Marbury Tells a Story.

Hon. Wm. L. Marbury, President Wilson's candidate for the long term Senatorship in Maryland, when he heard of the attacks the friends of Senator Smith are making upon him told the following story:

"I tell you," he said, "I feel like the young fellow in the play that came here some while ago called 'The County Chairman.'

"The young fellow, you know, had been persuaded to run for office upon the representation of men active in the games that everything would be lovely—that he would swim to triumph on a sea of honey. After a bit persons came along with all sorts of attacks. What that young fellow had not done that was bad, according to the stories, was not on the calendar of evil things.

"So he went to the county chairman and wanted to know about it. The old fellow looked him over and said:

"'Say, what sort of a game did you hink this was, anyhow?'

"Now," laughed the Senatorial candidate, "that is the sort of answer I suppose I will receive from the chaps who got me into this fight when I ask them about the prods I am getting."

"Are you going to answer the prods?"

"All in good time—all in good time," he replied. "If this is to be a sledge-hammer fight, a knock-down and drag-out affair, why, I reckon the other chaps will learn a few things while they are teaching me what they know."

Everybody welcome. Several strangers attended the above named church services on Sunday morning, last, when three persons were received by the pastor into church fellowship, making a most happy and encouraging communion service. All official members are urged to attend the adjourned quarterly conference to be held Saturday, next, the 8th, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cleaver, beginning at 9.30 a'clock.

A special committee of three, consisting of the following, Messrs. John Medders, D. T. Nickerson and F. H. Mullineaux, appointed by Worthy Master, George R. Rasin, in the Kennedyville Grange meeting on Monday night, last, met the honorable school board of Kent county, in their official room of the Chestertown High School Building, Tuesday, at eleven o'clock, in the interest of, and for further information, concerning the erection, in our village, of a new and modern school building, on a more eligible location, and for higher grades and greater capacity. The honorable gentlemen of said board gave to the special committee a most courteous, kind and enthusiastic hearing, which very much encouraged the greatly needed measure which for several weeks past has been a subject of deep and general interest before the many patrons of an extensive part of Kent county represented by the rapidly growing membership of Kennedyville Grange.

Lewin Davis, alias "Rats" was arrested in Church Hill on Sunday by deputy sheriff Adam Startt for stealing a dress-suit cese containing a blue silk shirt and a pair of pants from the room of Mr. Lickle, one of the college students. "Rats" was polishing Mr. Lickle's shoes, and when the latter went to the rear of the dormitory for something, Rats went in his room and stole the case. The young men gave chase but "Rats" was to good a sprinter and he got away. He concealed the case in Klinefelter's woods, where it was found by deputy sheriff Startt. "Rats" was given a hearing on Wednesday evening and held for the action of the grand jury.

BLUFFS AND HOT AIR.

The "American Issue," the official organ of the Maryland Anti-Saloon League has this to say in reference to President Wilson's participation in the Maryland senatorial fight.

"It has been widely published that President-elect Wilson is opposed to the re-election of Senator Smith and may if necessary take a hand. This has been followed by the usual crops of bluffs and hot-air talk from those who might be hurt by it, about Maryland "resenting interference from the federal administration." That kind of talk comes, for example, from the American, which, though a Republican paper, is the exponent of the corrupt city ring and Mayor Preston."

In speaking of the City News the same editorial says:

"The News is a great bluffer on most things. It is a splendid example of the 'Yes, I am for it, BUT.' It is "for local option, BUT." It has been for various other kinds of legislation, "BUT." It seem to be for almost any good legislation except that which has a chance to get through."

We give these illustrations merely to show the sources of criticism against President Wilson's determination to get rid of those influences in the Democratic party which have caused its defeat in national elections since the days of Grover Cleveland, and also to show the sources whence emanate the statements that Mr. Marbury is a Republican.

Rock Hall Items.

Among those who visited the inauguration from this town were Mrs. Shallcross, Mrs. W. H. Davis, Mrs. Blaustein, Mrs. Biddle, Messrs. John H. Wood, John Willson, John Hadaway. Also a party of men was formed who went from here to Annapolis and thence to Washington on the police boat. Among those were Messrs. Neal Willson, Carroll Willson, Fred Williams, Ribold Willson, Frank Wheatley, Jim Downey and others. Fourteen in all.

Last Thursday night, Miss E. June Breimier, repeated the Toy Shop for the benefit of the M. E. Church. Although the weather was bad there was a good crowd in attendance. Miss Breimier joined the party from this town who went to Washington.

Last Tuesday some of the operators at M. Kramer's factory went on a strike for more money claiming that they were underpaid for their work and refused to go to work until Mr. Kramer brought an experienced hand over from his Baltimore factory to demonstrate the possibilities in the making of this garment. Being an entirely different kind of work from any they have been used to heretofore, they necessarily had to learn all over again. Now some of the operators are making more than they did while working for Mendall Bros. Everything is running nicely, showing there was no ground for the strike.

Mrs. Mary Ashley with her niece, Miss Foscett, visited Baltimore this week to purchase spring millinery.

Mrs. Blaustein visited friends in Baltimore and Washington this week.

Mr. Johns, vice-principal of Rock Hall High School, was in Baltimore last Friday night to see "The Follies."

We expect to start the improvement to the roads and streets in the near future, under the instructions of the State Road Engineer, Mr. Atkinson, and when we get the road from Betterton to Still Pond under the Shoemaker Act, how close Betterton will be to Chestertown, to those especially owning autos.

Capt. Moore and wife have returned from a very pleasant trip to their son, G. Herbert Moore, Savannah, Ga. They report a very pleasant time, scenery beautiful in every respect, but there is yet no place like Maryland especially the little county of Kent.

Our fishermen have gone fishing, but have caught nothing as yet. We certainly trust the season will be a very profitable one.

Mr. James Brice who was quite ill with typhoid fever has recovered and is able to resume his duties as purser of the steamer Anthony Groves, Jr.

In anticipation of this visit to Philadelphia, Rev. Mr. White went to Philadelphia on Saturday expecting to see his son and bring him to Dover for a few days' recuperation. When the father visited the hospital he found that his son was not there and left the city for Dover, stopping off in Wilmington. Saturday afternoon word was received from the son's home in New Jersey that he had died suddenly from heart trouble. Mrs. White at once took the afternoon train for New Jersey. Rev.
