—'No Judas money'

Ticket are incumbent State Senator Harry A. Cole, and, for the House of Delegates, Mrs. Verda Welcome, Mrs. Irma Dixon, Mrs. Bertha C. Winston, Dan Spaulding, Howard Dixon and incumbent Emory Cole.

The ticket includes both Republicans and Democrats. They are opposed by a slate of Democrats who are affiliated with the Pollack political machine which has long controlled the district.

FOLLOWING are excerpts from statements made by members of the Coalition Ticket in answer to questions on various phases of the election:

Incumbent Senator Harry A. Cole said:

"I feel confident that we will win. What we need is the united support of the community, voting for us. If this is done we are assured of victory.

"I think the people have had sufficient information from our candidates on the issues to enable them to not be misled by any of the things Pollack will do to divide the colored vote. That is what he is trying to do.

"As to the money being spent, I think that if any accept the money, they still ought to work for the Coalition Ticket.

"This is not a segregated ticket in the sense that they are going to represent colored people only. All the candidates are dedicated to serve the interests of the whole community.

"Further, in forming the ticket, we were unable to get any of the white candidates to disavow Pollack, which means that he's running, not them, and if they are elected he will be elected and the best interests of the people will not be advanced."

* * *

DAN SPAULDING—"It will be overwhelmingly Coalition, without a doubt. I feel my own ward (33 Precinct, 15th Ward) will be 90 per cent Coalition.

"I think the voting citizen is too well - informed to be misled by propaganda.

"My advice to anyone tempted to accept money is to go ahead and take it and vote the Coalition Ticket 100 per cent.

"I feel this coming election as far as the 4th District is concerned is one of the most important ever held in Baltimore. The results will not only affect the 4th District and the City of Baltimore, but colored voters all over America.

"Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the importance of voters getting out early to vote.

"I'm running on the Coalition Ticket by freewill and choice because I feel I'm qualified, if elected, to render a valuable and unselfish service for the community at large.

"If the Coalition Ticket is segregated, then all the previous elections in the past 50 years and more have had segregated tickets."

* * *

HOWARD DIXON—"I think it will be a landslide. I think I'll take my ward (8th Precinct, 14th Ward).

"I would say (about taking money from the opposition), they can go on and accept the money as long as they pull the right lever, that of the Coalition Ticket. No one will know how you vote.

"I feel that if a colored person has the right to vote, he should participate in helping to elect his own representatives. We are united on this.

"Any time the ministers of all denominations put their stamp of approval on a ticket like ours, we are bound to win.

"I am running on the Coalition Ticket because I feel this is the time to get together to try to achieve some real advancement for our people. It would not be so much a personal victory as a victory for the people.

"I would not call this a segregatial ticket. In the Fifth District they have an all-white ticket, why should we not have a colored ticket? We can't tell anyone who was approved in the primary to get off.

"I have received some threatening letters but I will let God take care of them."

* * *

MRS. VERDA WELCOME — "I think we will win. I expect to take the whole Ward (6th Precinct, 13th Ward). There are 739 registered in my precinct and I am aiming to get 739 on election day.

"I have heard of the poison pen letters, but I am not worried about them.

"I believe that even though these (paid) people work for the Pollack forces, they are going to vote for their own people.

"I would advise them to be sure and vote for the people who will look after their interests. No one could do that better than the people who understand them.

"This is the most important election we've had in the 4th district. It is the one chance we've had to get more representation.

"It is so important that everyone gets out and vote early. I have asked each person in my area by letter to vote before they go to work.

"I am a member of the Coalition Ticket because I feel it was a chance, by unity and working together, to get more of our people elected.

"We have been overlooked too long. For the city, we should have 18 representatives in the state legislature.

I say that the Coalition Ticket is not segregated because segregation means the other person is shut out. They were not shut out.

Emory Cole — "I think the Coalition Ticket will have a sweeping majority in the 17th Ward.

It is very important that the machine be defeated because the people of the 4th district have not actually been helped by it.

Many jobs which could have been given people in the 4th District have been denied them. I would therefore say that the defeat of the machine would open opportunities for greater employment in the city, and state governments.

"I do not consider segregation enters into the matter at all (as regards the Coalition Ticket).

I rather think it is race pride on the part of the colored persons on the part of colored citizens to increase their representatives in the state government in Annapolis and in this instance the most logical procedure would be to put across the Coalition Ticket."

Mrs. Bertha Winston — "I feel sure that we are going to win. A great deal of enthusiasm has been demonstrated.

Judging from past experiences, I'm sure I will carry my own ward (10th Precinct, 14th Ward).

I think we have campaigned so thoroughly our people are convinced that most people have already made up their minds. I don't think any upright person would sell his vote. It is my thought that today our people are too intelligent and too concerned for that.

I think this is the most important and unusual election we have had in the 4th District. It is the opportune time for us to get representation and it is so important that we stick together.

I'm a member of the Coalition Ticket because I feel this is the way to impress our vote of the importance of pulling together, not only as Republicans but as good-thinking Democrats.

I do not think the Coalition Ticket is segregated. I think it is an effort to get fair representation in our state government. We should have fair representation and we are pulling together.

—Election prayer service

Mr. Boddie pointed out that contributions were to defray clerical expenses but that no money was available to pay people to vote or work on election day. He said: 'We don't have any business as Christians just sitting back. We're supposed to help. If politics are dirty, let's get out and clean them up.'"

He said he was heartened that 65 ministers of all denominations could come together and work for our mutual interest, the candidacy of colored candidates on the Coalition ticket. We have combined our efforts regardless of our denomination and our affiliation.

* * *

IN ADDITION to giving cash contributions, ministers present also offered the names of volunteer workers who will be on duty on election day.

Cash contributions given at the Wednesday meeting were from: Emmanuel Christian Community Church; St. Paul Baptist, Whitestone Baptist, the Rev. J. R. Butler, the Rev. N. B. Carrington, Enon Baptist, the Rev. V. T. Key and Orchard St. Methodist; Sharon Baptist, Macedonia Baptist, Simmons Memorial Baptist, Union Baptist, New Hope Baptist, Gospel Temple Baptist, St. Abraham Baptist, the Rev. W. C. Hudnall.

Present at the meeting in addition to those already named were: the Revs. W. L. Clayton, A. J. Payne, Harrison J. Bryant, J. W. Green, B. F. Jackson, who gave the opening prayer; J. O. Wright, J. B. A. Dyson, S. M. Carter, G. M. Edwards, Frank Williams, W. N. Stokes, W. B. Nash, W. H. Thompson;

Also, the Revs. Edward Carroll, Era Ferrell, M. Hill, O. St. Clair Franklin, William King, Oliver Strawn, J. J. Mercer.

The Rev. Mr. Carrington read the scripture lesson; Mrs. J. T. Boddie provided piano accompaniment for the singing. The Rev. Mr. Edwards and the Rev. Mr. Carroll served as secretaries of the meeting.

* * *

THE COMPLETE list of churches which will hold election morning prayer services accompanies this story.

Two of the churches — Mt. Zion Methodist and Union Memorial Methodist — are located outside the Fourth District.

However, the pastors, the Rev. O. St. Clair Franklin and the Rev. N. B. Carrington, said they were in sympathy with the 4th District fight even though their churches are in the 5th District.

The meeting paid tribute to the two ministers for their enlightened attitude.

General Election, Tuesday, November 4th. Polls open 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Vote Early.

DR. CARRINGTON L. DAVIS will long be remembered as a distinguished gentleman with the pince-nez glasses on the black ribbon.

He had a mathematical mind, was considered a genius at figures and remembered all the school children by name.

The scholarly Dr. Davis was a close friend of Franklin D. Roosevelt's and at one time when I interviewed Dr. Davis he told me they often talked on the phone.

They were young man when they studied at Harvard University and enjoyed many long evenings reading Greek classics together.

My fondest memory of Dr. Davis was the 1949 occasion when Dunbar High School faculty gave the banquet in honor of his retirement from the school system.

My art class designed a scroll of sheepskin on which it burned in the names of all persons on the faculty and staff.

A small token of remembrance to the esteemed educator, but he elapsed it tenderly as he received it that night in May, 1949.

* * *

DR. DAVIS bequeathed something precious to all who knew him, to every student he ever taught: the gift of kindness and encouragement.

The funeral services witnessed the church auditorium nearly filled with dignitaries, officials of schools and colleges, his former students of long ago and just plain folks who remembered the educator as a friend.

Robert Lee and wife, Lena K. Lee, the attorney and school principal, were staunch friends of the Davis family. Bob was a former student of Dr. Davis at Douglass.

After Dr. Davis suffered the stroke in September, Mr. Lee spent many hours at his bedside. Also there to help was Mrs. Hilda Evans, widow of Joseph Evans and Mrs. Davis' close friend.

Dr. Davis's wife, Mrs. Erma Davis, was also ill during September, but recovered rapidly.

Two weeks ago she said: "This has been a difficult year for the Davises. I shall always remember 1958 as a trying year. I will be glad when it's gone."

She held firm hope that her husband would recover, stated that progress was slow following such a severe attack.

True to the Davis tradition of thinking of others, Mrs. Davis requested that no flowers be sent since her husband is being buried in Leavenworth, Kansas.

THE RED CROSS Community Chest United Appeal certainly needs everyone's cash donations.

Mrs. Emma Michael is one of the campaign chairmen and her task has been made an embarrassing one since so few of the members of our race have contributed.

When she attends meetings down town at headquarters she has to report that she has barely $600 of the $10,000 goal.

It is hardly fair to others who contribute for them to carry the burden. We do receive benefits from the fund.

Volunters are needed to solicit house to house.

Volunteer today; give your donation today.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS were due Gloria Lockerman Wednesday, Oct. 29. She's 16 now, was just 12 years old when she became known worldwide as a spelling champion.

The $48,000 won on TV contests in 1955 is safely tucked away for her education.

A Western High School academic senior, she's a typical teen - ager who "hasn't quite decided" what she will study after her June, 1959 graduation.

Zweihundertausend, a word meaning 200,000, fascinates her as she studies German.

French, another language she studies is "a pretty language" Gloria says.

The cha - cha is her favorite dance; some rock and roll and some classics are her favorite music; Nat King Cole and Frank Sinatra are favorite singers; Johnny Mathis is "all right."

Taller, somewhat more slender than when she was 12 years old and the Maryland State champ at spelling, Gloria has no hobby, says she is "just average" as a student.

For her birthday she received cards clothes and "a little money."

The evening was not spent in special celebration, Gloria revealed. "Studying at home with grandmother and grandfather (the Rev. and Mrs. V. T. Key)" she explained.

FREED—William H. Robinson, 73, of the 400 block N St NW, sits dejected as the coroner's jury heard testimony in the fatal shooting of John C. Buchanan, 37, of the 1200 block 11th St., NW. Robinson was absolved of blame in the case, the jury ruling it justifiable homicide. He said Buchanan tried to force his way into his apartment.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at Orchard St. Methodist Church.

Here's a November holiday calendar you may clip and save as a reminder of the celebrations, or the notations may be good "just to make conversation."

November Weather forecast shows ice storms and snow coming up following clear cold days. Around Thanksgiving, mild, cloudy.

Sadie Hawkins Day comes Nov. 15, the first Saturday after Nov. 11.

Nov. 11, Armed Forces Day marks the end of World War I. The day before the Kaiser abdicated to Holland and the peace papers were signed in Marshal Foch's railway coach. The cease-fire came at 11 a.m. on that memorable day.

Nov. 1 is All Saints Day and is preceded by Halloween, Oct. 31.

Nov. 2 is All Souls Day when prayers are said for the souls of the dead.

Nov. 1, 1955, Princess Margaret promised not to marry Group Captain Peter Townsend.

Victim takes life over ill health

WASHINGTON

Depressed over ill health, Robert Robinson Jr., 61, apparently took his own life Thursday morning, police reported.

According to his family, the victim was to have been retired from government service today (Friday). He was employed at Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Mr. Robinson, 3500 block New Hampshire Ave., NW was found lying in bed at his home suffering from throat cuts.

Mrs. Esther Robinson, his sister-in-law, also of the New Hampshire Ave. address, discovered the body. Police said a straight razor was lying on his right side.

* * *

CAPT. Lawrence Hartnett, of the homicide squad reported that Mr. Robinson had believed himself ill with cancer sometime ago. However, X-rays taken at Mt. Alto Hospital, proved him wrong.

He remained convinced that he was in poor health, Capt. Hartnett said.

He is survived by his wife, Irma and a brother, Thomas T. Robinson, of the New Hampshire Ave. address.
