meet the league-leading Memphis Red Sox in a night game at Westport Stadium tonight (Friday) at 8:15 p.m.

The Monarchs are not ugly famous in their own right but have the tremendous distinction of having sent more players to the major leagues than any other team.

Satchel Paige, Hank Thompson, Ernie Banks, Gene Baker, Elston Howard and Willard Brown, among many others, reached the big leagues from a Monarch berth.

Only last year, the New York Yankees purchased Ira Mc-Knight, catcher, from the Monarchs.

THE MONARCHS will present a team on which only two players are 23 and over. Bell Bell Washington, 3rd baseman, is just 23 years old, and Willie Brown, outfielder, is 25. The rest of the club ranges in age from 18 to 21. Ted Rasberry's team, managed by Dizzy Dismutes, has youth, speed and power.

Memphis, piloted by Rufus Lipon, has already displayed a highlight ball club here, including Lonnie Harris, the center-fielder who stole five bases in one game.

Memphis also boasts Roy (Doc Q) Beach, the league's strikeout king, and James Banks, heavy-hitting first baseman.

WILLARD BROWN, who with Hank Thompson, was the first Negro to be signed by an American League Club—the St. Louis Browns—is the only veteran in the lineup of the Monarchs.

Brown, at 35, the grand father of the squad, is still a fence-busting outfielder. He is batting well over .340 and leads the league in home runs.

The infield has John Self, of Philadelphia, at first, Ozzie Tedmore, of Cleveland, at second and Willie Washington, of Detroit, at third, with Jim Robinson, of New York City, at short.

THE OUTFIELD has Bill White, of St. Louis, Brown, and Willie Lee, White leads the league in triples. Ira McKnight, Al Jackson and John Banks, heavy-hitting first baseman, make up the catching department.

Pitchers include Aubrey Gatsby, a left hander from Birmingham, Ala., who is 4-0 this year and looks like a sure thing for major league scouts. He is a fast ball pitcher. Ben Adams and Frank McCollum are two of the best curve ball pitchers in the league.

Calhoun wins nod from Boyd

CHICAGO — Rory Calhoun made his November win over Bobby Boyd stick here at the Stadium Wednesday night, but had to withstand a furious rally by the local middleweight to do it.

The Atlanta, Ga., youngster, winner of a knockout victory over Boyd in New York's Madison Square Garden seven months ago, took the nationally-televised bout via unanimous verdict.

CALHOUN SCORED two knockdowns, one in the second and another in the ninth. But Boyd recovered well after each and kept his foe in hot water all the way. Rory is ranked seventh among the middleweights and was favored to win.

Bobby unleashed a withering barrage in the eighth round and was a relentless fighter in the tenth, but his adversary had enough to hold the edge in the eye of the officials.

Referee Wally Brightmore scored 48-42 for Calhoun; judge Jim McManus had Calhoun the winner by a 47-43 margin. Judge John Bray made it closer than either of the others, tallying 45-44.

Boyd's eighth ranking was not hurt by the loss, so close did he make it.

FIRST ROUND OPPONENTS — Pictured are victor and vanquished in one of first round matches of the Maryland State Junior tennis championships. Arthur Ashe (left) of Richmond, Va., scored a 6-1, 6-1 win over Ricky Bazelon of Washington, D.C. D'Amato agrees Aug. 18 title bout

LOS ANGELES (AND) — Cus D'Amato, Floyd Patterson's controversial manager said Aug. 18 is agreeable to him as a compromise date for the proposed heavyweight title fight between Patterson and challenger Roy Harris of the California Boxing Commission.

The fight is to be held under auspices of an unidentified promoter. Al Weill, former International Boxing Commission official, had sought to promote the bout but was turned down by the California Boxing Commission.

D'AMATO okeyed the Aug. 18 offer, saying the date is acceptable to him if the Olympic auditorium promotion could move the Aug. 28 Carmen Basilio-Art Aragon welterweight tussle back to September.

The Olympic group also has a heavyweight bout between Zora Folley and Pete Rademacher slated for July 24.

Patterson has been ordered to defend his title by September or forfeit recognition by the World Boxing commission.

Orioles-Sox game slated as Mercy Hospital benefit

"Play ball with Mercy" will be the cry that will open the Baltimore Orioles — Chicago White Sox game July 17.

The game will be under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of Mercy Hospital, with proceeds going to the Mercy Hospital Building Fund.

Over a million patients have been treated at Mercy since it opened its doors in 1874. All of these patients have been treated in the present buildings which date back to 1869, with the newest one being constructed in 1911.

Proceeds from the Mercy Night Game will be used to help construct the new ultra-modern, 21-story, 400-bed hospital that will continue to serve the "heart of the city."

12 tan athletes qualify for July Moscow trip

BAKERSFIELD, Cal. — Twelve colored athletes will be included on the American track and field team that will take off from New York next week for Moscow, where international competitions are slated for the first time behind the Russian iron curtain.

Four sprinters, three hurdlers, three jumpers and two distance harriers will comprise the lan contingent of eleven.

SIX OF THE number qualified for the trip by winning individual titles in the National AAU championships here last weekend (June 20-21). The other six won places because they finished second in their respective specialties.

Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan College, captured the 120-yard high hurdles crown on Friday night. And Charley Dumas and Ernie Shelby took the high jump and broad jump the same evening. Dumas represented the Los Angeles Striders coached by ex-Olympian Mal Whitfield, and Shelby competed in the colors of Kansas University.

THE THREE other individual championships were annexed the following night (Saturday). They went to Ira Davis of LaSalle, in the hop, step and jump, Charley (Deacon) Jones of Iowa, in the 3,000-meters steeplechase, and Fran Washington of Winston-Salem Teachers College, in the 220-yard low hurdles.

Jones set a new record in winning the obstacle race, in which he was defending champion. The spindly Hawkeye broke the tape in 8 minutes, 57 3/5 seconds, to lower the mark of 9:04.1, registered by Horace Ashenfelter in 1956.

Phil Coleman of the Chicago Track and Field Club, made it a one-two finish 18 the difficult steeplechase event by chasing Jones into the wire.

WASHINGTON'S triumph in the low hurdles was one in which the first four men to crack the wire were colored.

Following the young CIAA champion past the finishing judges were Ancel Robinson of Fresno State College, Dick Howard of L. A. Striders, and Willie May of the Chicago Track Club, in that order.

Because the Russo-American competitions will not include the non-Olympic low hurdles event, Washington did not make the squad.

Robinson however, earned the trip on the basis of his second to Hayes Jones in the high hurdles race.

DECATHLON contestants for the meet will be selected later. Except for them, the American squad will be made up of the following:

SPRINTS—Ira Murchison, Willie White, Glenn Davis and James Segrest.
400 METERS — Eddie Southern, Charley Jenkins.
800 METERS. — Tom Courtney, Mike Peake.
1500 METERS—Ed Morgan, Jim Grelle.
5000 METERS — Bill Dellinger, Max Truex.
10,000 METERS — Gordon Mc-Kenzie, Jerry Smartt.
2000-METER STEEPLECHASE—Charley Jones, Phil Coleman.
HIGH HURDLES—Hayes Jones, Ancel Robinson.
400-METER HURDLES—Glenn Davis, Josh Culbreath.
BROAD JUMP — Ernie Shelby.
HIGH JUMP — Charley Dumas, Paul Stuber.
POLE VAULT — Ron Morris, Jim Brewer.
HOP, STEP AND JUMP — Ira Davis, Ken Flores.
SHOT PUT — Parry O'Brien, Dallas Long.
DISCUS — Rink Babka, Al Oerter.
JAVELIN — Bud Held, Al Campello.
HAMMER THROW — Harold Connolly, Al Hall.
440-METER RELAY — Ed Collymore, plus other sprinters.
MILE RELAY — Jack Yerman, 200-KILOMETER WALK — Roland Laird, Jim Heason.
plus other 400-meter runners.

HIKE FOR OLLIE. —Ollie Matson, signed last week by the Chicago Cardinals, is said to have received a substantial boost in pay. The crack halfback went from a 1957 salary of $18,000 to an estimated $20,000 for 1958.

Althea advances at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England—Althea Gibson, defending women's tennis champion, entered the fourth round of singles play in the All-England tournament here Thursday.

Miss Gibson scored a straight-set triumph over Yola Ramirez, veteran Mexican racquetter, though hard pressed in the first set. The score was 9-7, 6-2.

MISS GIBSON breezed through the first round of play on Tuesday, trouneing Margaret Hellyer of Australia, 6-4, 6-2.

The 30-year-old Harlem queen, obviously determined to take no side-tracking in quest of her second consecutive world title, crushed her outclassed rival in less than 30 minutes.

Miss Gibson opened service at 11:31 a.m., local time, and was shaking hands with Miss Hellyer as the noon time signal was given on Big Ben.

As is the custom at Wimbledon, the women's championships are contested on alternate days with play in the men's division.

For that reason, Althea idled on Wednesday and was not scheduled to see action today (Friday).

Tan fan raps All-Star riffle

At least one colored citizen has joined the ranks of disgruntled fans who are protesting the alleged "fast shuffle" given local customers in the allotment of tickets for the Major League All-Star baseball game.

Charles Downes, 1610 Broadway, says he has no doubt that he was treated unfairly by the Baltimore Orioles, whose office is charged with the responsibility of selling the precious duplicate.

"Newspaper photographs of June 6," Mr. Downes told the AFRO early this week, "showed the line of fans who were first to mail their applications. There was only one colored person in the picture, and that was me."

Although he says the newspaper photos are proof of his presence among the first 50 or more persons to mail applications in accordance with the rules set down by the Orioles, Mr. Downes says he has received a form letter telling him it is too bad he was too late.

Several Baltimoreans have threatened to sue the Birds. Mr. Downes says at least two of these threats came from men who were in the group with him at the Central Post Office depositing station at midnight June 5.

Mr. Downes informs the AFRO that he has no intention of resorting to legal action, but says: "It will be a long time before I forget what the Orioles did to me."

LONDON — Hogan (Kid) Bassey tuned up for an upcoming American defense of his world featherweight title here Tuesday, by stopping Jules Touan of South Africa, in seven rounds.

The titleholder from Nigeria floored his young rival five times in the final round. He is slated to leave for the United States shortly to engage in a title match in late July.

BRC tennis deadline July 10th

The Baltimore Racquet Club announced early this week that deadline for entries in its 14th annual tennis tournament will be midnight of July 10.

Through secretary Jacqueline Cooke, the BRC stated that the tourney will begin at 10 a.m., July 21, and continue to July 13, inclusive. Play will be held on the Druid Hill Park Public courts, recently reconditioned with the aid of an appropriation by the city government.

Applications are being received by Wesley Stubbs, 2907 Gwynns Falls Parkway.

A lawn party is planned for Saturday night, July 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dorsey, 16 Garnet Ave., Catonsville, the BRC announcement also stated.

Paced by triplewinner Carl Party, the Baltimore Olympic Club copped the eighth annual D.C. Recreation Department Track and Field Meet by a narrow 5½ points at McKinley Tech, Saturday.

2 of 6 starters still in Md. junior tennis

By SAM LUCY

Arthur Ashe, 15-year-old tennis protege from Richmond, Va., and Horce (Red) Cunningham of Lynchburg, moved into the semi-finals of the Maryland State Junior championships at Clifton Park Thursday afternoon.

Ashe, who is favored to win the 15-and-under singles crown, whipped Ron Murphy of Chevy Chase Country Club, 6-1, 6-0. Cunningham came from behind to take a three-set match from Jim Busick of Salisbury, 5-7, 6-4, 6-0.

TWO OTHER tan entrants were eliminated just prior to a downpour that washed out the late evening program.

Bill Neilson of Hampton, Va., bowed to the District schoolboy champion and the No. 1 seed, Peyton Howard of Bethesda, Md., 6-1, 6-3. And Ethel Reid, the lone colored contestant in the girl's division, dropped a 6-4, 6-2 match with Susan Southmayd of York, Pa.

The remainder of the field of over 150 contestants are white.

ASHE SCORED early wins over Ricky Bazelon of Washington, D.C., and Vaughn Baker of Philadelphia.

The spindly, 95-pound, 15-year-old was well under wraps as he ran through Bazelon, 6-1, 6-1. Pressed a little more closely by Baker, Ashe exhibited a keen knowledge of baseline play and a wide assortment of strokes. The score over Baker was 6-3, 6-3, but there were moments when the winner appeared as though he might be experimenting with his game, looking past the match to the more crucial rounds.

NEILSON likewise hung up Tuesday and Wednesday victories. The Hampton youth, chief rival of Ashe for the American Tennis Association's top rating, bested Henry Hopkins of Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School, 6-2, 6-2, in the opening round, then survived the second stanza with a 6-3, 6-2 triumph over Frank Goeltz of College Park, Md.

Neilson was back on the court late Wednesday to gain his third score in the week. This time, calling on his best brand of tennis, Bill whipped Joel Polin of Salisbury, Md., 6-2, 6-1.

DANIELS also was a two-time winner before being eliminated in Wednesday's play by the No. 1 seeded entry, Peyton Howard of Chevy Chase, Md.

Rebon opened with an easy 6-0, 6-1 victory over Vaughn Baker who, like Ashe was playing also in the 15-and-under division of the competitions. It is thus explained how Baker was loser to both Ashe and Daniels.

Daniels won by default from Richard Kolker of Baltimore.

The former lost to Hugh Lynch of Georgetown Prep, bowed to Ogden Phipps of Bethesda, Md., 6-4, 6-4; Daniels Deerfield Academy, Mass., 6-1.

Williams was turned back by Douglass Stewart of Albuquerque, New Mexico, 6-2, 6-4, and Cunningham was defeated by Chris Holme of Exeter Academy, 6-4, 6-4. Holme was seeded fourth in the drawings.

"Oh, heavens no!"

PLAY IN singles and doubles was scheduled to continue into the weekend.

The six tan contestants are here under the guidance of Dr. R. Walter Johnson of Lynchburg, Va., director of the youth development program of the American Tennis Association.

Dr. Johnson also serves as coach of the group. He is best known for the work he did in the early development of Althea Gibson. Ashe is in his fourth year with the Lynchburg physician.

LAST WEEK, Ashe became the first tan contestant in the last six years to reach the third round of the National Scholastic tournament, promoted at the University of Virginia by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

After winning his first-round match from Francisco Montana of Coral Gables, Fla., Arthur whipped Gary Adelman of Milwaukee, 6-4, 6-2. He was ousted in the third heat by Drayton Nabers of Birmingham, Ala., the Eastern scholastic champion. Nabers, who was third seeded in the tourney, won by 6-2, 6-3.

NEILSON, DANIELS, Williams and Cunningham also played in the national meet at Charlottesville.

Orioles bonus boy at SD farm

ABERDEEN, S.D. — Joe Pulliam, 18-year-old outfielder signed by the Baltimore Orioles for their local Northern League farm, reported to the club here late Thursday.

Pulliam, better known among his Dunbar High School (Baltimore) classmates as a basketball player, was given a $5,000 bonus by the Orioles late last week. He left Baltimore Tuesday afternoon by train.

Pulliam, who was an all-city performer in the Maryland Scholastic Association cage loop, impressed Orioles scout Fritz Maisel with his right-handed power and general defensive talents.

Both Maisel and coach Sugar Cain of Dunbar, agree that the youngster has the potential for a career in pro baseball.
