710 to Receive Degrees at Howard Commencement

Mrs. Mary C. Terrell Among 3 to Get Honorary Degrees

Dr. Gunnar Myrdal to Address Graduates; Class Largest in History of University

WASHINGTON — Degrees will be conferred upon 710 graduates, the largest class in the university's history, at Howard University's annual commencement today (Friday) at 5:30 p.m.

The exercises will be held on the college campus in front of the historic Frederick Douglass Building, with Dr. Gunnar Myrdal, executive secretary of the Economic Commission for Europe at Geneva, Switzerland, delivering the commencement address.

Three honorary degrees will be conferred. Doctor-of-Laws degrees will be awarded Edwin Roger Embree, director of the Rosenwald Fund, and Oliver Randolph, assistant State attorney general of New Jersey and former assemblyman, who wrote the Bill of Rights into the new New Jersey Constitution.

Mrs. Terrell Honored

Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, of Washington, D.C., author, lecturer and noted traveler, will receive the Doctor of Humane Letters degree. Mrs. Terrell is the widow of Judge Robert H. Terrell, former judge of the District Municipal Court.

The commencement program will include the singing of Harl McDonald's "Song of Conquest" by the Howard University Choir, Warner H. Lawson, director, and the singing of the Alma Mater by the audience.

The invocation and benediction will be said by the Rev. Robert M. Williams, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church.

Outstanding among the 710 graduates is Alice L. McCoo, who will receive the bachelor of arts degree, summa cum laude (with highest honors).

One hundred and six others will graduate with honors, with 15 receiving bachelor of arts degrees, magna cum laude (with high honors), and 38 getting the same degrees, cum laude (with honors).

Eleven will receive bachelor of science degrees, magna cum laude, and 42 get the same degrees, cum laude.

A total of 162 will get the bachelor of arts degree, and 134 the bachelor of science degree from the College of Liberal Arts, making a total of 633 graduates from this college.

65 Doctors' Degrees

Others receiving degrees from the various colleges will be:

School of Medicine, 65; College of Dentistry, 38; College of Pharmacy, 12; School of Law, 31; School of Religion, 7; School of Engineering and Architecture, 22; School of Music, 17.

Master of arts degrees will be conferred upon 22, while 19 will get master of science degrees, and 19 will get master of science degrees in social work.

Certificates in social work will be presented two while one will receive a certificate in oral hygiene.

32 Commissioned

Commissions as second lieutenants will be conferred upon 32 graduates, 18 in the military reserve army and 16 in the air force reserve.

Fourteen medical and one dental interne will be assigned positions at various hospitals.

Two Complete 91 Years of Teaching

Upper Marlboro P-TA Gives Testimonial

UPPER MARLBORO, Md.—The Prince Georges County Teachers Association paid tribute in Upper Marlboro last Friday to two retiring teachers whose combined service in the school system totaled 91 years.

James E. Diggs, who has been teaching since 1899, and Mrs. Mamie E. Proctor, who just finished her 42nd year in the profession, were the honorees.

Mr. Diggs, who started his teaching career at a salary of $25 per month, payable quarterly, came to Prince Georges County association in 1914 a principal of a two teacher elementary school.

Organized Farmers

In 1918, Mr. Diggs was appointed the first vocational agricultural instructor in the State. He organized the first chapter of the New Farmers of America at Princess Anne, Md.

He also served as president of the County Teachers Association from 1926 to 1934. He retired on March 31, 1948.

Mrs. Proctor taught five years at the Oxen Hill school and 37 at the Cedarville School.

Doswell E. Brooks, supervisor of the county schools, was the speaker. Presentation of awards on the program were William W. Wood, assistant supervisor of schools, Mrs. Theresa Griffith, Robert Frisby, Mrs. Cora L. Pink, Mrs. Wendell Taliaferro, and Sidney Griffith.

Mrs. Ursula Grey served as mistress of ceremonies.

Beware: Measles Spreading Here

An outbreak of measles has occurred in Baltimore County, according to the county health department, with 120 cases of the disease being reported within the past two weeks.

The total number of cases of measles reported in Baltimore County since Jan. 1 has now reached 201 as compared with 41 cases during the corresponding period last year.

Health officials point out that measles is a highly communicable disease and that children under three years of age and those in poor physical condition should be protected from the disease and kept from contact with children who have never had the disease.
