Health Committee is active in a quiet way, giving assistance when and where it is indicated. You are aware of the services of the Well Baby Clinic and the Polio Clinic. Did you know that we have a Loan Closet? The Loan Closet is in need of such articles as beds, crutches, and any articles that sick people may need.

If you care to donate any of these articles to the committee you may get in touch with the nurses at the Health Center, 101 Breckenridge Drive in the Sollers Homes. We are happy to announce that the committee was able to send a bed to needed because of illness a home this week where it was.

On last Sunday, an after collection of $35 was collected in the New Shiloh Baptist Church and the same was donated to the Health Committee.

Mrs. Vivian Howell Johnson has been doing a fine job of cooperating with the Health Committee by offering the plan of the Pledge Card Campaign by which funds may be collected for the Building Fund. The plan has started off with a $98 collection on the pledges that have been turned in at the first meeting.

We wish to acknowledge that the 500 pledge cards, many of the public announcements for the committee were donated by Vivian without cost to the committee. Many thanks, Vivian, for your help to the community.

Hi-Fi Chatter

By J. A. BRENT

Well, kids, I can't honestly say that ol' Baltimore is as alive as it was this time last year, but the figure certainly looks bright.

The Yardbird Jazz Society, so the grapevine tells me, will soon be flinging another one of its parties. Incidentally, those of you who have been hoping to get into that "Bird" group will have the opportunity to make a stab at it this Friday at their meeting at the home of Dave Hubbard. Pledge class will officially begin then.

• • •

FREDDY WOODLAND, (Jitters, is back in the old town, but only for a brief stay. He will soon be on his way back to Brooklyn. Speaking of New York, mambo-crazy, cha-cha-happy Bob and Barbara Ware have gone all out with their exotic dance creations with a definite taste of "Greenwich Village Bohemianism."

This week's personality is Shirley L. Randall.

Miss Randall is a senior at the Eastern High School. She is also recording secretary of the Yardbirds.

A genuine lover of art and music, La Randall fits so well into this group of young intellects, Shirley often visits the Baltimore Museum of Art. She says that this is where she gets ideas for her creative art work. Shirley, you know, is a talented versatile artist.

This week's star is also a terrifically popular individual as Miss Randall has loads of charm, wit, and grace.

Beverly Johnson, Melvadean Jones, Bernard Stewart, Norma Tucker, Patricia Dorsey, James Gibson, Tamara Barber, and yours truly, J. Brent.

Costumed as a ballerina, Tamara was the prettiest girl there, and won first prize for her charm.

LAST SUNDAY NIGHT the Madison Avenue Young Women's Christian Association sponsored its annual international tea. The general theme of the affair was to better the relations between native-born Americans and naturalized Americans.

Entertainment was provided by the Ellipsens, Pi Lambda Eta, Royal Teens, Y-Co-Eds, Schools No. 181, No. 182, No. 453, No. 452, and Douglass High.

Foreign countries represented were the West Indies, Jamacia, India, Haiti, Greece, and Israel. Again, the annual activity was an immense success.

SWEATER MADNESS has seemed to have taken grip of Baltimore guys and gals. Everyone seems to have at least one bulky knit. And the partygoers have been seen in everything from shawl necks to school collars and from crew necks to double breasted type sweaters. The sweaters are made of Shetland wool, cashmere, lambswool, vicuna, alpaca, mohair, angora, camel hair, and the like.
