The spring presents the best time to buy your home or an investment in land.

I have 30 valuable farms in Kent alone, which can be bought at prices that will make these propositions superior to anything in which you could invest for a sure, steady investment.

These farms are for sale, not put up because they are worthless, but because the owners, for reasons of health, or too much land to till, or wanting a smaller farm, or too much in debt, are in a measure compelled to sell.

The list I can submit you is the result of careful investigation, and contains tracts of land that will prove a profitable investment for your FUNDS.

The profits of wise investments is greater in real estate than in any other line of investment.

WILLIAM L. MARBURY.

BLAIR LEE.

MARBURY FOR SENATOR.

Announces His Candidacy for the Long Term—Enters Campaign at Request of President-Elect Wilson, Who Will Oppose Smith's Candidacy—Miles Withdraws in Favor of Marbury—Lee in Alliance With Marbury.

Hon. William L. Marbury, of Baltimore, definitely announced his candidacy for the long term senatorship against Senator John Walter Smith on Wednesday, after Joshua W. Miles, of Somerset county, who had thought of entering the race, had issued a statement the afternoon previous stating that he would not be a candidate and declaring for Mr. Marbury. It is also conceded that Mr. Marbury's entrance into the field as a candidate means an alliance between him for the long term and Senator Blair Lee for the short, both of whom will have the active support of President Wilson. In making his announcement, which in many respects is a unique one, Mr. Marbury said in part:

"Yes," "I am a candidate for the long-term Senatorship. I intend to enter the Senatorial primaries and submit my candidacy to the Democratic voters of Maryland. In reaching this determination I am responding to the desire of the President-elect of the United States, who thinks that the stake to the progressive Democracy in this campaign is big enough and vital enough to summon all Democrats to the firing line.

"I have been made to feel that the President elect realizes that the Senatorial situation in Maryland presents a crisis and that as a result of this campaign the Maryland Democracy will either slide back permanently into the reactionary rut or will march forward and take its place in the front rank of a genuinely progressive party.

"My conception of the campaign ahead of us is that in it is involved no question of the personality of either Senator Smith or myself. My desire is that the contest between us shall be no slap-stick exhibition; that it shall not be marred by personalities or trivialities; that it will be free from harsh and intemperate language and devoid of abuse and misrepresentation.

"I should like to conduct with him a campaign in which we both shall present our causes in debate and in the press with dignity, fairness, courtesy and truth. From my standpoint, it will not be necessary for us to wound each other's feelings nor to assail each other's character, integrity or reputation. I think both of us are the kind of men who, no matter what the outcome of our contest, would like to have nothing in the conduct of our campaign to cause us regret.

"Senator Smith and myself differ widely on party questions and on national issues. He stands for and believes in certain principles and policies to which I am unalterably opposed and which I believe to be wholly wrong and undemocratic. I stand for and believe in policies and principles from which he instinctively shrinks and of the righteousness and wisdom of which he will never sincerely be convinced."

So far as the Straus candidacy is concerned, Mr. Straus at present states that he will not withdraw from the fight, though it is confidently believed by his closest friends that he will ultimately withdraw and throw his influence to Mr. Marbury.

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

The wedding of Miss Mabel Thompson Jefferson and Mr. Frederick Sylvester, a prosperous young farmer of near Hillsboro, Md., will be quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jefferson, on High street, at noon to-day. No cards.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Peregoy, are guests of their daughter, Mrs. Wm. A. Melvin in Washington, D. C., for the inauguration. Mrs. J. H. Simpers is also visiting in the Capitol city for the inauguration. The town and county will be represented by a host of visitors in Washington next week.

Mrs. Dr. Lowe, of Baltimore, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles R. Twilley.

The Embroidery Club, of which Miss Mabel Jefferson is a member, gave her a "variety shower" on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. C. Jones. She was the recipient of many useful and valuable remembrances.

Mr. Lewin Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Howard, of this town, a student at Charlotte Hall, won first prize, a gold medal, in a debate held last week. The subject of the debate was the "Government Ownership of Railroads." Mr. Howard defending the negative of the proposition.

Dr. Horace W. Nicholson, the eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of Baltimore, has been quite sick at the home of his father, Mr. Robert G. Nicholson, during the week, but we are glad to state that he is improved.

Mr. Charles S. Smith, we are glad to state, is greatly improved and was able to visit his neighbor, Senator Foxwell, on Thursday afternoon. There is no man in this community whom we esteem more highly than we do Charlie Smith. He is one of our most useful citizens, and we sincerely hope that he may soon be restored to perfect health and strength.

Mr. George Clements is quite sick with fever at the home of his mother, Mrs. Alday Clements, near Crumpton.

Mr. Hynson Rogers returned this week from a very delightful trip to Panama.

Miss Edith Harley, of the primary school faculty, was absent several days this week from her duties on account of illness. Miss Carmeta Russell substituted very acceptably for Miss Harley.

Miss Jane Blackiston, whose flowers are always beautiful, showed us one evening last week a beautiful double hyacinth of a dark blue color, the first we have seen. Mrs. Charles N. Satterfield also has some pretty specimens, but one of the prettiest displays we have seen this winter is the window at Mrs. Whittier C. Copper's home on Park Row, which is filled with beautiful calla lilies and other blooming plants.

Mr. Paul Graham and family returned to Washington, D. C., this week. Mr. Graham will be engaged temporarily upon some duties in connection with the inauguration, but he expects to secure a permanent lucrative position very shortly.

Shot While at Play.

Mr. James Ratcliffe Murray, son of Mrs. Anthony Shorb Murray, of Baltimore, is in a precarious condition at a hospital in Lexington, Va., suffering with a wound in his abdomen, inflicted by the accidental discharge of a pistol.

Murray was a pupil in Edward Bryant Treat's preparatory school at Helenwood, Tenn. Sunday evening, with several school-mates, he was engaged in recreation and a wrestling bout developed. A table, on which a .38-calibre pistol was lying was overturned. When the weapon struck the floor it exploded and the ball struck Murray in the abdomen. He was placed on a train and hurried to Lexington.

Mrs. Murray was notified of the accident on Monday and left at once for the bedside of her son. Dr. J. M. T. Finney, the noted specialist of Baltimore, was summoned to take charge of the case. A telegram received by Hope H. Barroll, Esq., whose family are friends of Mr. Murray, stated that the young man is better, and Dr. Finney has hopes of his recovery. The young man and his mother have been frequent visitors at Mr. Barroll's home. Mr. Murray was here last summer on his two seat motor cycle, and he met a number of our young folks, all of whom remember him kindly, and, we feel quite sure, hope for his speedy recovery.

Our Merchants' Interest.

As will be seen by adv. in this paper the Tolchester Company will open up the spring schedule over the Port Deposit and Sassafras river route March 7 and 8.

The Kemp manure spreader, sold by Paul Comegys, of Millington, is one of the best on the market. They are giving entire satisfaction wherever used. Look up his advertisement on page 1, and see him before you buy.

Tailoring openings at Bordley & Sons and also at Vansant & Newsome's today. Beautiful and varied line of samples at each store, and tailors there to give you a stylish and perfect fit.

We publish this morning an advertisement of the Third National Bank in the form of a statement that all can understand. To the average mind the stereotyped form of a bank statement means little or nothing. In this statement the large resources of the Third National are not only shown, but each item of the statement is explained for the benefit of the patrons of the bank. It is open, square and fair, hence its claim to being one of the strongest county banks south of New York.

There are a number of poultry cards advertising eggs for hatching in this issue. Now is the time to be setting the hens to get the pullets that will lay through the fall and winter. Select your breed. They are all among the very best.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Paul Comegys, of Millington, on our first page Mr. Comegys owns one of the largest hardware stores in the county, where he is doing a big business through the employment of honest methods in handling reliable goods. We want you to give him a part of your patronage and thus advance the interests of a reliable and popular business men.

Mr. Charles S. Smith, Jr., is agent for the celebrated Sterling 50 Vacuum Cleaner. Mr. Smith has sold a number of these cleaners in Chestertown, and they are giving entire satisfaction.

Read the Free Prize announcement of Graham & Clements on page 5 this morning. There are 50 prizes in all, and each one is well worth having. See what you must do to get it.

Read the change of advertisement of J. S. Kreeger, the Cross street jeweler. Something to your advantage.

A CONVENIENT VACUUM CLEANER

I have taken the agency for the celebrated STERLING 50 VACUUM CLEANER, manufactured by the Sterling Vacuum Cleaner Company, of Sebring, Ohio.
