The spring presents the best time to buy your home or an investment in land.

I have 30 valuable farms in Kent alone, which can be bought at prices that will make these propositions superior to anything in which you could invest for a sure, steady investment.

These farms are for sale, not put up because they are worthless, but because the owners, for reasons of health, or too much land to till, or wanting a smaller farm, or too much in debt, are in a measure compelled to sell.

The list I can submit you is the result of careful investigation, and contains tracts of land that will prove a profitable investment for your FUNDS.

The profits of wise investments is greater in real estate than in any other line of investment.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Forty Persons Killed, Sixty Wounded.—A British Ship, Scow and Tug Boat Blown to Pieces.

The people of the town and county were startled and many were terribly frightened yesterday morning just before eleven o'clock by a terrific rumbling as of an earthquake. Indeed, many believed it to be an earthquake, while others thought it was an explosion at the Gas Plant, or of powder at the Du Pont Powder Works, in Wilmington. People in town rushed out of their offices and homes, and many of our most courageous men had visible evidences of fright on their faces. A number of glass windows were broken, including the large transom at Bordley & Sons' store, panes of glass in D. A. Bacchus' store, a wall at the home of Mr. Thos. G. Wroth, on Front street, was cracked; the large plate glass windows at the home Mrs. R. D. Hynson were cracked, and plate glass windows in Rock Hall, particularly at Max Alexander's store were shattered. Several horses ran away on High street, and the stock confined in the farm barnyards made frantic efforts to escape.

Mrs. Benjamin Rust was so terrified by the explosion that she fainted. The furniture in the home of Mrs. Harry Price, near Betterton, is reported to have been turned over, and the house rocked greatly.

The TRANSCRIPT immediately called the Sun information bureau in Baltimore and learned that there had been a terrific explosion of dynamite on a scow on Curtis' bay, near Wagner's Point.

The dynamite was being loaded on a British ship from the scow, and the foreman of the ship crew accidently stuck a steel hook into a box of dynamite causing it to explode. The scow, tugboat and ship were blown to atoms, 40 people were killed and 60 were seriously injured, 50 of the injured being carried to the hospitals.

The southern part of the city was badly shaken up and there was considerable damage to city property. The shock was a terrific one, and was felt all over this town and county. The TRANSCRIPT was kept busy answering calls for information.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE.

Baltimore, Md., Feb 28th, 1913.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF TRANSCRIPT:

There can be but little doubt that only the inspiration of which Mr. Bryan was the source and spirit swept the Baltimore Convention last June from the control of Tammany Hall and the like elements of the Democratic party and placed Woosrow Willson at the head of our government. That this spirit is no less powerful now throughout this state is even more evident. We might as well never have had this inspiration if we turn back for an instant.

President Willson needs, he demands that we help him place Progressive Democrats in control of the United States Senate. The excecilent remedial legislation which he has obtained in New Jersey, and without which the entire country is sick, can never be enacted through a reactionary Senate. The betrayal of President Cleveland's administration by Democrats in the Senate of the type of John Walter Smith is too recent and bitter to pass unheeded at this crisis.

President Willson has asked his friends in Maryland to assist in electing Mr. Marbury and Mr. Lee to the Senate. His reason is that these two men are identified in the minds of Maryland people with the aspirations and ideals for which Woodrow Willson stands, and because he knows that he can rely on these men to help him keep the faith; the pledges which he made the American people before his election. We recall that memorable night at the convention last June, when Bryan was making his great fight for Wilson, how Bryan was abused as a traitor, a destroyer of Democratic harmony, a renegrade and was threatened with personal violence; that after each such burst of denunciation John Walter Smith was on his feet, waving his hat and applauding. It is not difficult in view of Mr. Smith's conduct on this and other occasions to understand that a vote for Marbury and Lee is a vote for Woodrow Wilson and that a vote for Smith is a vote for Ryan, Belmont and Charley Murphy which all that their names imply.

I am somewhat acquainted with political conditions in several counties on the Eastern Shore. Within the past few days I have made a trip from Somerset to Cecil and have heard many men express thoughtful opinions on this question. Some expressed a preference for Senator Smith and were able to give no reason for their sentiments; not being engaged in railroading or the lumber business themselves. By very conservative estimate fully twice as many gave me excellent reasons why they would not vote for Smith and prayed fervently that some "people's man" like Marbury, who would hold up for us an ideal of higher and better things and really represent the Wilson Democracy of Maryland in the Senate might enter the lists. Against this healthy, reasoning and overpowering sentiment, a machine politician is a man of straw and his familiar tricks and texts, are as chaff in a hurricane.

In 1912 by a peaceful Revolution, the office of President was emancipated from the control of special and private interests by the election of Woodrow Willson. The election of Messrs. Marbury and Lee is no less a matter of national importance. On this election hangs the simple and serious question: "Shall a reactionary Senate in which John Walter Smith holds the controlling vote tie Woodrow Wilson's hands,—or shall the people rule?"

MARBURY MAKES STATEMENT.

Senatorial Candidate Not Ashamed of His Record.

Never a Republican, He Declares.

In a strong and straightforward statement Wm. L. Marbury, candidate for the long term United States Senatorship, declared on Monday that he had no intention of making any apologies for his record in Maryland politics. In his statement Mr. Marbury says:

"I must not be expected to be making any apologies for my independent course in the politics of this city prior to the enactment of the laws for the regulation of primary elections and the securing of a fair count.

"When I lived in Prince George's county any man caught cheating at a Democratic primary would have been looked upon as a crook and had his head broken, just as though he had been caught cheating at a friendly game of cards. I had never heard of such a thing as cheating at primaries—certainly not in the district in which I lived. Consequently, the man who, having had a fair fight, was defeated at the primary, and refused to support the nominee, was looked upon as a mere sorehead, as he generally was. If he called himself an independent he was none the less a sorehead in fact, for he had no real grievance.

FOUND IT DIFFERENT HERE.

"When I came to Baltimore to live I found that as the primaries were conducted at that time it was practically useless for any Democrat to vote unless he voted for the candidate favored by the people in control of the Organization. The Anti-organization candidate was not permitted to have any choice in the selection of the judges and clerks of election nor was he permitted to have anyone to watch the count. He might have a 10-to-1 majority and still be returned defeated.

"Very often, there being only one polling place in a ward and only a few hours allowed for voting, with no notice in advance of the time or place of the holding of the primary, no one had a chance to vote, except the Organization voters—the people who were generally the office-holders.

"The conditions in the Democratic party at that time in Baltimore were exactly similar to those existing in Mexico under the Diaz regime. Practically no Democrat was allowed to vote unless he voted for the Government candidate. In fact, the men who were called independents in those days did not leave the Democratic party. They were actually put out of it by these methods. There was nothing left for them except to exercise the right of revolution, and they exercised that right under the leadership of men who had proved their Democracy on the field of battle or languished in prisons for months because of their devotion to the cause of the Southern people.

NEVER WAS A REPUBLICAN.

"Of course I never was a Republican and everybody knows it. There never was a moment when I would have accepted any office at the hands of the Republican party. But the right of self-government in this city had to be recovered somehow. The situation was absolutely desperate. The Republican party was the only weapon with which the battle could be fought.

"On the other hand, since the enactment of the present Primary Election laws, under which a Democrat might vote with a reasonable expectations of having his vote counted, I have participated in many primary fights in this city, and I have never yet failed to give my unreserved support to the candidate nominated.

"Sometimes I have favored the organization candidate, as in the case of Mr. Mahool when he made his first fight. Sometimes I have favored the Anti-Organization candidate; as, for example, Hayes in his second fight, in which he was defeated by Robert McLane. But in every case, including that of Mayor Preston, I have supported the nominee and at every election which has taken place in this city or this State for years past I have been called on by managers of the Democratic party to help elect the ticket, and I have never failed to respond when it was possible for me to do so. I do not think that any of them will deny that the assistance which I have given them in these elections has been of some importance.

NO APOLOGY TO MAKE.

"To sum up the matter in a word, I have no apology to make for my independent course prior to the days of the legalized primary, and, on the other hand, I have no apology to make for my uniform support of the Democratic nominee ever since we have had legalized primaries. I thoroughly believe in playing the game according to the rules. A man cannot be in the party and out of it at the same time. He has a perfect right to be an independent, but if he takes that position he debars himself from the right or power to take an active part in influencing the voters of his party at the primary election for the reason that those voters will not listen to him and he can have no influence with them unless he is willing to accept their verdict."
