Clubs

13TH EXCLUSIVES — were entertained at pinochle by Mrs. Hilda E. Moseley of 1130 W. Lafayette Avenue, last week.

The club will hold its annual services on the 14th at Ebenezer Methodist Church.

Prizes at cards went to Mrs. Lillian Brown, first; Miss Lillian Burrell, second; and Mrs. Marguerite Oliver, third.

LES DUCHESSES—The group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Katie Baker, 820 N. Gilmor St. Plans for a supper were discussed. Prizes at cards went to Mrs Rea White, first; Mrs. Charlotte Jeanus, second; and Mrs. Marie Clark and Mrs. Mary Willis, third. Mrs. Sarah Brooks is president of the club.

ON-TO-CINCINNATI—The club met with Mrs. Mamie McKinnon, Wednesday evening. Plans for a variety supper in April were made. Mrs. Mary Cole is president.

Howard Alumni in Baltimore Honor 'Models' at Charter Dinner

Three outstanding Howard alumni were honored when the Baltimore Club of the Howard University Alumni Association held its annual Charter Day dinner at Morgan State; recently. They were Dr. Dwight O. W. Holmes, president of Morgan State College; Dr. Ralph Young, M.D., founder of the Clark Webb Memorial Recreation Center; and the Rev. Hiram E. Smith, all of Baltimore. Seen, left to right above are Miss Ethel Wise, Mrs. John L. Berry, Mr. Berry, Mrs. Dwight O. W. Holmes, Dr. Holmes, and Dr. Bernard Harris, who served as toast master.

MISS ALBERTA MARR

Miss Marr is the "New Look" in traveling saleslady, representing W. J. R. Watkins Co. Advt.

Mrs. Ammons Runs for Board

MT. VERNON, N.Y.—Backed by an independent citizens committee, Mrs. Martha Ammons has been nominated to run for a post on the school board, here.

If elected, Mrs. Ammons will be the first non-white member of this city's school board. The nominee, a former Baltimore school teacher and civic worker, has had wide experience in the education field, and has the support of both parties here.

Couple Marks Fortieth Year

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spriggs of 1357 Woodyear St. celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary with a banquet on Sunday.

The couple, who are parents of seven children and 19 grandchildren, were attended by some of them, including:

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spriggs of New York City, Mrs. Lillian Moulden, Miss Elenora Spriggs, Miss Mary Spriggs, Thomas Spriggs, Mr. and Mrs. James Jenkins of Turners Station, Mrs. Helen Clayton of New Rochelle, N.Y.;

Thomas Spriggs of Camp Parole, his brother; Mrs. Georgianna Tongue of West River, Md., a sister; and a nephew, Robert Randall of Annapolis, Md.

SANS-SOUCI—Members of the pinochle club played at the home of Miss Avis Smith, 2517 Madison Ave., Friday evening. Prizes were taken by Mrs. Bertye White, Mrs. Isbella Jackson and Miss Myrtle Brown.

Training School Groups to Share A. K. A. Concert

with Lula Jones Garrett

AWAKE BETIMES to a morning of sunlight dappled in an occult merriment of the week, of the life that swings on in our little nest, where pattern on the floor. Dreaming with one eye shut of the time when the atmosphere is as tight as a fiddle string, but very, very merry. So to the news of the day:

Mabel Frisby was busy, this week, whipping into shape plans for the last and major concert of the series sponsored by Alpha Kappa Alpha sorors, when they present Dean Dixon at Polytechnic School, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Dixon is fetching along an extra contingent of musicians as a special treat, and the sorors are sharing their very scarce seats with the inmates from the School for Girls at Glenburnie, the boys from Cheltenham and the children from Kenan Hospital.

Girl Friends, who counted more than 500 noses at their cabaret party, Friday evening, are now counting how many dollars they had left after the tremendous expenses, for their FEPC project. Those entertainers they featured were from the Social Security dramatic group.

MARITAES HOST

The guys who think that the gala just languish when they are not about and only dress to spark the masculine eye, should see a motion picture of the cocktailer given on Saturday afternoon in the Blue Room of the York Hotel by the Maritaes — Catherine Adams, May Adams, Marie Bennett, Beatrice Butler, Helen Burwell, Yvette Murphy, Chita Nicholas, Etta Phifer and Ethel Rich. Only Ethel was not about, being for the nonce in California with husband John.

The hostesses in the smartest collection of black frocks I've seen in many a day, hats . . . cocktails — and wrist corsages of orchids, passed their own tidbits from a table service entirely in silver.

Catherine Adams donned a frock of crepe with a hip-bordering peplum in taffeta, topped it with a hat draped in pale rose and blue plumes; and Rea Butler's topper was a poppy filled crownless affair which she wore with a draped-front black frock. At first look I though Yvette and Chita had duplicate frocks, but a second gander showed the latter's to be black with a bow at the back neck, while Mrs. Murphy's was navy. Both were diagonally buttoned across the back with a side back drape caught with a big bow, Mae Adams was in a lace topped affair, a bonnet hat and Marie Bourne in a taffeta suit, and Helen Burwell in champagne satin. Etta Phifer chose slick black, and then the guests began dropping a few fashion foibles:

Jean Jeanette Christmas in sequins, the top white, the skirt black, and her tiny pillot in black sequins; Victorine Adams in pale creme wool embroidered in bold, a gold cap that fitted snugly over her dark locks; Maebelle Weaver, in a Dior model of taffetta with a bouffant overskirt, Dora Hutchinson in a green and buttercup print made with a ballerina skirt and hooded blouse, the hood sequin trimmed — and the flower and tulle hats blooming all over the place.

Among those seen were:

Edith Gail, Florence Gloster, Fannie Garrett, Virginia Gunn, Emmy Gilkes, Irma George, Lula Patterson, Gwen Henson, Marguerite Harmon, Ethel Harris, Hilda Higgins;

Sue Harmon, Ethel Hucles, Ruby Greene, Dora Hutchinson, Beth Johnson, Constantia Jackson, Laura Jones, Bayane Jones, Emily Jones;

Thelma Lawrence, Ruth Lightson, Julia McDaniel, Xaveria McDonald, Blanche McRae, Sadie Murphy, Madelise Murphy, Pearl Pennington, Mary Phillips, Hilda Parker;

Inez Reed, Ellsworthe Rhetta, Nickey Randolph, Doris Silvera, Ruth Shipley, Beth Saunders, Guinevere Spencer, Alice Sykes, Anne Smith;

Gertrude Urquhart, Doris Tarter, Marbelle Weaver, Sadie Wilson, Maude Woodland, Delaphine Warrington, Pauline Watts, Ethel Wise, Muriel Wilson;

Alice Young, Thelma Ashe, Victorine Adams, Lilla Harnum, Marian Danfield, Margaret Butler, Rhea Brown, Olga Chambers, Mattie Connor, Elizabeth Cludup; Iris Carpenter, Jeanette Christmas, Romnie Carr, Augusta Chiswell, May Downs, Nellie Cillis, Margaret Ewing and May Fortune.

AT THE BETHUNE TESTIMONIAL

A score or more of Baltimoreans flipped up to New York, last Thursday, to celebrate with First Lady Mary Bethune, her 72nd birthday. Among them were Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Alleyne, Fannie Howard, Josiah Henry, Murial Johnson, Mattie Cossey, Verda Welcome, Mae Downs, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Dedmond and the Randolph Waterses.

Most of them stayed for the week end, seeing the shows, making merry at the Ted Vidals party, dining with Estelle Osborne at her Russian cafe party, joining the Leroy Berrys and the Berkley Butlers of hereabouts for the fight and attendant activities, and generally hobnobbing with the folks who came from all sections of the country for the testimonial, including:

Bendley Cyrus, Chicago attorney; Mrs. L. M. Lester, national president of the Dental Auxiliary, and president of the San Antonio, Texas Metropolitan Council; Mrs. John Mahalas, also of San Antonio, Mrs. Buena Vista Berry of Virginia, Mrs. Jean Clore of Washington, Dr. Dorothy Ferebee of the Capital, Col. Campbell C. Johnson of the same place;

Mrs. Marjorie Stewart Joyner of Chicago, Mrs. Dorothy Lymas of Philadelphia, Mrs. Sara Spencer Washington of the Quaker Town, Major Harriett West of Washington and the hundred and more others who made up the 100 guests.

Mrs. Bethune, regal in black crepe with a delicate pink lace top, her fabulous imported shawl and flowers did a slight plea for the carrying on of her pet, Bethune-Cookman School, and all the guests got a nip of curiosity as to the purse which was presented to her and to which only the slightest of reference was made.

DENTAL AUXILIARY CONCERT

Members of the Baltimore Club of the National Dental Auxiliary perked over to Washington, Wednesday night, to join their sister chapter at the presentation of the Howard Choir at Metropolitan Church, and be feted by the Washington chapter at the Music Club after the concert.

Participating were Doctors and Mesdames Maurice Doles, Charles Watts, James Allsopp, Bernard Christmas, James White; Mrs. John Cossey, Dr. Isaac Young, and Mrs. Alice Arrington.

POT POURRI

Mrs. Robert Matthews (with her newest infant, a daughter) is refreshing her fondness for the old place as guest of her parents, the Carl Murphys of Morgan Park. Two of her brothers-in-law and sisters, the James Woods and Leeland Joneses, will have their babies, Frances Murphy Wood and Martha Elizabeth Murphy Matthews, christened following morning worship at St. James Episcopal Church, Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Keifer Jackson welcomed their fifth grandchild, Wednesday, when their son and daughter-in-law, the Bowen Jackson (Patricia Ismael of Sierra Wales) became parents of a seven pound, eight ounce daughter at Johns Hopkins Hospital. The baby will be named Christine Rose.

JONESE ENTERTAIN

On a Saturday ago, Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Jones held forth at a dinner party in honor of Mr. Marietie Chiles Gray of Washington, with Doctors and Mesdames Maurice Doles, Charles Watts, S. B. Hughes, Chalmers Hairston and Bruce Alleyne in to meet their guest.

HUBERT FETED

Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Hughes and daughters, Charlotte and Sara, have of themselves to Washington for the Lawrence Oxleys' dinner party for Miss Hubert, Saturday. Mr. Hubert has recently been named one of the secretaries at the American Embassy in Haiti, and will be leaving soon for Port-au-Prince.

WILLIAMSES' SUPPER

And the buffet supper given by Dr. and Mrs. Macee Williams, here, Tuesday night, took on an international flavor, when they entertained for a group of physicians who have been sent by the government of India to study at Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene.

Guests included:

Dr. and Mrs. Chandra Sekar from Tamil, Dr. Lakshmu from Pakistan, Dr. Satya Swaroop, a Hindu; Dr. Davananda Konchedy from Kanarese, Dr. Masood Husain Naqvi from Urdu, Dr. Zubaila Hasuiddin, Dr. and Mrs. Kontantin Sparkuhl from Los Angeles, Cal., Lt. Ken Williams of Springfield, Ohio, John Collins, Mrs. Fannie Garret, and Mrs. Blanche McRae.

POM-POM—The club was entertained by Miss Willie B. Alexander of 129 Aisquith St., Tuesday evening. Plans for a tea on Easter Sunday were made.
