AGED PEOPLE

cannot properly masticate solid foods and digestion is often upset—they do not receive the needed nourishment to make strength and preserve health, but if aged people everywhere could only realize the strength-sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion they would take it after every meal.

It possesses the nourishing elements of cod liver oil, the vital powers of the hypophosphites of lime and soda and the curative qualities of glycerine, all so perfectly combined that nature immediately appropriates them to create strength—nourish the organs and build the body. It relieves rheumatism and ailments due to declining years. It adds to the span of life.

Great Interest Shown in Peace Contest.

The interest which is today being taken in the means suggested for the peaceful settlement of international differences was clearly shown by the large audience which filled McCoy Hall, of Johns Hopkins University, on the evening of April 4th, to hear the Third Maryland and District of Columbia Intercollegiate Contest in Oratory on some topic pertaining to international peace.

Calvert Magruder, son of former Judge and Mrs. Daniel Magruder, of Annapolis, a student of St. John's College, won the $75 award. The second prize of $50 was won by David L. Waldron, representing Georgetown University.

George B. Loden, son of Daniel J Loden, Collector of Water Rents and Licenses, represented Loyola College and J. Earle Uhler spoke for Johns Hopkins.

W. Lester Baldwin, who after a hard fight with W. D. Allen was selected to represent Washington College, gave an excellent address on "The Evolution of World Peace," and although many of his friends who were present had him picked out for first or second place, after 17 minutes of deliberation, the judges, consisting former Mayor J. Barry Mahool, Police Commissioner Alfred S. Niles, Wm. H. Morris, Rev. H. B. McCormick and Thomas H. Bowles, finally decided for St. John's and Georgetown.

The great uncertainty of who would be finally picked out by the judges as winners was clearly shown when Mr. Bowles, who announced the decision, stated that in the first ballot 4 different speakers had been picked out for the first prize and that there was a tie as to who should have second.
