Henderson R.R. Case Being Heard

A case filed by Elmer W. Henderson, executive secretary of the National Council for a Permanent FEPC, against the Interstate Commerce Commission is being argued in Federal Court today (Friday) before three judges.

Mr. Henderson, son of the assistant superintendent of Baltimore schools, is seeking an order setting aside the ICC ruling which he says denied him equal rights on a dining car of the Southern Railway System.

Charging the railroad company with discrimination, Mr. Henderson said that on May 17, 1942, he bought Pullman reservations from Washington to Atlanta and that three times he was denied service in the diner.

Prejudice Admitted

Although the ICC admitted that this action was prejudiced, it dismissed his request for a cease and desist order against the railway. In June, 1943, and again in June, 1944.

His Federal Court case was filed in January, 1945. The case is being argued by Belford V. Lawson, Washington attorney, before Judges E. Calvin Chesnut, Morris A. Soper and William C. Coleman.

Honorable Retirement

1st Sgt. Jacob Harrson of Columbus, Ga., who took up the arms from the Japanese when Maj. Yoshitsugu Akamatsu surrendered on Tokashiki Shima, has retired from the Army after 30 years, three months, and 15 days of honorable service, chiefly with the 24th Infantry Regiment. He spent 17 months in France during World War I and served in the Pacific for 42 months during World War II.
