NOTES FROM INDIANA

On the last lap of my vacation, I am here in my old hometown (Naptown), Indianapolis, Ind., where I am visiting my darling mother, Mrs. Joseph Stephen, my sister, Mrs. Cromwell Ricketts, and friends.

Because I am here, I believe it would be interesting to you to read something about this city and the progress being made here.

Indianapolis, over 135 years old, is a great metropolis, which arose in the wilderness, and today is a teeming center of commerce and industry, located in a rich agricultural area.

And Indianapolis has done a wonderful job of clearing itself of slum areas, therefore making a healthy climate for all of its citizenry. There are 85,000 colored residents.

There is a set-up here, which makes it possible for many people to have their own homes because of the "do-it-yourself" plan.

Each lot owner, who accepts this plan must give 1,000 working hours in helping to build his own home, and in doing so, you can see these homes are all modern throughout, made of good material with landscaping to beautify the area.

There are about 60 homes in one area that have been built in the last six or seven years.

However, all over the city many projects, private and public, are taking the place of the slums and giving the lower-income bracket people, as well as those in the upper class, an opportunity to enjoy good clean living.

* * *

SPEAKING OF ORGANIZATIONS, Indianapolis has many. One, I especially want to call your attention to is that of the Federation of Associated Clubs.

Made up of 137 social and other types of organizations, the federation is now 20 years old.

Having as its major purpose, the idea of working in the interest of civil, civic and economic rights for minority groups, the body has functioned with much progress in these directions.

A cooperating unit, it has worked diligently with other groups not affiliated with the federation in helping to bring about the ending of Jim Crowism in education and employment.

An example of this was when the group went before the state legislature, along with other organizations in the matter of specifically ending segregation in the public schools. However, it was five years before this dream was realized.

ALSO, THE GROUP helped in the sponsoring and promoting of a state FEPC Law and the strengthening of the Civil Rights Law.

Through the influence of the federation, jobs were created for colored people with the Bell Telephone Company and Western Electric Company and this same influence helped to cause the street railway service to hire colored motormen and conductors.

The federation is solely responsible for the organizing of the Mayor's Human Relations Committee, which the Mayor of the city organized to break down segregation in the various activities of the city.

The aggregation built its own club home at an estimated cost of $45,000. The building was erected to serve all types of public gatherings and houses 12 private apartments.

Having been in existence for 20 years, the federation has as its founder or organizer and president, Starling W. James, a dynamic leader in the community.

Mr. James, who also sponsors tours as a traveling project in connection with his group, is vice-principal of the John Hope Junior High School.

Members have traveled together to countries in Europe and other interesting places in the United States.

NOW FOR THE POLICE department of Indianapolis. There are over 40 colored men on the police force in the city.

Among these men are the following:

A relief captain in uniform, Capt. Anthony Watkins, in complete charge of the police force on his shift, when on duty;

A lieutenant in homicide, Detective Spurgeon Davenport; a lieutenant in uniform in the field, Lt. Otis G. Woodall;

Three uniformed sergeants, Alexander Posey, Roger Harrison and Oscar Donahue; one detective sergeant in the Juvenile Aid Division, Sgt. William Rapier;

Detective sergeants are: John Glenn, James Dabner, James Gibbs, James Rogers, Thomas Bryant, Fred Starks and Edward Butler;

Sgt. William DeGournett of the Pal Club (juvenile delinquency work) and Patrolman John Metzger, Safety Education department of the Traffic Bureau. His work is largely with the public schools of the city.

* * *

OF MUCH INTEREST too, is the great medical center here, which ranks among the 20 leading medical centers in the country.

Here you will find Indiana University Medical and Dental Schools, and the Student Union Building.

It is surrounded by the following hospitals:

Larue Carter Memorial Hospital, a leading diagnostic center for mental disorders; The Indianapolis General Hospital, which separately houses a tubercular clinic known as the Flower Mission, and the Robert Moore Heart Clinic;

The Veterans Administration Hospital, the Robert W. Long Hospital, a part of the university, especially for adults;

The William H. Coleman Hospital for women, and the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital, named after the Hoosier poet, for children.

The headquarters of the Indiana State Health Board is also located in this area.

There are two other leading hospitals in the city, St. Vincent's and the Methodist Hospitals.

All hospital professional staffs are integrated and there is no racial segregation of patients.

* * *

BEAUTY CULTURE has come into its own in Indianapolis also. The Paris Beauty Salon, one of the leading shops in the city, has thirteen operators.

All types of scientific treatment for the body and hair is given there. It is the only shop in the city which operates a slenderizing salon, the Figurama.

The shop itself won two awards for being the most unique shop in the city and these awards were presented by Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority.

Operated by Elizabeth Williams, its owner, the salon is air-conditioned, making it comfortable for its patrons and operators.

Mrs. Williams, since receiving her basic work, has done graduate study in the form of work shops in Detroit, Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio and New York.

Her operators are Mesdames Ethel Tate, Leal Bass, Margie Murphy, Lois Porter, Rubine Nash, Alice Johnson, Magdalene Greene, Admiral Hill, Roberta Griffin and Misses Charlotte Clark and Sandra L. Robinson.

AN INTERESTING private addition to the city is the beautiful Green Dell Estates which was developed by Henry Greer one of the leading business men of the city. He is an insurance executive with a casualty insurance company.

The project of 34 acres, which is unique, in that it has been stated that it is the only project of its kind owned by colored people, is one of the show places of the city. All properties are built either of stone or brick.

The Greer residence is a real show place. A large ranch house, a beautiful feature of which is the manner in which the living room and master bedroom are situated for beauty and comfort.

On one side of both rooms are sliding glass doors from ceiling to floor in almost the entirety of the wall which is broken only opening to the patio.

The dinette opens out on the dining area. This home is the first in the city to have such a feature.

The entire architecture is designed for gracious living and it is a real pleasure to have the opportunity to be a guest there. The furnishings are beautiful and very valuable.

On Thursday night of last week, Mrs. Greer was entertaining in honor of out-of-town visitors. More about this next week, after my return to Annapolis.

Mrs. Greer formerly served as head of the art department of the Crispus Attucks High School for a number of years, but is now retired.

A Good Citizen Committee was formed in Annapolis recently The purpose is to get more persons registered to vote. The Rev. Leory Bowman is chairman.

Members of the steering committee are Joseph Walker, the Rev. Thomas Calluis, the Rev. Morris H. Morgan, the Rev. Rufus Abernathy, Milton H. Hoskins, O. Alexander Wiseman, George Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Johnson, Rodell Armstrong, represent the Northern Arundel County. They are asking that all persons receiving cards will sign them and return them promptly.

The keynote speaker at the Methodist Youth Institute at Morgan State this week is Dr. Charles Copher, of Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga.

Visitors at the Metropolitan Methodist Church Glen Burnie last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. William Adams and there son Junior, Mrs. Mable Adams, all of Lutherville. Visiting also were Deacon and Mrs. William Banks of the First Baptist Church, Fairfield, Md.

Miss Audrey Williams is attending the Youth Institute at Morgan this week.

The Rev. Elmer Hammond, assistant pastor to the Rev. Albert Hammond Sr., will be the guest speaker at this Sunday morning at the Metropolitan Methodist Church. The Rev. James Adams is pastor.

THIS WRITER was at the Methodist Youth Institute at Morgan this week. I arrived at the time they were having their evening vesper hour.

It made one feel glad to see the sight of one hundred boys and girls and their counsellors in silent meditation.

This was followed by the breaking up into groups for various discussions, with groups returning for a panel discussion.

Proving that there is a time for all things, the group then came down to refresh themselves at the snack bar which Mrs. Daisy Parker was in charge of.

I pitched in and gave her a hand because at this time they were typical teenagers eager to be served.

Also Baby Donna Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Faulk. Godmother, Miss Lucinda Wallace.

Remember the sick, send a message of cheer to Mrs. Alice Moore, Mrs. Pearl Scales, Mrs. Berdella Johnson and to Ernest Robinson in University Hospital.

FIRST STEPS—Photo shows 15-month-old Gwenith Dickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson R. Dickerson of Baltimore and Washington, taking her first step. Baby is grandniece of AFRO's hello girl, Mrs. Susie Clark.

They then treaked over to the gym for recreation which at this time consisted of square dancing and then off to their quarters for a good nights sleep.

The busiest and happiest member of our household this week was my young son, Andre age 9½. After helping his friends for the past week selling the AFRO he decided to go in business for himself.

After getting Daddy's permission he called the circulation department, and was told that he would have to get fifteen customers. Disappeared later came back, shouting "Mama I got them." Back to the phone again, "Please send me 25 papers please." He received the AFROs, and a book to keep his names in.

I have the job of putting them in and explaining how to use the book. He sold all but four, took them out to the immediate and sold them.

P.S. Daddy is the Rev. James Adams; He is business manager for the Institute this week.

Men invade 'women only' jobs—Rec. Dept. employs 1st male in 40 years

By ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

There are no more "women only" jobs.

Now a-days members of the male sex are winning cake-baking contests and they are employed as kindergarten and elementary school teachers.

As Baltimore keeps abreast of the times, now appearing on the business world scene are many male secretaries and clerk-typists among whom is Sherwood Fledge, 19, who is the first of his race to be employed in the Financial Office of the Department of Recreation.

When Mr. Fledge joined the all-girl office staff and became the first male worker appointed in 40 years, he summarized the situation in words expected from any red - blooded man working under similar circumstances.

He remarked: "It's a wonderful experience."

Mr. Fledge is a 1956 Dunbar High School graduate and a commercial curriculum major. In June he was selected for his present position from the eligible list after taking the city service senior-clerk typist examination.

* * *

ACCORDING to Mrs. Marie McNamara, acting supervisor, Mr. Fledge is welcome and well-liked now that the novelty of "a man in the office" has worn off.

Mr. Fledge has a variety of responsibilities. With a private room and desk, he works on the part-time payroll accounts for janitors, umpires and recreation department aids.

He also types all requisitions, vouchers and service orders and hands out supplies to recreation workers.

* * *

Mr. Fledge's appearance on the scene has brought about other changes which are not exactly visable.

Whereas most typists and stenographers sacluda lipstick, nail polish and powder puffs in desk drawers, Mr. Fledge is making room in his desk for a picture of his best girl friend, a cigarette lighter and an engraved pen and pencil set among other articles members of the male sex usually have around.

He plans to clear away and store some supplies elsewhere so that he may also add a picture of his mother.

She is Mrs. Bertha Fledge with whom the proud son resides at 2118 N. Wolfe St.

Both are members of Wayland Baptist Church where Mr. Fledge is soloist on the male choir.

Mr. Fledge's father is Richard Fledge, a building engineer who is now working in Stamford, Conn.

Kidney disease group sets September appeal

Alexander Grdon III, of Ruxton, has been named to head the first public fund appeal of the Baltimore Chapter, National Nephrosis Foundation, in September.

The Baltimore Chapter, National Nephrosis Foundation, was established in 1953 by a group of lay and professional persons.

Through private, special activities, the group has been successful in financing the establishment of a drug bank to provide costly "miracle drugs" to nephrosis patients, underwriting a research project at Johns Hopkins, and providing specialized care for some victims of nephrosis.

Nephrosis is a kidney disease which attacks children between the ages of 6 months and 6 years. It is a prolonged illness, frequently requiring repeated hospitalization over periods of 5 to 10 years.

Neither the cause nor a preventive is known, but the disease is not contagious or congenital. It causes abnormal swelling of the body, and until recently was responsible for more deaths of children than polio, tuberculosis, rheumatic heart, diabetes, and several other illnesses.

P.S. No. 138

On Wednesday, July 30, 14 children from School No. 138 Recreation Center participated in a nature hike to Druid Hill Park. The purpose of the hike was to note the many sizes and shapes of leaves; to learn to recognize leaves of known trees and to increase the understanding and appreciation of animals —how they look and live. Follow-up activities included charts made and booklets started following discussion of the hike.

Those who participated were: Daryl Jones, Clayton Jones, Elaine Jones, Doris Boyd, R. C. Rhodes, Leonard Brogden, George Coleman, Michael Brown, Thomas Jones, Michael Brown, Calvin Reid, Elaine Anthony, Barbara Johnson and Lorraine Johnson. Mrs. Sedonia M. Powers is recreation leader.

Liston scores 69-second TKO

CHICAGO — Sonny Liston, 26-year-old Philadelphia heavyweight, registered his 12th straight victory at the Stadium Wednesday night, stopping Wayne Bethea of New York, in 69 seconds in the first round.

Referee Bernie Weissman stepped in front of the hard-hitting Liston and pushed Bethea toward his corner after the latter, down once for an eight count, appeared unable to defend himself.

A right to the chin sent the Harlem heavyweight to the canvas in the first minute of action. It was the first time Bethea had been floored in 30 fights.

* * *

REGAINING HIS feet after the knockdown, Wayne tried vainly to withstand the brutal assault of Liston, but a second series of rights and lefts had him reeling helplessly about the ring. It was at that point that Weissman stepped in.

The fight was on a coast-to-coast telecast, but it ended so quickly that many armchair fans probably missed it.

Liston now has a record of 19 wins against one loss. Eleven of his victories have been by kayo.

Bethea's record is now 17-9-2.

Fan's rap fires tan Phils' usher

PHILADELPHIA - Charges of irregular conduct, lodged by a white fan, led to the firing of the first colored usher to be used by the Philadelphia Phillies at Connie Mack Stadium.

The usher was Mahlon Duckett, one-time infielder of the old Philadelphia Stars of the Negro National league.

* * *

DUCKETT was accused in a letter written by W. L. Brown, 1806 72rd Avenue, to the Phillies' management. In the letter, Brown claimed Duckett had denied him and other white fans admittance to a section of seats, to which he later led fans.

He said it was obvious the colored persons had no stake for the seats because, as the bona-fide seat-holders arrived, Duckett shuffled them to other unoccupied seats in the section.

DUCKETT was reportedly discharged by the Phillies the day after the letter was received.

Protesting colored fans later drew a promise from the club management that an investigation into the matter will be launched, and "any wrong righted."

A white usher working the adjacent section is reported to have supported Duckett's denial of the allegations.

Marlins suspend Satchel Paige

MIAMI — The Miami Marlins of the International League, announced Tuesday that they have placed pitcher Satchel Paige under indefinite suspension.

General manager Joe Ryan said the action was taken because of Paige's "utter disregard of rules."

Satchel, currently admitting to 52 years of age, has won nine games and lost seven thus far for the Marlins. The nine victories pared nine days off a 20-day suspended sentence given Paige by a Miami judge early in the spring on a traffic violation.

The jurist, who is a baseball fan, said satch could get a day off the sentence for each game registered against Luke Easter of Buffalo, a perennial Paige nemesis, and/or each hit he got. Satch has fanned Luke once, gotten no hits, thus he's left with ten days of the sentence unaccounted for.

Paige told newsmen he wants to be released by the Marlins.

Man says he fell off ferris wheel

Roosevelt Boone, 49, 1400 block Fremont Ave., told Officers Richard Torney and James Wilhelm he fell about six feet from a ferris wheel Monday night at a church carnival near his home.

Police said the man was held at Provident Hospital, pending outcome of back X-rays. His condition was reported good.

The officers reported that William R. Aburn, 21, 3600 block Brehms La., operator of the ferris wheel, said he heard a "thump" while letting riders from another seat and saw Mr. Boone lying on the ground.

An ambulance was called to take the man to Provident.

$600 insurance suit filed

Mrs. Dorothy Fletcher, 3000 block Southland St., filed suit in Superior Court Tuesday to collect an alleged, unpaid $600 death claim purportedly owed by a life insurance company in the 500 block W. Franklin St.

The suit charges that Mrs. Hattie Banks, who died as a result of a fire at 918 Wilmer St. the past January 21, held an insurance policy.

The policy names Mrs. Fletcher as beneficiary, according to the suit, and it promises to pay $300 for natural death and $600 for an accidental death. Charles P. Howard Jr., is attorney for Mrs. Fletcher.
