LOCAL MATTERS

Sells Farm.—Mr. Thomas G. Wroth has sold to Mr. Cornelius G. Hadaway, of Quaker Neck, the farm near Smithville, now tenanted by Mr. Walter Kendall's son. It is the farm owned by the late William French. It contains 180 acres and 6 perches of land, and sold for $10,262.14, or $57.00 per acre. Mr. Wroth reserves all the crops, and Mr. Hadaway has a good farm.

New Tailoring Establishment.—The firm of Sachs & Son, who have opened a first-class gents' furnishing store next to M. A. Toulson's drug store, have also opened a high-class tailoring department for women and men on the second floor of the building. This department is conducted exclusively by the father, who has had long years of experience, and who knows the business in every detail. This department will fill a long felt want in this community, and already Mr. Sachs has a number of orders for ladies' fine suits, and he will give you prompt service and courteous attention. Meanwhile, if you want anything in the gents' furnishing or shoe line, see the son on the first floor.

MARBURY IN KENT.

Meets the Voters in Kent and Portions of Queen Annes, Talks with them and Wins Numerous Supporters. Splendidly Received Everywhere.

Hon. William L. Marbury, candidate for the long term in the United States Senate against Senator Smith, began his campaign through Kent and Queen Anne's county at Rock Hall on Saturday evening in a drenching rain. Mr. Marbury, accompanied by L. Wethered Barroll, Esq., and Mr. Julian Bailey, of the Sun, came to Rock Hall by steamer and was met by Walter H. Hadaway and other Democrats, who accompanied him on a tour of the town to meet the voters. Mr. Marbury was accorded a splendid reception by the people, and during his short visit there he made many friends and won many warm supporters. Mr. Marbury spoke to an audience of more than 100, and though forced to wait for the close of the moving picture show the crowd waited patiently and listened attentively to a splendid speech. Mr. Jefferson D. Ayres presided at the meeting with his usual dignity, and Mr. Marbury created a most favorable impression. He spent the day quietly on Sunday as the guest of Hope H. Barroll, Esq., and met many friends in the forenoon. On Monday morning, accompanied by W. B. Copper, Chief Judge of the Orphans' Court, L. Wethered Barroll, Esq., and the Sun representative, the start was made for Church Hill. Here Mr. D. Thomas Hurlock escorted him through the town and introduced Mr. Marbury to the people. He addressed some fifty people on a street corner, and withstood a rigid cross fire of questioning like a veteran. He made a number of converts at Church Hill. From there the journey was made to Crumpton where Mr. Charles W. Clements, the leading merchant of the town and one of Queen Anne's most prominent Democrats, received the candidate, and had his store porch, which was used as a platform, gaily decorated in flags and bunting. Mr. Clements presided and introduced Mr. Marbury to an audience of some forty or fifty farmers who had assembled to hear the candidate speak and meet him. Messrs. W. Fletcher Melvin, Samuel Chairs, J. R. Jefferson, John C. Smith, and other well-known Democrats assisted in receiving and welcoming the candidate. The next stop was at Millington. Here Finley Collins, Charles Cacy, William Mallalieu and other Democrats had gathered an audience of about 150, and Mr. Marbury was so pleased with his reception that he put on extra steam, and those who followed him during the day said he was at his best. It was at Millington that Mr. Marbury got in a telling blow against the Kent News—the paper that has been so unjustly and so unnecessarily attacking his Democracy. He said he had heard of these attacks, but he thought they come with very bad grace, as he had understood that in years past the Kent News office had been headquarters for the Republican party and that whenever the Republican leaders used to come to Chestertown instead of going to the office of their own paper, they would find a cordial welcome at the Kent News office. This sally was met by rounds of applause, and it was not only true at Millington, but whenever reference was made by the candidate to the News, the applause that greeted his thrusts was just as pronounced and as spontaneous as it was in Firemen's Hall in Chestertown on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Marbury was charmed with his reception at Millington, and he received many encouraging expressions of friendly feeling and support. At Massey a crowd estimated at from fifty to seventy-five were gathered to greet the candidate. Mr. Adam F. Huey introduced Mr. Marbury and he made a short speech, after which he was taken in charge by County Treasurer Clarence Hurlock, County Commissioner Thos. C. Roe and others, who escorted him to the stores and places of business where he met the people face to face. At Galena an audience of about 60 people gathered in the hall to hear the candidate. Dr. Latimer, a friend of Mr. Marbury and a former resident of Mr. Marbury's home county, Prince George's, introduced the candidate, who made one of the best speeches of the day. From Galena, stops were made at Locust Grove and Kennedyville, at which latter place the candidate met a goodly number of voters whom he addressed from the porch of Mr. John Medders' blacksmith shop. Here J. Biddle Hossinger, John Comegys, Jesse R. Copper, Wm. H. Whiteley and others acted as escorts and introduced Mr. Marbury. From Kennedyville the trip was made to Betterton, and shortly before reaching Betterton the spring of the automobile broke by reason of the chauffeur running into a rut, and it and the chauffeur were put aboard the night boat and sent to Baltimore for repairs. At Betterton James G. Harris, County Commissioner T. Benj. Crew, James T. Crew and others had assembled a good crowd and Mr. Marbury made them a corking good speech, discussing Senator Smith's record, etc. He spent the night in Betterton, where accompanied by a number of Democrats he met the residents of this pretty town. On Tuesday morning Mr. Marbury left Betterton and visited Still Pond, Lynch and Worton where he met a large number of voters and discussed the issues of the campaign with them. He captured his hearers by his straight forward and manly talk. The climax to his splendid tour of Kent was in the meeting in Firemen's Hall, Chestertown, on Tuesday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock. Notwithstanding the fact that many of the Organization faction stood on the street corners and thoroughfares like sentinels who had received orders from headquarters to keep a close watch for "deserters," an audience of 220 people by actual count, among whom were quite a number of ladies, and not a few Organization adherents heard Mr. Marbury make a masterly speech, in whic he he discussed the reactionary record of Senator Smith, his own party record, his relations to Mr. Bryan and President Wilson, and it was here that Mr. Marbury so forcibly declared that this campaign is not one against a man but it is one of man against a million of money, and he stands with the people against the power of money which seems to be Senator Smith's only claim to recognition from the voters. Mr. Marbury's defence of his own record was honest, manly and fearless, and he let his audience know that he would much prefer the judgment of President Wilson as to the genuiness of his democracy to that of the editors of the Kent News, who, Mr. Marbury declared, will know better after a while. Mr. Marbury undoubtedly made many friends by his visit here, and he was accorded a splendid reception wherever he went. He met the voters in all parts of the county, and regretted so much that the accident to his automobile and the very inclement weather prevented his making the tour to Pomona, Lankford and Edesville. But he means to come again, and he will make more friends every time he comes. Mr. George E. Noland, chairman of the County State Central Committee, was to have presided at the meeting here, but the stormy weather prevented his attendance. Mr. T. D. Bowers presided, and delivered a short message from Mr. Noland, in which he said that he regretted greatly his inability to be present and preside at the meeting, but that he is in thorough sympathy with the candidacy of Mr. Marbury to whom he pledged his most hearty support. This, no doubt, was unwelcome news to some of the Straus supporters in Kent, who have been counting upon Mr. Noland's support of Mr. Straus.

The following were the vice-presidents for the Chestertown meeting: John Dunn and James Mulford, first district; Fred W. Stevens and E. R. Wallis, second district; Walter T. Morris and James T. Crew, third district; Wm. C. Peregoy and Wm. Benjamin, fourth district; T. B. Durding and Jas. M. Wood, fifth district; Wm. T. Nicholson and Charles H. Skirven, sixth district; W. C. Townsend and Charles M. Vickers, seventh district.

Mr. Marbury spent the night on Tuesday here and left for his home in Baltimore on Wednesday morning, delighted with the results of his tour.

Put the Load Where It Belongs

IF you are to make the most of your time and opportunities, you must have efficient tools to work with. You have enough hard, tiresome work without wasting your time and energy at wood-sawing, water-pumping, grindstone-turning and the like. Use an I H C engine to furnish power for such work. In less time, and with far less effort, the wood is sawed, the stock watered, the tools sharpened, all at one-tenth the expense of hand work. Put the load where it belongs. Buy and use an

IHC Oil and Gas Engine

It is the cheapest engine you can buy because it costs less per year of service than others. It is so powerful that it will carry a load ten per cent or more above its rated horse power. Perfect combustion makes it economical.

I H C oil and gas engines operate on gas, gasoline, naphtha, kerosene, distillate, alcohol. Sizes are 1 to 50-horse power. They are built in every approved style; vertical, horizontal, portable, stationary, skidded, air-cooled, and water-cooled. Sawing, pumping, spraying outfits, etc. I H C oil tractors for plowing, threshing, etc., 12 to 60-horse power.

See this engine at the I H C local dealer's place of business and learn what it will do for you. Or write for catalogues.

An Important Meeting.

The directors of the Chestertown Driving Association have called a meeting for next Wednesday of the Masters of all the granges of the county for the purpose of arranging for the exhibit of farm products which it is proposed to hold during the fair in August. The association is very anxious to get all the farmers and grangers in the county interested in this matter. Hence the meeting on Wednesday. The stock of the association is selling rapidly, several good blocks having been disposed of during the past week. The grounds will shortly be enclosed with a high board fence, large exhibition halls and a grandstand will be erected, and the track put in fine shape as soon as possible. Mr. John Mallalieu, the well-known trainer, will arrive on Monday with a large string of trotters and pacers, which he will train at the track. The first matinee will be held on Decoration Day in May, and everything is being done to have everything in first-class working order for the fair to be held in August. There is some stock left, and anyone wishing to buy, see Clifton L. Jarrell or James G. Beck, and you can get your money's worth.

Our Merchants' Interest.

Ladies, you can get a fine suit, stylishly made, at H. Sachs & Son's. The senior member of the firm is an experienced ladies' tailor, and he guarantees satisfaction.

A representative of Hamburger & Sons, the well-known Balto. clothing merchants, will be at Vansant & Newsome's store next Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26. They have a beautiful line of samples from which you may make a selection for one of their guaranteed fits.

William A. Burk's lines of ready made and made to measure shoes for men, women and children are becoming more popular every day. He does all kinds of repair work in the neatest possible manner at reasonable rates.

C. C. Jones, the exclusive shoe store man, has a rich line of summer shoes of fine style and comfortable lasts. The feature of Jones' shoes is wear and comfort, as well as style. Try a pair and be convinced.

H. H. Jefferson & Bro. will deliver goods to any part of the county and Peninsula by parcels post. They have an interesting statement in their big adv. on page 8 this morning in reference to the parcels post system, and incidentally they inject a word in reference to their celebrated J. & K. shoes for ladies and misses. Read their adv.

Just think of buying an all strictly hand tailored all pure wool suit in any color for $12.50 that usually sells for from $17.00 to $25.00. That is what H. Sachs & Son offers you today. See their adv. on page 7, for it is full of interesting suggestions.

Hochschild, Kohn & Co., the great Baltimore store, where you can get the best of anything and everything, is with us again. This store needs no introduction to the public. It is a Mecca for thousands of people from the Easton Shore, who always receive courteous and prompt attention. Give this splendid store a part of your patronage.
