Big Business in Annapolis

Carroll B. Hynson, Annapolis real estate broker, is shown in his office with his clerk, Mrs. Civilla A. Smith, former employee of the Mutual Benefit Society in Baltimore.

The Capital Hill Manor housing development, now under construction, covers 5½ acres, 45 modern building lots and four streets.

ONE of Annapolis's most outstanding citizens and successful business men is Carrol H. Hynson, who is believed to be the only licensed real estate broker and appraiser in Anne Arundel County.

Mr. Hynson was born in 1902 in Hynsontown on the Eastern Shore, a town named after his ancestors and partly built by them. Coming to Annapolis in 1919, he entered business as a coal and wood burkster, later serving 14 years with the railroad division of mails in the post office.

Mr. Hynson became interested in real estate commercially while touring Florida with his family in 1946, after noting the success of several such businesses in Miami, West Palm Beach and St. Petersburg.

Housing Development

A new modern office building was recently built by Mr. Hynson at 62 Calvert St., Annapolis. The building contains also a meat store, dental office, dressmaking establishment and the NAACP headquarters.

He is also establishing a new housing development known as the Capital Hill Manor. It comprises 5½ acres, 45 modern building lots, four modern streets and is four blocks from the center of the city. When completed, it is expected to increase taxation to Anne Arundel County more than $250,000.

Mr. Hynson is also owner of a group of buildings known as the Service Centre, comprising a modern meat store, beauty parlor, barber shop, ice cream store, dry cleaning and laundry service. He also owns many private dwelling houses and apartments.

Wife Is Principal

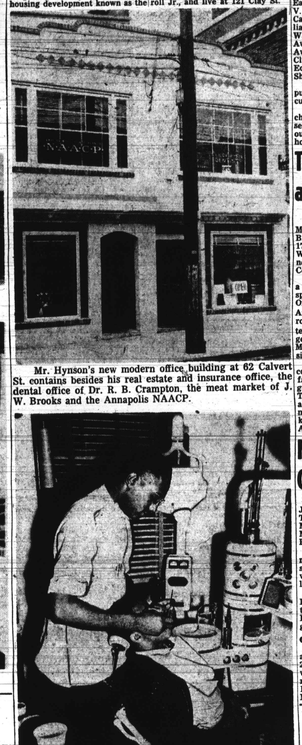
Mr. Hynson is a member of the official board of Asbury Church and was on the committee of management of the USO.

His wife, Mrs. Bettye L. Hynson is principal of Eastport School. They have a 9-year-old son, Carroll Jr., and live at 121 Clay St.



Mr. Hynson's new modern office building at 62 Calvert St. contains besides his real estate and insurance office, the dental office of Dr. R. B. Trainton, the meat market of J. W. Brooks and the Annapolis NAACP.

J. W. Brooks, operator of the meat and poultry market in the Hynson Building welcomes one of his first customers with a big smile.

'Found' Articles Alibi Fizzles

Unable to convince the judge that they "found" a radio and pile of men's clothing stolen just 15 minutes earlier, two men were each sentenced, Monday, to three years in the penitentiary.

Sgt. James H. Butler told Judge Herman Moser that he and Detective Lloyd Johnson were standing in the 1100 block Druid Hill Ave., when they spied the two men who, in turn, spied them and started to run.

The sergeant caught Clarence Green, 28, of the 500 block Orchard St., who had the radio under his arm.

Armful of Pants

Detective Johnson came up with Roland Clark who was carrying an armful of pants, it was revealed. All of the articles had been taken 15 minutes earlier in a burglary at 1201 Madison Ave.

Green said he found the radio. He made the mistake of saying he "found it" two hours before it was even stolen, it was testified. Clark did not testify.

Modern Way to Control Cockroaches

"No-Roach," a new product, an odorless coating that controls cockroaches, is one of the most effective roach killers known. No-Roach is applied on surfaces frequented by roaches. The colorless coating kills the current population, then stays effective for six months to destroy later hatches. All roaches that walk across the coating become paralyzed and die within four hours. Within four days the premises are roach-free.

JOHNSTON'S NO-ROACH is not a contaminating spray . . . not a poisonous paste . . . not a messy powder. It is 10 times more effective against roaches than D. D. T. No-Roach is effective for months, and prevents re-infestation by killing any stray roaches that wander in. No-Roach is preventive, as well as a cure. The coating is safe and sanitary, and perfectly harmless to children and pets.
