Another Epoch-Making Nemo Invention

As shown in figure, the elastic band of Lastikop Webbing in the back of Corset allows for freedom and comfort in the sitting posture and causes the Corset to cling closely, giving a perfect figure in any position the wearer assumes.

Remember, a Nemo in Chestertown is the same as one in Philadelphia or New York, and as this store is the only place in Kent county where you can buy them, we would be pleased to receive your order when you are in need of a good Corset.

Describe the style and feature in a Corset you want and we will send you a pair by Parcel Post.

CRUMPTON, MARYLAND.

MESSRS. TURNER AND SHALLCROSS.

These two gentlemen have announced their candidacy for the Legislature on the Organization ticket. This announcement places them in a position to be politically "diagnosed," or as some may choose to call it, "criticised." Every man who becomes a candidate for office renders himself liable to criticism just as does the editor of a paper, who has the courage to speak his sentiments. Personally, we have nothing in the world against either Mr. Shallcross or Mr. Turner. But this paper concedes it to be its duty to the public to discuss the meaning of the candidacy of each of these gentlemen because of the importance of the office they seek to the public at large. They are the Organization candidates. They have been selected by the Organization leaders in Chestertown to represent and carry out the policies for which these leaders stand in their relation to the tax-payers. They would never have been selected had it not been understood that in the event of their nomination and election they would represent the policies of the Organization in the Legislature, and pass only such laws as are in the interest of the furtherence of Organization policies. Messrs. Turner and Shallcross may endeavor, and sincerely, too, to say to the voters that they will legislate in the interests of the whole people if they are fortunate enough to get to Annapolis, but unless the leaders in Chestertown are very different sort of men from what they were in the last session, neither Mr. Turner nor Mr. Shallcross can or will do anything at Annapolis other than as the Organization leaders believe is in the interest of their political faction. Now, what have been and what are to-day the Organization policies?

1. Extravagance in money matters. The Organization in the last Legislature introduced two bills calling for taking $68,000 out of the tax-payers' pockets without giving them a right to vote as to whether it shall be spent or not. Ever since the Organization has been out of power in the county they have been beseeching the Board of County Commissioners for MORE MONEY, either to waste on the roads, notwithstanding the fact that they passed a road law in the interest of economy (?), or for some other useless purposes.

2. They have persisted in keeping the present road law and the present incompetent road management in force in this county notwithstanding their promise to repeal the law during the primaries, but which promises were never fulfilled in the Legislature.

3. The Organization allowed a reassessment of property to apply to Kent county so far as the personalty is concerned, notwithstanding the fact that an assessment of personal property was taken in this county just two years prior to the recent assessment at a cost of some $3000 to the tax-payers.

4. The Organization allowed their road engineer to spend $25,000 on the roads in this county during 1912, notwithstanding the fact that their road law only allowed $18,000, and they allowed him to exhaust his road fund of $21,236.00 two months before the present year closes, without showing a dollar of real improvement to the roads.

Mr. Turner and Mr. Shallcross were members of the Organization when all this was going on. They indorsed this policy of extravagance by the Organization leaders, so far as the public knows, because they have never protested against it publicly. They have been in sympathy therefore with these policies, and now that their candidacy has been announced, not a word have they said in opposition to those policies for which it stands to-day. How then can either Mr. Turner or Mr. Shallcross properly or consistently represent the interests of the people when they are the representatives of those leaders who were driven from power because of their misuse of power, and who ever since they have been out of power, have used the fragment of control they have left in passing laws against the vital interests of the people, and in forcing upon the tax-payers a condition of road management such as no other county in the State is burdened with?

Mr. Turner and Mr. Shallcross are identified in every way with the Organization and their policies, and if they are in sympathy with the Organization faction, whose candidates they are, they connot do anything else if elected than carry out the policies for which the Organization stands. The Beck Organ is at perfect liberty to discuss the meaning of the candidacy of Messrs. Charles W. Kibler and James G. Harris, and if they can find a single instance in which these candidates are not allied with a faction that has served the people in the County Commissioners office as well as in the Maryland Legislature, we shall be glad to discuss the issue with them. In our judgment the candidacy of Messrs. Turner and Shallcross are against the real interests of the people.

The Governor in Town.

Governor Goldsborough and party arrived in Chestertown at nine o'clock on Thursday night on a tour of inspection of the State Roads of the Eastern Shore. In the party were the Governor and his wife; Miss Graham, daughter of Hon. Robert P. Graham, Secretary of State; Messrs. E. O. Weller and W. B. Miller, of the State Roads Commission, State Road Engineer H. G. Shirley; Mr. H. Harmon, of the Baltimore City News and Mr. A. Fred Warner, of the Baltimore American. There was another party in a separate auto, but they missed their road and spent the night in Wilmington. Quite a number of the citizens of the town called at the Voshell House where the party was entertained, to pay their respects to the Governor and plans were discussed by the Governor and members of the commission for the repair of Chester bridge, as well as the oiling of the State Road soon to begin. The party left here at ten o'clock yesterday morning for Centreville and points down the Shore.
