VACATION ROUND-UP

Vacation time away from Annapolis is over for me and what a vacation. It is impossible to put into words the joy of spending it with one's family and old friends, who never seem to forget you.

For years a visit to my old hometown of Indianapolis, has found my family fine and most of my friends intact, and this year has been no different.

Arriving there on Saturday night, it was pleasant that the Thomas B. Badens, Jr. of Annapolis had also dropped in on their way from Dayton for a few hours to see some of "Naptown."

Through the courtesy of Grace and Ralph Bryant, they on a vast tract of land in an exclusive suburban section of the city.

Delia, who headed up the art department at the Crispus Attucks High School, has a number of her own paintings on her walls.

A connoisseur of antiques, her home has a number of them. Some of them are here and there. The chandelier in her dining room is designed of Venetian glass, which is hand-blown and is 100 years old.

Guests shout for this affair were Mesdames Hibernia Turner Bailey, Lenyer Rankin (Ruby), Osa G. Woodall (Stella), Lionel F. Artis (Sue), Daughter Moore (Vivian), J. Wallace Hall (Albertine), ex Gov. S. Grant and Ralph Bryant (Grace).

Prizes were won by Mesdames Moore, first, and Artis, second. The honorees were presented gifts after the group enjoyed a delicious repast.

THEN THERE was that enjoyable morning porch picnic by Mrs. Osa G. Woodall (Stella).

The breakfast was served on the spacious closed-in porch and afterwards, card games were played.

This party was given in honor of Mesdames Rutherford Edwards (Charlotte, an Indianapolis girl) of Kansas City, Kas., Mrs. Adah Turner of Newport, R. I. and Mrs. Eula Mae Brown of New Orleans.

Stella, who has been heading up the English department at Crispus Attucks High School, had as other guests:

Mesdames Henry L. Greer (Stella), Lenyer Rankin (Ruby), Ecchol McCain (Vera), Denver Blount (Ruth), Edward Watkins (Marjorie), Howard L. Erik (Elizabeth), John G. Wilson (Martha), and Albert P. Hall (Katherine).

MARY VENERABLE served a lovely breakfast honoring Thelma Brooks Foster, an Indianapolis girl now of Oakland, Calif.

It was such a novel occasion, for it was a pre-breakfast party to church services. There about were the Rev. and Mrs. Richard A. G. Foster, the husband of Thelma, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin, Mrs. Indz W. Smith, Mrs. Thurman C. Knox, Mrs. H. H. Kerr of Charlotte, N.C. (she was my guest) and Miss Estella M. Moseley.

By the way . . . Mrs. Hunt (Irene) was the house guest of my family for the week end. She was visiting her sister, Mrs. Palmer Richardson (Sula) for a few weeks.

They are both relatives of my stepfather. They also have a brother, Dr. Stephens, who heads up the mathematic department of Morgan State College.

MESDAMES EARL MARTIN (Edna), Harrison Dawson, Helen F. Laster and Mary Lindsay gave a large garden picnic.

Although there had been much rain, the weather was perfect for this occasion, and the Martins' lawn is very spacious, and as beautiful as a coat of velvet.

Along with the attractive flower garden is a huge fish pond. The dinner was served, a variegated arrangement of lace cloths and centerpieces of buffet style, on tables draped in summer flowers and a huge cut glass punch bowl and cups.

ON SATURDAY, a delightful brunch party was given by Mrs. John T. Flack (Maude) honoring her niece, Miss Elizabeth Roberts of San Francisco, Cal.

Elizabeth, a teacher in one of the high schools in San Francisco, was formerly a resident of Indianapolis where she attended the public schools.

Others about were Mesdames J. P. Johnson (Jessie), William Meriwether (Ellen), Bernard Brent (Vernice), Shepard (Susie), Albert Ferguson (Lucille), and Miss Sarah Meriwether.

Mrs. J. Carlisle Hughes (Laura), and a number of you in Annapolis met her when she visited here), motored with us to Muncie, Ind., about 50 miles from Indianapolis, where we spent the evening as guests of Mrs. Margaret Wright.

It will be interesting to Annapolis people to know that Margaret, who was a long-time resident of Annapolis, and a former school marm here, has recovered from her illness and is feeling just fine.

Margaret has been offered a teaching post in Marion, Ind., but has not fully decided to accept it.

Just arriving home in time to type this copy to make my deadline, I have not had time to catch up on Annapolis news as I should this week. Please look forward to next week's column.

TOURIN' TURNER STATION

By E. S. McDANIEL

Mrs. Madie Rucker of 802 Peach Orchard Lane is convalescing at her home. She underwent an operation at the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Show the good old Turner Station spirit by dropping in to see her since she will not be able to get around for some time to come.

Mrs. Daisy Gwynn who underwent surgery at the Havre de Grace General Hospital in Harford County, is recuperating at her home on Forge Road in Fullerton, Md. Mrs. Gwynn is the nurse for the Sollers Point High School.

Mrs. Jeannette Fleming, wife of the Rev. Shelton Fleming, the pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, is confined to her home at 639 Main Street with a compound fracture of the left leg.

Mrs. Fleming was injured recently when she was supervising the annual Sunday school picnic at the church. She has her leg in a heavy cast and she is using crutches.

Arthur Randall, AFRO assistant managing editor, of 852 Peach Orchard Lane, who has been confined for several weeks at the Fort Howard Hospital is much improved according to his wife, Mrs. Sylvia Randall. He has been released from the hospital and is recuperating at home.

TURNER STATION boys and girls are working very hard during the Clean Block Campaign, but there is much work to be done before the judging takes place. I have been told that two boys will be selected to go to Camp Druid Hill as a prize for the good work done to make the campaign a success. Will you qualify?

Mr. and Mrs. Dannie McArthur of 210 Walnut Ave. and their children, Jerome, Carolyn, and Alvin are spending a week in Smithfield, Va. with relatives.

Mrs. Maeives Addison of 317 Pine St., has returned to her home after a summer at Syracuse University in Syracuse, N.Y.

Stadium ice rink will probably open in November

The $150,000 ice skating rink to be located on the Memorial Stadium parking lot will probably open in November, Park Board officials state.

On Tuesday the board accepted bids for food, soft drink and skate rental concessions.

The bid provides that twenty-one percent of the gross on food and soft drinks and 25 percent of the gross on skate rentals will go to the city.

The fee for skating privileges has not been set although it has been determined that skaters may enjoy outdoor ice skating up until

IT'S NO PUMPKIN, just a squash and Mrs. Lillian Fernandez, 2934 W. North Ave., is understandably proud of having grown it in her backyard. It is the only thing of five vegetables planted by her husband, Nicholas, that attained the giant size. This was their first try at backyard gardening.

Dr. Murphy tells Masons Africa ruled world 850 years

"Africa ruled the world for 850 years. Civilization, art, government, religion, medicine, astronomy, philosophy, education, morals, all have their base in Africa.

"From secret fraternal orders had their beginnings among Africans. Most of the Masonic mysteries in our rituals are copied from the Africans."

Dr. Carl Murphy, AFRO president, was speaking on Monday at the 111th Communication of Md. Masons in a 3-day session here.

The occasion marked the reception held for friends members and delegates of the convention.

ANNCUNCED WAS the reelection of Grand Master William V. Allen for the 36th successive term.

Also speaking were State Senator Harry A. Cole, J. Millard Tawes, Maryland comptroller and candidate for governor, as well as Dr. Mervin D. Jenkins, president of Morgan State College and Dr. Parlett Moore, president of Coppin State Teachers College.

Mrs. Edith Mosby, most worthy grand matron of the Mysterious Grand Chapter and Isaiah Smith, a member of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge also spoke. Robert B. Croxton was master of ceremonies.

Guest speaker was John G. Lewis, grand master of Louisiana, who was elected unanimously past grand master of the Maryland lodge.

IN HIS TALK Dr. Murphy noisted out that "Johnny-come-lately nations" which conquered Africa and have ruled it for the past 450 years actually teach that black people have no history and have always been stupid, ignorant and unfit for anything except to be hewers of wood, bearers of burdens and drawers of water.

Dr. Murphy added: "I have said all this to challenge you to think and to study and to read your own history so that you believe in yourself and always understand that God made us in his own image.

"And if you are black with curly hair or wooly hair, as Herodotus put it, you are in the likeness of God."

"HERODOTUS was the father of history. He said that the Egyptians were the first recorders of history because they had a land of 330 kings who ruled Egypt one after another.

"And, when he says that these black woolly haired Egyptians were the handsomest, wisest and the longest lived, the greatest people in the world of those times, I believe him."

Dr. Murphy also noted that Jack Pharaoh, the Hebrew ruler, emancipated the Hebrews and gave them permission to go back to Israel.

He stated: "The theme that runs through all history is that when you have strength, you assert yourself and take charge of you are a man.

"But, if you are a mouse or a sissy, you get walked on."

DR. MURPHY also urged members of the Masonic order to register and vote, Dr. Murphy added:

"In a democracy like ours, you take charge by the good-tempered, non-violent, honest use of the ballot. You vote out the political hoisers and the buckleheads and vote in candidates who will give you representation and civil rights."

Concluding his address, Dr. Murphy stated:

"Here, in Baltimore the 4th District has 53 percent of the registered voters. We should take charge of the 4th District.

"If we talk about loyalty to parties or loyalty to bosses and machine organizations, we are mice and we are sissies.

"If we are men, we should talk about good government, about freedom to choose our own candidates; about freedom of our candidates when elected to vote in the legislature, taking orders from no dictators except the people."

GRAND MASTER ALLEN in his talk to the convention, said:

"For more than three decades it has been a distinct honor as well as a happy privilege to have been entrusted with the responsible position of Grand master.

"Each annual communication has found me before you to give an account of my charge. You have witnessed the productivity of the Craft as the promulgation of our Masonic teachings during the period of my administration.

"A sweeping glance of your faces brings memories of past communications similar to this one.

"Memory mirrors familiar faces which fade from view and are seen no more. Those brethern have heeded the summons from on high and have gone to their eternal rest.

"That you and I are able to greet each other in another grand assembly causes a swell of gratitude to spring from our hearts to Almighty God for his daily and manifold blessings."

DR. ALLEN CHARGED members of the lodge to "cultivate wholesome ingredients of citizenship, wage eternal and relentless war on the enemy and everything that stand in the way of our acquisition of equal rights in our government."

Also re-elected were:

Elmer T. Hawkins, deputy grand master; J. Norwood Brown, senior grand warden; George H. Fitbaugh, grand treasurer; Alvin Stanley, grand secretary.

Samuel T. Daniels was elected junior grand warden to succeed William H. Fauntleroy.

Mr. Fauntleroy was appointed to serve the unexpired term of William E. Fletcher, deceased Annapolis, Md. member.

GRAND TRUSTEES elected were: William H. Walters, Connor L. Willis, William A. Jones, Daniel C. Brewington, and Cortlandt Bryson.

District deputies reappointed by Grand Master Allen include: Robert B. Croxton, Baltimore; second and third, Chester R. McKnight, Rockville; fourth, Ulysses Mackall, Fairmount Heights; fifth,

And, Howard E. Thomas, Huntingtown; sixth, Hiram C. Jones, Havre de Grace; seventh, Douglas Allen, Cambridge, and Hilbert Young, district deputy, Cambridge; eighth Jesse H. Cropper, Berlin, and Benjamin Waters, Nanticoke; ninth, Charles E. Hughes, Hebron; tenth, S. W. Hardesty, Annapolis; and eleventh, Walter Woods, Towson.

COMMITTEES for the 111th Communication include:

MEMORIAL services were held Monday afternoon at Metropolitan Baptist Church where the Rev. John L. Tilley is pastor. The Rev. Frank J. Frye pastor of Ames Methodist Church, gave the memorial sermon.

Bus driver joy rides, then ditches children

"A lady told him she just gave us car fare to get back on the bus and she stayed there with us until he moved off."

That was the account of Cheryl Haney, 12, 211 Bethel Ct., in Douglass - Somerset Homes of how a No. 19 bus driver gave her and seven other children a joy ride then ditched them at the end of the line.

Cheryl and the other children, all under 13 years of age, were returning home from the AFRO's Clean Block Campaign at Druid Hill Park Tuesday afternoon.

In order to get home safely the children were brought back to the AFRO building after the campaign and got on the No. 19 bus with the intention of transferring to the No. 21.

CHERYL SAYS, "When we got on we were pushing, and the bus driver said one of us didn't pay car fare so he wouldn't give us a transfer.

"When we got near the 21, he wouldn't call out our stop and kept driving. We gave us a transfer," she added.

For this reason, says Cheryl, she and the group of children ranging in ages from 8 to 13, years-old rode to the end of the car line when the bus driver put them off. "When we left there we had no fares — just frees," she said.

"He said he didn't go any further and made us get off," she said.

Cheryl said a lady who was last to get off the bus gave them car fare and demanded that the driver let them back on but he ignored their protest. They waited for another bus.

MRS. FRANCES MACKAY, AFRO Clean Block director, says all of the children were brought back to the building so she could supervise their departure for home.

"If they didn't have any money, I gave it to them and told them to ask the driver to call out their stops."

In addition to Cheryl, the children were:

Conchica Blackman, 10; Leonard Heath, 13; Ronald Heath, 10; Jesse Saunders Jr., 8; Gloria Barnes, 12; Vincent Barnes, 9; and Tamara Oliver, 9.
