LOCAL MATTERS

Stop! Look! Read!—Still Pond Grange will hold another basket picnic on May 31. Indoors, no flies, no mosquitoes! Only a gen-u-wine good time. Don't forget the date, Saturday, May 31, 5.30 P. M.

Marriage Invitations.—Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Graham have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Jessie, to Mr. E. Dale Adkins, of Salisbury, Md., in Christ Methodist Protestant Church, Thursday evening, June the fifth, at 8 o'clock. No cards will be sent in the town or county.

Improved Train Service.—Improved train service will become effective on the Delaware and Maryland Divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad on Sunday. The company is using every effort to give the public the very best train service possible, and they have incorporated this new service in order to expedite travel. The Chestertown train will leave week days at 7.37 A. M. and 2.51 P. M. and the Sunday train will leave at 3:55 P. M.

Miss Pennington Injured.—Miss Louise Pennington, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Pennington, of Catonsville, was painfully burned on Wednesday evening of last week. Miss Pennington was driving her automobile, when something went wrong and the car refused to move. She could not see to fix the engine and lighted a match, when the fumes from the lubricating oil exploded and Miss Pennington was badly burned. Her hair was burned off and her face will be scarred for life. Miss Pennington is a niece of Mr. Liston Pennington, of near Millington.

Mr. Parks Loses Case.—A jury in the Centreville Court in the case of Griffith, Boyd & Co. vs. R. F. Parks & Son, on Saturday rendered a verdict of $1424.65 in favor of Griffith, Boyd & Co. The case was remanned to the Centreville court for a new trial by the Court of Appeals after a jury in the lower court a year ago, gave a verdict for Griffith, Boyd & Co. The case grew out of an alleged violation of a contract by R. F. Parks & Son, in which the latter agreed to purchase a quantity of fertilizer as agents of Griffith, Boyd & Co. Hope H. Barroll represented Griffith, Boyd & Co. and R. Groome Parks and Lewin W. Wickes represented R. F. Parks & Son.

Will of the Late John N. Dodd.—The will of the late John N. Dodd was filed for probate in the Orphans' Court on Tuesday. It was written by the late Marion deK. Smith, dated March 26th, 1908, and was witnessed by the late Prof. Thos. H. Topping and the late Geo. W. Hatcherson. The will leaves all the personal property absolutely to his widow. His real estate is held in trust, with privilege to sell if the widow desires, and the net proceeds are to be invested by the trustee, and the net income paid to his widow during her life. At her death, the proceeds from the real estate are divided into three parts, one-third part each being left to his nephews, Charles L. Dodd, Harry L. Dodd and J. Newell Graham. The late Marion deK. Smith was named as trustee, but by reason of his death, the circuit court will have to appoint a trustee. There is a codicil to the will dated December 6th, 1909, referring to the bequest to his nephew, J. Newell Graham. The codicil created a trust for Mr. Graham until he becomes of age. In the event of Mr. Graham's death, or leaving no issue, the codicil directs him to make a will and dequeath his portion of the estate to the original testators's niece, Miss Jessie Graham.

Mr. J. F. Thompson had seven new Ford cars in his garage on Saturday night ready for delivery to purchasers this week.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Farmers report the wheat crop looking bad in certain sections of the county.

Graham, Clements & Sutton last week delivered to Mr. Clarence Newsome, of Betterton, a new No. 25 Model Buick.

Mr. Owen C. Smith, one of Queen Anne's hustling truckers and poultrymen, had the first peas in market on Tuesday morning.

Master Hope Barroll has a brood of 20 young wild ducks hatched from a pair which he got last winter. Hope is as proud as Lucifer of his pets.

Jane Yorker, one of the oldest and most respectable colored-women in Chestertown and a servant in the family of Mr. George Rouse for years, died recently.

Ground was broken this week for the new milk station building at Worton station. The building will be erected by the hustling firm of Stavely & Bowers, Lynch.

The case of Richardson vs. the County Commissioners of Kent county, which was set for trial in Easton this week, has been postponed by agreement of counsel.

Mr. James Brice has purchased from Mr. Jacob F. Thompson, local agent, a new 1913 Ford touring car. Mr. Brooks also received his Ford car this week from Mr. Thompson.

The place of the entertainment and festival to be held by Union M. E. Church, Worton, has been changed from Mrs. Geo. T. Williams' lawn to Worton Hall this evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Skirven has purchased a lot in Fairlee, adjoining the property of Mr. Harry T. Hoyle, and Contractor Azariah M. Kendall will erect for her a comfortable home.

The annual election for one member of the Board of Town Commissioners of Betterton to succeed Mr. John Brice, whose term expires next, will be held on Saturday, May 31. Messrs. Arthur P. Emerson and Col. A. H. Suplee are candidates.

The Woman Suffragists are preparing to invade Kent county. You'll know they have been here after they leave too, and man, poor man, if you are not now in favor of women voting, get ready for the sacrifice, for the women will be after you.

Chester river and its tributaries are said to be literally alive with soft crabs. Messrs. Thomas F. Yates and John Hughes went out on Monday morning and they caught 22 soft crabs and about three dozen peelers and busters and were home by twelve o'clock. They crabbed about as far as Skipper's Point.

Blackway & Waddell's bottling factory, for the manufacture of all kinds of soft drinks, began operations on Thursday afternoon. This is a most commendable move on the part of these two good business young men, and the TRANSCRIPT wishes them success in their new enterprise.

The entertainment, strawberry and ice cream fete held by the teachers of Worton public school and advertised exclusively in the TRANSCRIPT was a great success financially and otherwise, all characters taking their part well. The hall was packed to overflowing, quite a few being unable to even find standing room. Hurrah! for Worton and the TRANSCRIPT.

We stated last week that Mr. Seymour Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Williams, of Queen Annes, found the body of a little girl floating in a lake in the Adirondack mountains last week. The fact is that Mr. Williams pulled off his coat and jumped in the lake and located the body of the child shortly after she drowned. The body was quickly recovered but life was extinct.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will follow the policy of paying its employes semi-monthly on July 1.

Graham, Clements & Sutton have sold to Messrs. Blackway & Waddell, a model 19, 5-passenger Buick touring car, for delivery use in their business.

There is talk of the establishment of a milk station in Chestertown. Several well-known Chestertown business men are interested in the project.

The rains of Wednesday and Thursday evenings were worth thousands of dollars to the farmers of this county. Wheat, young tomato plants, grass, potatoes and all vegetables will take "a new lease on life," and there will be a good crop all down the line, and everybody is happy.

The accidental explosion of gas in the oven of Mrs. E. Cranor's gas stove on Monday, tore the top out of the oven, and burned Mrs. Cranor quite badly about the eyes and hair. Mrs. Cranor accidently allowed too much gas to get in the oven before she lighted the gas.

Mr. A. J. Hackett, Jr., one of our popular blacksmiths, has purchased from Kate Cann the property consisting of a comfortable dwelling and lot facing 39 feet on Philosopher's Terrace, for $700. Mr. Hackett is also negotating with Mr. Robert G. Nicholson for the purchase of 15 feet of his lot adjoining, which will give Mr. Hackett the beautiful grove of maple trees. Mr. Hackett will remodel the house and make it his future home.

Chestertown Council Jr. O. U. A. M. has presented the public school at Betterton, taught by Miss Brinsfield, with a beautiful American flag and Bible. Special exercises attending the presentation were held last Friday afternoon when addresses were made by Prof. J. L. Smyth, superintendent public schools; Mr. Herman L. Menerick, national representative Jr. O. U. A. M. of Baltimore; and Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett. The Betterton school was represented by Messrs. Harry Willis and Howard Turner, trustees. Those present from Chestertown were Dr. Barrett. Prof. Smyth, Messrs. John C. Davis, J. B. McIntire, George R. Rouse, Wm. F. Malin, S. J. Coleman and J. E. Pennington.

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Mrs. L. S. Lewis, of Smyrna, Del., and Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, of Darby, Pa., are guests of Senator and Mrs. Garrett Foxwell.

A social party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schauber near town on Thursday night, in honor of their guests, Mrs. Lessner and daughter, Mamie, of Baltimore.

Mrs. Belle Smith has been awarded a substantial prize in money for winning a Butterick Pattern subscription contest. Mrs. Smith is also agent for the Delineator, Ladies' Home Journal and Everybody's, and is doing well in securing subscriptions.

Mr. Hepbron Gill, of Baltimore, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gill here, during the week.

Miss Marghuerite Willis, of Cambridge, has been the guest of Mrs. W. Frank Jarrell on the avenue during the week.

Miss Gussie Cannan has been on the sick list during the week, but we are glad to state that she is much improved.

Mr. Robert G. Nicholson had the misfortune to get a quantity of ammonia in his eyes one day last week, while adjusting some machinery at his ice plant, and he suffered considerable pain for several days. He is greatly improved now we are glad to state.

Prof. Wm. Frazier Russell, a member of the faculty, will please accept our thanks for an invitation to the annual commencement exercises of the Maryland School for the Blind at Albaugh's theatre, Baltimore, on Tuesday, May 27, at 8.15 P. M.

Mrs. Howard Owens and son, Howard B., have had an extended visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beauchamp, of Caroline Co.

Beat This, Mr. Chicken Raiser.

Last week Mr. Robert Moffett, one of our popular meat market men, purchased a number of spring chickens, weighing two and three pounds apiece from a well-known lady poultry raiser, near town. There were several Rhode Island Reds and several dungle pullets in the lot. Mr. Moffett put the chickens in a coop and let them wait for customers. While waiting, Mr. Moffett happened to go to the coop and there found two eggs, the size of pullet eggs. Thinking that some one was trying to play a joke upon him he put the chickens in another coop and put them in the store. On Saturday morning there were two more eggs, and on Monday morning of the three that were left over, one laid. Mr. Moffett says he bought the chickens for six weeks old, but there must certainly have been some mistake. The pullets were about four months old, and while it is unusual for pullets so young to lay in this section, some of the country's best breeders have produced pullets that will lay at four months of age. So we shall take off our hats to the lady who sold the spring chickens to Mr. Moffett, and give her the prize for producing the four-months-old layers in Kent.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

MRS. JOHN T. KIRWAN.

Mrs. Lydia L. Kirwan, wife of Capt. John T. Kirwan, 1817 West Saratoga street, Baltimore, commander of the steamer Susquehanna, of the Tolchester Line, died Sunday following a surgical operation which she underwent four weeks ago. She was a native of Baltimore and was the daughter of the late Dr. Page Edmunds, of Baltimore. She spent her entire life there. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Walter C. Kirwan, and two daughters. Miss Mary C. Kirwan and Mrs. Charles L. Clarke, of Baltimore. She leaves also two brothers, William C. and Dr. Page Edmunds, and two sisters. Mrs. J. D. Galloway and Mrs. D. B. Chambers.

MRS. MARY ORMAND.

Mrs. Mary Ormand, wife of Richard Ormand, died at her residence in Baltimore on Tuesday, aged 39 years. The funeral was held on Thursday at 1 o'clock from her late residence. The remains were brought to Kent by Tolchester and intered in Chester cemetery on Thursday evening. She leaves a husband, two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Carrico and Miss Margaret Gross; four sisters, Miss Martha Harris, Miss Mamie Rodkey and Mrs. Nellie Dadds. She was a Miss Harris formerly of Kent. Dr. Barrett officiated. The pall-bearers at the grave were: Wm. A. Dadds, Washington Atkinson, James Lecates John Stoopes and C. L. Dodd. C. L. Dodd undertaker.

MRS. MARY ATKINSON.

Mrs. Mary Atkinson, the beloved wife of Mr. Jacob W. Atkinson, of Baltimore, died at her home 917 Ensor street on May 15th, aged 35 years. The deceased was well-known in this county. Funeral was held on Sunday, May 18th, at 2 P. M. Interment in Salem Lutheran Cemetery Catonsville, Baltimore.

Our Merchants' Interest.

FREE—A suit of clothes free to any man who can conscientiously say that he has not had complete satisfaction out of the clothing he buys at "the Men's Store" for the price he pays for it. If you fear that this is not the best store of its kind, and will absolutely stand back of this guarantee, why don't you look into the matter further and select a suit and give them a trial. They are as good as their word—and a trial will convince.

Stop! Look! Listen!—Mr. Cohen, the proprietor of the United Bargain Stores, is offering a Monumental Clock to one of his customers who will make a purchase during next week, no matter what amount. The one holding the lucky number will get this clock.

The Hub, Millington's big double stores, invites you to inspect its various large departments, and see for yourself that what they advertise in this paper is on sale at prices quoted. Everything for ladies, misses, men and children is there in rich profusion, and you will have no trouble to make a selection at satisfactory prices.

There's no question about Moody relieving the pressure of high prices and misfits, for it's been demonstrated beyond doubt that he is in a position to show the line, and make them to fit. Minimum expense, no stock to speculate on selling is very convincing argument, and as a reassurance of getting values he offers his 25 years' experience in the clothing business at your disposal. Read change of adv. and let him explain.

Read Medders & Co.'s big list of bargains. They are worth reading, and contain the assortment of Moulton Bros. big stock.

Read Vansant & Newsome's change of advertisement in this issue. Hats and shoes are quite "chick" this year, and Vansant & Newsome has the styles that are right in the season. Also take a peep at their shirts, furnishing, etc.

Graham, Clements & Sutton's car leaves this Saturday morning at 9 A. M. instead of 7.45 A. M. as previously advertised.

Kilbourne & Bramble, the hustling Fairlee merchants, will sell binder twine, of the standard kind, until Thursday, May 29th, for 9 cents a pound. If you want to get in on the price, place your order before that date.
