HOW MY BOY WENT DOWN.

It was not on the field of battle,
It was not with a ship at sea;
But a fate far worse than either,
That stole him away from me.
'Twas the death in the ruby wine-cup,
That the reason and senses drown;
He drank the alluring poison,
And thus, my boy went down.

Down from the heights of manhood,
To the depths of disgrace and sin;
Down to the worthless being,
From the hope of what might have been.
For the brand of a beast besotted,
He bartered his manhood's crown;
Through the gate of a sinful pleasure
My poor, weak boy went down.

'Tis only the same old story
That mothers so often tell
With accents of infinite sadness,
Like the tones of a funeral-bell;
But I never once thought, when I heard it,
I should learn of the meaning myself;
I thought he'd be true to his mother;
I thought he'd be true to himself.

But alas for my hopes all delusion!
Alas for his youthful pride!
Alas, who are safe, when danger
Is open on every side?
Oh, can nothing destroy this great evil?
No bar in their pathway be thrown,
To save, from the terrible maelstrom,
The thousands of boys going down?

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Dodd, one of our oldest and most highly esteemed lady residents, quietly observed her 81st birthday on Saturday. Mrs. Dodd was the recipient of a number of birthday cards and remembrances from relatives. The TRANSCRIPT extends congratulations and wishes her many more returns of the happy day.

Mrs. Albert I. Dugan, of Baltimore, was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Jack Duyer, for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Jarrell motored to Cambridge on Friday afternoon and spent the week-end with her brother, Mr. Arthur Hurlock, and his family.

Mrs. J. Cleveland White gave a very attractive luncheon of eight covers at her home on Isabelle street, Salisbury, Thursday, complimentary to her sister, Mrs. Hubert Ringgold. The guests were: Mrs. Hubert Ringgold, of Baltimore; Mrs. Wood, of Boston; Mrs. W. K. Perrin, Mrs. Walter S. Sheppard, Mrs. J. M. Toulson, Mrs. W. S. Gordy and Mrs. J. M. Dick.

Miss Watkins, of Baltimore, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Brice on the avenue during the week.

Mr. D. B. McMenamin is in Philadelphia for the benefit of his health.

Mrs. P. J. Cooper spent the week-end with relatives in Baltimore.

Mr. Lewin Usilton, who holds a lucrative position with the Turner Construction Company, of Baltimore, spent the day with friends here on Tuesday.

Mr. Enoch Pleasanton, janitor at Chester cemetery, is laid up with a spraned ankle.

Mrs. Mollie Farrington, of Chestertown, is visiting friends in Baltimore.

Dr. H. C. Simpers spent several days last week in Western Maryland.

Messrs. W. E. Duyer, Merrick Clements, W. S. Carroll and J. W. Crouch visited Middletown last week on an inspection trip combined with pleasure.

Miss Caroline Smyth, the efficient teacher of Fairlee school, has been detained at home by sickness. Miss Anna Jones, of the Chestertown High School is substituting.

Miss Hettie Cooper Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Hicks, graduated from James Walker Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, N. C., on Thursday of last week.

Miss Edith Dunbracco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunbracco, graduated as trained nurse from Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, last week.

Mrs. Charles Billingslea and children, of Chicago, are guests of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Graham. Mrs. Billingslea is the wife of Dr. Charles Billingslea, surgeon in the United States Army, now stationed in Chicago.

We regret to state that Mr. John F. Ernest, one of the First District's most popular and prominent business men, living in Sassafras, has been quite ill-disposed of late. We trust that he may be restored to good health shortly.

Mrs. Ruth V. Gorsuch, mother, and Mrs. Clara Frainie, sister, of Baltimore, are guests of Mrs. R. C. Harris, on Front street.

Oxford, Md.

The pretty town on the Tred Avon river is now indeed a scene of beauty. Great activity everywhere in the crab industry. This gives employment to a number of people, some earning as high as twelve to fourteen dollars a week picking crab meat. For natural beauty the town of Oxford cannot be surpassed. The public park, located on Morris street, next to the high school, and fronting on the river is one of the finest play grounds in the State. Numerous shade trees with seats built around them and a well of pure water, make it a very desirable place in hot weather. The M. E. Church held a lawn festival there on Tuesday and Wednesday nights and the Oxford Band rendered the popular selections during the evening. There are three churches, the M. E., M. P. and P. E., with five ministers, two M. E. two M. P. and one P. E. The church services are well attended. The pastor of the M. E. Church has organized a Men's Bible Class with 19 members and it is a sight to see those men going to Sunday school. Some of them have not been in a Sunday school for 20 years. On Sunday morning the Red Men will attend the M. E. Church in a body and the pastor, Rev. W. M. McCann, will preach a special sermon. The Children's Day services will be a joint affair, both Methodist churches holding on the same night. The average attendance at the M. E. S. S. is 90 and every minute of the session is taken up with the work. Under the leadership of the pastor a new parsonage is being bought, a large 9-room house on the main street and the lawn extending to the Tred Avon river, where a full view of the famous yatch races which are held every summer can be had. We might mention in an off-hand way that there will be plenty of room on the lawn for Chestertown friends, and a special box for the newspaper editors. The new train service goes into effect here on the 25th of May, and this will give us 3 trains each week, one of them a pullman. The E. L. will be well represented in Easton next week when the Annual Convention of Easton District will be held. Easton is 9 miles from Oxford.

A Bull That Gives Milk.—One of the unusual attractions at the Delaware College Experimental Farm, is a two-year-old registered Guernsey bull that gives milk. Professor Harry Hayward, director of the farm, in speaking of this bull made the following statement: "While, of course, it is not abnormal for a bull to give milk it is rather unusual. Those who are informed know that in most cases the males have undeveloped mamary glands. It is rare, however, that these glands become functional and this happens more frequently in the case of dairy bred bulls than with any other males."

The "Good Old Summer Time" is Again With Us

There is no better way of keeping a record of our outings and good times at home and on the farm than the KODAK way. Every one enjoys looking at good pictures—when they are a record of our good times they are all the more interesting.

There are hundreds of things on the farm, in town and on the water that we would love to have a picture of in years to come.

We have a full line of Eastman Kodaks and Supplies.

Give the girl or boy one for a graduation present. It will be a pleasure to you as well as to them.
