Y-Teens at Houston hold first meeting

By STEPHANIE MACER and LEATRICE JACKSON

The Y-Teens Club of Houston Junior High School held its first meeting with an enthusiastic group of nearly 100 girls. Miss Betty Johnson, teen age director at the Madison Avenue Branch of the YWCA, was special guest.

Miss Johnson greeted the girls and informed them of activities in which they could participate during the year. Plans for the World Fellowship Tea to be held Nov. 2 impressed the girls.

The club made plans for monthly activities. The major activity for each year will be the filling of Christmas baskets for the needy families in this community. An orphanage in the city will benefit from the Easter project.

Each girl in the club selected a committee on which to work. Committee meetings will be held twice monthly or whenever needed. The first and third Tuesday in every month will be meeting dates for the club.

Frank J. Sorrell is principal of the school and Mrs. Barbara Patterson is sponsor of the club.

YWCA mothers' club initiates 10 members

The mother's meeting of the Tots and Teens, Inc, wax held at the YWCA on Wednesday to initiate new members and acquaint them with the organization.

Mrs. Norman B. Lambson, president, opened the meeting. Mrs. Delores Shorter Branch, chairman of the program committee, led get-acquainted games.

New members initiated were Mesdames Gwendolyn Mickle, Lester P. Duvall, Mary J. Mitchell, Lucille W. Gibson, A. Venessa Porter, Irene P. Hill, Chapelle Armstead, Myrtle Koger, Alfreda Rainey and Doris Smith.

Gallant Man eyes Pimlico Special

PIMLICO, Md. — Gallant Man, a leading contender for "Horse of the Year" honors until he was injured in September has responded to treatment so well that he will be taken out of retirement this week to train for the 22nd running of the classic Pimlico Special here on November 29.

A happy Trainer John Nerud made an announcement to this effect in New York Saturday at the same time officers of the Maryland Jockey Club received that an invitation to run in the Special at Pimlico had been extended to Owner Ralph Lowe and accepted.

Lowe and Nerud spoke for the syndicate which recently placed a world record $1,333,333 value on the four-year-old son of Migoli — Majideh when they purchased a three-quarter interest in him for a million dollars, topping the $1,251,200 paid for Nashua in 1955.

Meet Roy Hamilton

By BAKER E. MORTEN

Roy Hamilton, the baby-faced owner of a full grown vvoice, plunged into his duffle-bag of wordly views Tuesday night between songs at a Baltimore night club to give the philosophical side of himself.

A cross - section picture of the 27-year-old Leesburg, Ga. singer revealed that he was a fisherman, lover of jazz, capitalist and cabbage-eater.

on contemporary issues of the

Here are some of his views world:

BASEBALL: I'm not an enthusiastic fan, but I like the game.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER: Great fellow. What does he sing?

JAZZ: It's intriguing.

BRIGITTE BARDOT: I've been too busy to notice.

BALTIMORE: It's a swell place. I hear it's in the State of Maryland.

COLLEGE: A wonderful institution. Best place in the world for folks who want to get ahead.

POLITICS: Quite a mixed up business, ain't it?

DEMOCRACY: A beautiful system of government if such liter as Little Rock is removed.

FISHING: Now there's a sport. I love to deep sea fish off the coast of Florida. It's so invigorating and relaxing.

WOMEN: Pretty swell people. They've contributed a lot to my career.

LITTLE ROCK: (pause)...A nation of its own.

teenagers: That part of us which needs inspiration. I've spent a great deal of time with them.

TRAVEL: I've done quite a bit of it. A necessary evil in this business.

SCIENCE: One of the world's greatest studies. Young men and women of this age should give some thought to it.

TRANQUILIZERS: Never need 'em.

CABBAGE: I love it. Was raised on cabbage, hog maws, black - eyed peas and chitterlings.

DOCTORS: They're fine people, especially when you need 'em.

DOGS: I love pets and am crazy about other people's dogs.

AFRICA: Hope to go there some day and see the great wonders of that beautiful land.

MONEY: (pause) What else is there?

TELEVISION: Yes, indeed. It's all for that science fiction stuff, the westerns and those horror deals.

Pritchard, concert pianist, at Morgan

Fresh from appearances in the Republic of Haiti and Washington, D. C., concert pianist Robert Pritchard is scheduled to perform at Morgan State College here Wednesday evening.

On Monday, the brilliant young artist played before an appreciative audience at the Phillips Gallery in Washington.

Pritchard's principal appearance in Haiti was in a concert at the Conservatoire in Port au Prince, which was attended by Haitian President Francois Duvalier.

While in Haiti, Pritchard was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Maximilien, parents of his 10-year-old pupil Wanda, who is an outstanding prodigy. He conducted Wanda in a performance of the Haydn "Concerto in D. Major.

Unitarian minister heads group seeking end of discrimination in Playhouse; Harvest Week at Mt. Moriah AME Church; Two Bates teachers are honored; Birthday party for Hope Louise Green.

The Rev. Curtis Crawford, Unitarian minister, who a few weeks ago in a sermon suggested that racial bars be lowered at the local theaters, is chairman of a newly organized group, the Committee Against Racial Discrimination.

The committee has called in an open letter to the Durkee Enterprises, operator of four theaters here, for the end of racial segration in the leading one, the Playhouse.

In selecting the Playhouse as a starting point for racial integration in places of amusement, the committee stated:

"The best films African and the Playhouse and our colored community is culturally depressed."

The steering committee includes:

Dr. Aris T. Allen, member of the Board of Education; the Rev. Leroy Bowman, minister of the First Baptist Church; Dr. Wiley Crawford, tutor at St. John's College;

Also Andrew Ramsay, a salesman; Dr. Vernon Sparks, psychologist at Crownsville State Hospital; Don Thornbury, professor of English, history and government; and Michael Elias and Joel Greenberg, students at St. John's. Mrs. Marian Phelps is secretary of the committee.

BATES HIGH SCHOOL teachers are again in the limelight, after honor received through the American Association of University Women.

Recently, Mrs. Mamie Glenn, an instructor of biology, was appointed to serve on a committee evaluating the Harvard de Grace Gonsolidated School for the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Middle Atlantic States.

This committee, headed by Dr. Parlette Moore, president of Coppin State Teachers College, will organize for evaluation purposes on March 17.

Another Bates teacher, Mrs. Thelma Sparks, physics, has been selected to attend the In-Service Institute, sponsored by Johns Hopkins University. Mrs Sparks is one of 50 instructors named to participate in this outstanding course in mathematics and science.

THE HARVEST Week observance at Mt. Moriah AME Church reached its peak on Sunday at the 11 a.m. service, when Dr. H. Chester Clark of New York City was the speaker.

Dr. Clark, distinguished churchman and clergyman, secretary-treasurer of the African Methodist Church, used as his subject, "Christian Wholeness."

Using as his text, "Wilt thou be made whole?" Dr. Clark presented his sermon in three parts during his discussion, designating first, "Life's Master," second, "Answer of Life's Scruples," and third, "Command of Life's Lord."

For argumentation, he talked about the human angle of being physically sick, mentally sick and spiritually sick.

He stated that two-thirds of the world is sick for food and nourishment and pointed out such conditions as being prevalent especially in Africa in Accra on the Gold Coast; Monrovia, Liberia South Africa and other foreign situations. He also included America.

Dr. Clark cited the longevity of life as having no assurance during these times, and noted that people are beginning to wonder if atomic energy is affecting the health of nation.

He also pointed out that ignorance, prejudice and animosity are permeating the world, thereby showing evidence of mental illness.

Dr. Clark said the world is also spiritually sick because the church is weak in its promotion of Christianity.

"There is too much fancy worship on Sunday and not enough practice of Christian ideals during the week," decried Dr. Clark.

He recalled the "shouting Christian" who makes a show on Sunday, yet there is so much to be done, and stated that the time to shout is the time when victory comes as a result of the workings of principles of Christian wholeness.

WHEN WE ELIMINATE prejudice and hate in our hearts and are able to forgive our brother and pray for him, then we can shout," averred Dr. Clark.

At the conclusion Dr. Clark reiterated his subject by pointing out that when we let God use us for the glorification of His kingdom (and that may be in many ways) then we accomplish Christian wholeness and Christian wholeness is a means by which the world can be saved.

"All of these illnesses will pass away through the command of life's Lord, 'when he tells us to 'Rise, ascend and make progress,'" said Dr. Clark.

The senior and junior choirs under the direction of Miss Bettye Statham provided music.

After the morning service, the harvest dinner was served in the church dining room.

MRS. ELSIE GIBSON of Washington, the widow of the Rev. John M. Gibson, a former pastor of Mt. Moriah, was a guest.

Mrs. Gibson is secretary to Mrs. Anne E. Heath, connectional president of the African Methodist Church.

In the afternoon, Cradle Roll Day was observed and the theme carried out in the program was "Little Children Loving God."

The program was presented by the Sunday School, beginners' class, under the supervision of Mrs. A. R. Powell, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Beans, Mrs. Clementine Williams is superintendent of the Cradle Roll Department.

The evening program, a special youth program of a musical and literary nature, was under the direction of Mrs. Cecelia Greene. The Rev. A. R. Powell is pastor.

THE CAMP MEETING of the Asbury Methodist Church began on Friday night with the Rev. Crarles Greene, pastor of the Social Methodist Church of Baltimore, as the speaker.

On Thursday evening, a county-wide laymen's meeting was held at the church at which time Frank B. Butler, retired vice-principal of Bates High School, was the speaker.

Mr. Butler stressed the importance of the fundamental principles of work of the layman in the church. Mrs. Hattie Pierce gave the invocation and Purnell Hardesty introduced the speaker. The Rev. S. W. Hardesty, church lay leader for the church, was master of ceremonies. The Rev. I. R. Berry, pastor, gave remarks.

MRS. A. R. POWELL, the wife of the pastor of Mt. Moriah AME Church, will serve as an official delegate at the eighth National Assembly of United Church Women in Denver, Colo. representing the local group here, the Anne Arundel County United Church Women's Group, October 27 through the 30th.

Mrs. Powell, who has been a resident here for about three years, is vice-president of the local group. She is also a substitute public school.

A native of Beloit Wis., she is a graduate of Wilberforce University. The Powells have two children, Josephine and A. R. Jr.

Mrs. Hattie Pierce, Prominent in fraternal circles here, was a special guest of mrs. Katherine Norvan at the luncheon of the 37th annual convention of the Federation of Republican Women at the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel in Baltimore.

Mrs. Bertha S. Adkins, newly appointed undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was presented a silver tray by the group.

A recent innovation in connection with the federation is the organizing of a group here in Annapolis, under the direction of Mrs. Norvan.

Officers are:

Mrs. Julia Diggs, president; Mrs. Hattie Pierce, vice-president; Mrs. Mary J. Randall, recording secretary; Mrs. Laurela Smith, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Adeke Walker, treasurer. Mrs. Ida E. Harris is supervisor of the group.

The club is open for membership.

THE POLICE CLUB and the Republican Men's Club held a joint session recently, at which time candidates for the coming election were presented. Mr. George Phelps Jr. was master of ceremonies.

Sheriff Joseph Alton was the principal speaker. Candidates considered by the two groups are James T. S. Devereux for governor, J. Glenn Beall for state senator, Robert A. Williams for attorney general, John A. Derr for comptroller, Joseph Alton for sheriff and William B. Prendergast for the state senate.

Refreshments were served.

It was a gay time for little Hope Louise Green, four-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Greene III on Sunday evening when Mrs. Margaret Matthews, her Godmother, and Mrs. Annie Thomas, her great-grandmother, were hostesses to a christening party and dinner in her honor.

The baby's mother is the former Bettie Jones, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Jones of Upptr Marlboro.

Out-of-towners who traveled to bring gifts to the little one were:

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Montague and their son, James Allen Montague, Mrs. Anna Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Grayson and Mrs. Laura Baker, all of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Rosser Watkins of Washington and Rev. Mr. and Mrs G. J. Murray of Falls Church, Va.

OTHERS WHO brought gifts or sent them were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Philip Currie, Harry Holland, Robert Green Sr., William Brooks,
