EDITORS.

SOME of the very people who are now sounding the praises of Mr. Bryan publicly, were among those Democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896 and 1900.

WE have other witnesses upon whom we shall call for testimony as to the cause of the defeat of Democratic tickets from 1895 to 1903. We may call upon some of the Organization candidates for such testimony before long.

WE asked one of the prominent Democrats of the county the other day if he remembered the trying times between 1895 and 1903, and how the Democratic tickets were defeated. His reply was: "I remember it with feelings of great regret."

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that the Road Engineer has advertised that no more work shall be done on the roads because the County Commissioners will appropriate no more money, work aplenty is being done. Of course the workers are not working for the fun of the thing, and the question is where are they getting their pay?

YOU can buy what is called an all-wool suit in London for $14. The same suit in New York or Baltimore would cost $28, because it is put off as "imported goods," don't you know. In anticipation of "free wool" what American farmer would not be willing to take 16 cents a pound for his wool if he can get a $28 suit of clothes for $14?

EVERY candidate on the Organization ticket, from top to bottom, is identified with the present road management, and is being supported by a high protective tariff newspaper, and those who are close to Senator John Walter Smith, the standpat Protectionist Senator from this State. The Organization's policies are directly opposed to the people's best interests. How, then, can you support their candidates, Mr. Tax-payers?

THE action of former President Taft in placing all fourth-class postmasters under civil service rules will be overturned by the Wilson administration, for reasons which the President regards as sufficient and convincing. This means that the protection heretofore given by the civil service under which practically only Republicans served, will be lifted, and the Democrats will have a chance at the postoffice appointments, including the deputyships and all.

ONE of the Organization candidates asked a tax-payer to vote for him in the coming primaries the other day. The voter said: "No, sir, you are too close to the road engineer, and I don't propose to vote for any man who is allied with such road management as we have now." Another voter was asked to vote for one of the Organization candidates, and he replied: "No, sir, I'll never go back on Ben Crew. He has made a good commissioner, and we want men in office like Ben Crew."

MR. CHARLES H. GRASTY, editor of the Baltimore Sun, tendered Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan and about one hundred distinguished guests a dinner at the Hotel Belvedere, in Baltimore, on Thursday evening. The principal speakers were Mr. Bryan, Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic floor leader in the House of Representatives, Hon. Wm. L. Marbury, candidate for the long term senatorship, Mr. Grasty and the Bentztown Bard. Hope H. Barroll, Esq., leader of the Kent county Democracy, was one of the guests. Mr. Bryan's speech was simply magnificent, and it was received with marked enthusiasm. Mr. Marbury was given an ovation, and made an eloquent speech.

THE Baltimore American, the official organ of the standpat element of the Republican party and the staunch advocate of the re-election of Senator John Walter Smith, is doing a lot of talking about the standpatters and the Bull Moosers getting together. From all the information we can gather there is no likelihood of a coalition of the forces, because the Bull Moosers believe they will be stultifying themselves, and subverting the very purpose for which they withdraw from the Republican party as doing such a thing. We believe that many of the Bull Moosers would affiliate with the Progressive element of the Democratic party, where they belong, before they will return to the Republican party.

BE ON GUARD, MR. TAX-PAYER.

That meeting at Betterton on Saturday night which was attended by one hundred or more of our tax-payers and county officials was a dandy, and will put an end to the wild rumors that the present Board of County Commissioners is opposed to spending money for improvements. The Board of County Commissioners is not penurious; they are opposed to wasting the people's money for work on the roads that gives no benefit whatever because of the incompetent road management, and in this position they have the hearty sympathy and co-operation of our tax-payers. They will spend money and spend it liberally when it can be done by giving the people value received for their money. But in our judgment they will not appropriate one dollar more of the tax-payers' money than the present iniquitous road law compels them to appropriate so long as the present incompetent and absolutely negligent management and supervision continues. In the meantime the commissioners have determined to assist in road building under competent supervision, and with the aid of the Shoemaker Act, and the assistance of the State Road Commission which Mr. Miller has so patriotically assured the commissioners is at their disposal. It remains for the tax-payers to force the repeal of this present road law, by nominating and electing the Anti-Organization candidates for the Legislature, and then demand of Mr. Beck that he allow the bill to pass the Senate, as he refused to do in the last session. It is the only way in the world the people will ever get relief, for if the Organization elect candidates to the Legislature they will repeal the Gibbs road law and enact another that will enable them to keep control of the roads. The thing to do is to elect the Anti-Organization candidates for the Legislature, first as a check upon the Organization in the passage of laws that will take any more of their money, and then force Mr. Beck to repeal the Gibbs law in the Senate. The tax-payers have got Mr. Beck this time, for if he fails to give the people the relief they are crying for, they will put him and his Organization on the junk pile in the primaries. THE SAFETY OF THE TAX-PAYERS LIES IN THE ELECTION OF ANTI-ORGANIZATION CANDIDATES FOR THE LEGISLATURE, for if the Organization delegates get in, or if Urie gets a finger in the pie, it is good bye to the tax-payers' interests. We advise our tax-payers to be on their guard and to refuse to vote for any man in the primaries who is at all in sympathy with the present road law or its management.

IS THIS DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE?

We stated editorially last week that there is a cloud of witnesses in this county who can testify to the past political record of the Kent News, and who, if they will state what they have said time and again, will disclose to the people some startling information relative to the disloyalty of that paper to the Democratic party in the years from 1895 to 1903. But the paper itself is its own best evidence of its wavering Democracy, especially when things don't go to suit them. You know President Wilson has given evidences recently that he does not intend to recognize the friends of the Kent News, who are in the minority in this county, and because of this fact, we do not hesitate to say that you will notice from time to time in the columns of the Kent News some little squib that will indicate more than a column of matter would, just where they stand and with whom their sympathies lie. This was their attitude from 1895 to 1903, when the Republicans had control of the Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Supervisors of Election, and it will be their attitude toward the Wilson administration, just as certain as they receive no recognition in the way of appointments and preference. We refer you to an editorial, which appeared in their paper on Saturday, which in our judgment is the most undemocratic doctrine which a paper which passes as "that stalwart old Democratic sheet of Kent county"—as the Cecil Democrat is pleased to call it—could possibly publish. Listen to what it says:

"In view of 'free wool' the price of wool has dropped to 16 cents. The farmers in Kent are beginning to realize what the Tariff really means."

Is this the kind of Democratic doctrine for the "stalwart old Democratic sheet of Kent county" to teach? Is it in harmony with the principles for which the Democratic party stands to-day, or is it the John Walter Smith kind of Democracy? Such a statement as the above could have no other purpose than to inflame the mind of the farmer against a reduction of the tariff, the only issue upon which the Democratic party won its victory, and for which the people of this counrty have been clamoring for years. And here is another squib which appeared last Saturday in the Kent News:

"Please pass that Tariff Bill as soon as possible and let's find out what it will do. It's been tariff for scores of years and the business world will be a thousand times better off when the question is settled."

You don't have to go outside the columns of the paper itself to find evidences of its lack of genuine Democracy. The fact of the business is that not longer than two years ago, under protection the farmer got only 12 cents a pound for his wool, but because of scarcity the price last year reached 29 cents. The same interests which controlled the market when wool sold for 12 cents, control it to-day, and why should not the American farmer be willing to take a little less for his wool, if he is going to benefit the rest of his fellowmen, and will get back all that he loses in another direction. Any paper that preaches any other doctrine than the greatest good to the greatest number is not a good Democrat, and a paper that preaches such doctrine as the clippings from the Kent News discloses, should ally itself with the High Tariff Protectionists. We will wager our plant that you would have seen no such stuff as that in the Kent News if any other man than President Woodrow Wilson had been in the White House. It is a slap at the Wilson administration, and no good Democrat would be guilty of such proceedure.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

SIMPLY CAN'T HELP IT.

"The Kent News was among the many who proved their disloyalty to the Democratic ticket in 1895, and the Kent News not only assisted in electing a Republican Governor, but that paper was absolutely responsible for the defeat of the County Democratic ticket in 1895, as well as in intervening years to 1903."—Barroll organ April 19, 1913.

"NEVER HAS THERE BEEN A MORE DELIBERATE NOR A MORE WILFUL FALSEHOOD PUT IN PRINT THAN THAT CONTAINED IN THE ABOVE.

"The Kent News files of these years were in the office of the Barroll organ and yet Mr. Bowers, who was out of the county during these years, preferred to take the order from the Boss rather than find out the truth for himself. To name the ticket nominated in 1895 which contains the names of Hon. Marion deK. Smith, Hon. Jas. A. Pearce, Philip G. Wilmer, John F. Nicholson, Wm. M. Slay, Esq., S. F. Cooper, Samuel Bargess, Samuel Todd, Bedford Roe, Jas. W. Ivens, George W. Hatcherson, Chas. C. Strong, J. M. J. Byron, R. F. Moffett and John E. Hurst is enough to prove the falsehood of the statement, but the files of the News which are in the Barroll organ's office, show the News' incessant and enthusiastic fight for Democratic tickets, and for Democratic victories, local and State! But we look charitably upon the writer when we are reminded that 'He can't help it."—Kent News April 26, 1913.

When a paper or person tells one lie it requires a succession of falsehoods to defend the first one. Such is the case with the organ which is charging Senator Smith with voting against Bryan, voting against the Haman Bill. These have been proven to be wilful falsehoods. The most charitable view, therefore, to take, is that they simply can't help it.—Kent News, April 12th, 1913.

EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT, Sirs: We are enclosing you clippings from the Kent News of April 12th and the 26th. We wish to know why you cannot defend in your columns the personal attacks made on you as individuals as well as you can the ones made on others. You will please publish the clippings as enclosed and let the public see who is the aggressor in this matter, which looks to us as though it was the Kent News.

Furthermore, the most of us were present at a service which was conducted by Fred G. Usiton, where he called on Brother Bowers to lead us in prayer. The finger of scorn should be pointed at any man who dares to act in this capacity and then call his brother such vile names.

Can you show any issue of the Kent News where they have written an editorial discussing any question intelligently? You will find nothing but sarcasm. Sarcasm denotes ignorance. They will print in their paper lengthy letters written by biased-minded people who deal in sarcasm as do they. We note it in all the articles. The one we now refer to is the one headed in sarcasm as others, THEY CAN'T HELP IT.

They refer to the men nominated in 1895 and 1899. The criticism should come in the elections of the above dates which all of us know was laid to the door of the Kent News. One o the men they mention was one of the most outspoken in his denunciation of the unfaithfulness of the Kent News to the ticket, mostly in 1899. They are trying to mislead the public in bringing in the nomination when it was the election which the public at the time and do yet remember.

We would suggest you publish the following by Hermonicus:

Oh, struggle with poverty, battle with wrong.
Be true in the conflict of life;
Go forward with spirit and courage and song,
Be not driven out from the strife.
Though enemies strike you with trecherous hand,
Be noble, whatever your class;
Be anything honest that life may demand,
But don't be a snake in the grass.

—NOT POLITICIANS.

WHO WAS IT?

It is rumored that a Chestertown or Centreville lawyer was in Baltimore and went to a barber shop to procure a wig. In taking the dimensions of the lawyer's head the barber exclaimed: "Why, how long your head is, sir!" "Yes," replied the legal gentleman, "we lawyers must have long heads." The barber proceeded with his vocation, but at length exclaimed, "Why, sir, your head is as thick as it is long!" The lawyer decided the wig unnecessary and departed.

A SAW MILL SENATOR.

Collier's Weekly, that great paper of the people, is after Senator Smith again this week in a most pointed editorial. It says:

There will be one good immediate result of the success of the constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of Senators: it causes the senatorship in Maryland to go before the people of that state and, therefore, ought to end the hope of John Walter Smith to succeed himself. The Senate has so changed in the last two or three years by the elimination of undesirable Senators that Mr. Smith is now one of the three or four least desirable Senators left in that body. He regards his position in the Senate not as an opportunity to serve the people, but as a place in which to advance his own personal fortunes. There are few things more discreditable in the Senate in recent years than for this Democrat, elected on a platform which promised free lumber, deliberately to go back on that pledge and repeatedly vote with the Republicans in favor of the tariff on lumber. Not only did he thus directly serve his own buisness interests and the interests of the entire lumber industry: he voted for the retention of Lorimer, thereby helping out the wishes of Edward Hines, president of the American Lumber Association and lobbyist for Lorimer.

INNOVATION AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE.

Board of Visitors and Governors Abolishes Tuition Fees.

At the recent meeting of the Visitors and Governors of Washington College it was decided that hereafter any boy who is a resident of Maryland and who has completed the course of study in his home school district will be received as a student of the college free of tuition, provided he is sufficiently advanced to enter any of the classes maintained at the college and is known to be of good character.

This regulation has been under consideration by the board for sometime. Its adoption will of course, deprive the college of some revenue from tuition fees, but it is the belief of the college authorities that this sacrifice should be made by any college which receives a considerable part of its revenue from the State.

The new provision will in no way duplicate the work of the public schools, as no boy will be permitted to take advantage of it until he can show that he has gone as far as the public school in his district affords him an opportunity and will have to go away from home to continue his studies.

It merely relates the college in a definite way to the public school system and gives assurance to every ambitious boy that he can pursue his studies both through the public school and the college without tuition charge.

Answering Inquires.

To show to our patrons the extent to which the TRANSCRIPT is read, we give the following. Last week a gentleman living in Clifton Forge, Va., wrote to us for information relative to the bodies of drowned men found in Chester river and the bay shore. We replied to the inquiry, and forwarded the letter to Squire Quail at Ford's Store, asking him to forward the necessary information.

This week we received the following inquiry from Baltimore, which no doubt, will recall some interesting history relative to ye olden times:

Baltimore, May 5, 1913.

EDITORS CHESTERTOWN TRANSCRIPT, Dear Sirs: I write you to know if there is any member of the Reed Rifles, Captain E. F. Perkins, living in Chestertown. The company was the nucleus of the Second Eastern Shore Regiment, Col. Ned Wilkins. This may be a very late day to make such an inquiry, but still I would like to know. I helped to form that regiment, and occupied the position of chief musician and raised a drum corps, drilled and taught them. We pitched our tents on Doctor Whaland's lot. I made every parade the Reed Rifles made from its first inception, and when the company went into service they sent for me to take charge of the music. If convenient, I would like to know the names and addresses of the original members now living, of whom are John Bordley, John Duyer and John Redue and others. Kindly address me.

Yours with respect,
I. E. HEMMELL,
Drum Major or said Regiment. 915 N. Carey St.

Mr. Milton Baker, Mr. James Lambert, and Mr. James W. Chapman, all of Chestertown, Md., are among the survivors of the Reed Rifles, and we have referred the inquiry to Mr. Baker for answer.
