IN OUR CHURCHES

The 20th annual session of the Independent Colored Baptist State Convention of Maryland, Inc. recently held its convention at Mount Sinai Church, Preston and Wilcox Sts.

The convention unanimously re-elected the Rev. J. R. Butler, president; the Revs. D. W. Ball and Elijah Scott, vice-presidents; the Rev. S. D. Washington, recording secretary; and the Rev. W. D. Leighton, treasurer.

Drive for University Planned

It was noted that regular quarterly meetings have been instrumental in making the convention a success.

So enthusiastic were the delegates over the year's work that they approved a financial drive to pay off the indebtedness of the Jones-Williams University, 1820 Ashland Ave. and to install a central heating plant at the school.

Officers and auxiliary heads of the organization met after the convention closed and planned a detailed program for next year's meeting.

St. James Summer Schedule

Beginning with the first Sunday in July, services at St. James PE Church will be held on a summer schedule.

The services will be conducted at 7 and 10 a.m. during July, August and the first Sunday in September.

The annual church school picnic will be held July 8 at Sparrows Point. Father C. C. Martin is rector.

Grace Presbyterian Church, whose pastor is the Rev. John T. Colbert, is planning renovations and an addition to the building.

All members who did not contribute to the building fund for this purpose on Men's Day and on Women's Day are asked to make contributions this Sunday.

Theme of the public meeting at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Bahai Center, 527 N. Charles St. will be "The Divine Art of Living."

Mrs. Marguerite Hipsley will be chairman and Miss Alma Heber and Mrs. Hazel Langrall will give readings.

Guest ministers will conduct services at Sharp St. Methodist Church during June and July, while the pastor, the Rev. Joshua O. Williams, is studying at the University of Southern California on a fellowship.

Last Sunday, speakers were the Rev. C. E. Jackson, South Baltimore district superintendent and the Rev. John Wake.

Rev. E. H. Johnson to Speak

On this Sunday, the morning sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Richard H. Johnson, superintendent of the Washington district;

Officers of AME Group Installed

Officers of the AME Ministers Wives Alliance of the Baltimore Conference were installed by the Rev. C. Baker Pearle, during the group's closing meeting of the season, last Wednesday, at Mt. Moriah Church in Annapolis

Hostesses were Mrs. Rosie Williams of Annapolis and Mrs. C. C. Brown of Camp Parole, Md.

Members present were Mesdames Matilda Blanks, Helen Martin, Irene Johnson, Elmira Jones, Edith Bryant, Emma Ford, Fannie Bricoe, Fannie Foster, Marion Pearie, Clara Harris, Annie Nelson, Eva Bernum, Georgia Mitchell, Rosie Williams and Mary Brown.

Visitors included Mrs. Mary Lewis of Kansas City, Kan.; Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Bessie Chatman, little Miss Elizabeth Foster and the Revs. W. P. Foster, C. Baker Pearie, H. J. Bryant, C. C. Brown, and S. W. Williams.

A. J. Allen Addresses Fellowship Group

Alexander J. Allen, executive secretary, Baltimore Urban League, was speaker Thursday night, for the second lecture in a series on "Units for Unity" at Fellowship House, 21 W. Preston St. The series, for the second lecture in a series on "Units for Unity" at Fellowship House, 21 W. Preston St. The series, for the second lecture through six weeks. Dr. Helen Kraus of the biology department at Goucher College will speak next Thursday.

attention to those earthly authors of our beings, those co-creation to whom we owe some measure of thanks and respect," spoke the Rev. Wilbur H. Waters, pastor of Emmanuel C.C. Church last Sunday.

"To those whose selfless devotion has given them the right to such regard we gladly yield our sincere appreciation. It was the purpose of Christ to point to His Heavenly Father, the Father of us all, as the unmistakable source of every benefit and blessings.

"From His holy hands flow unceasing benedictions, and each breath we draw, and each morsel which sustains us adds to the startling total of our daily indebtedness. Reverence, Praise, and gratitude is His due, and as earthly Fathers the pattern of our best endeavors is made perfectly clear.

"Measured by such lofty standard we may each find ourselves wofully lacking, but 'assisted by His grace we can, and ought make it our daily duty to more nearly approach that lofty level to which our children can look up with pride and respect."

Concluding Dr. Waters said:

"To do less is to acknowledge ourselves unworthy of the high privilege with parenthood implies, and which Fatherhood imposes. God's richest blessing then upon all those who recognize their heaven imposed responsibilities, and His mercy upon such as are still unfaithful to their trusts."

Methodist Youth Fellowship Holds Meeting at Catonsville

The second quarterly meeting of the West Baltimore district, Methodist Youth Fellowship, met at Mt. Olivet Methodist Church, Catonsville, on Saturday.

The meeting was under the direction of the Commission on Education of which James Chase of Ames Church is chairman and Mrs. Lelia Jennings, a Baltimore public school teacher, is vice-president. Reports from the charges were made and discussed.

At noon Leo Wood, supervisor of physical education in the public schools, gave an address on "Youth-Physical Education and Health." A seminar on "Recreation in the Church" was conducted by Miss Juanita Holsey, conference MYF president; Lawrence Smith, conference MYF vice-president, Miss Isabelle and Mr. Chase. Following the seminar were demonstrations of games and folk songs.

Rev. Kelly L. Jackson, district superintendent, expressed appreciation for the program and introduced the visitors.

Guests were the Rev. Messrs. and Mesdames S. A. Fields, Baltimore; George Davis, Centerville; Eugene Boone, Shepherdstown, W. Va.; James Stembley, Barnesville; Rev. J. A. B. Dyson, Hagerstown; Rev. E. A. Haynes, Baltimore; Mrs. Mary E. Hawkins, district president; Women's Society of Christian Service, and Mrs. Mayme Grafin, district treasurer, WSCS.

Y Boys Register for Druid Camp

With camping season just around the corner, applications are pouring in for reservations at Camp Druid Hill, where $60,000 will be spent for improvements this year.

The camp's summer season will open Monday with eight weekly periods lasting through Aug. 20. Already the first weekly period has its quota of 16 boys enrolled and other periods are swiftly being filled.

Located on the Patuxent River about 55 miles from Baltimore, Camp Druid Hill operated last year as a pioneer camp. It will be a finished plant this year, however, when the $60,000 collected in the current Y financial drive is spent in refinements.

The 286-acre camp consists of wooded, level and rolling land.

Lloyd White is director of the camp again this year and James Duffin, is cook. Other camp personnel includes Earl Bundazer, swimming instructor, David Garlington and Bosworth Harmon, counselors.

Two Girls Complete Thomas Edison High

ELIZABETH—Dorothy E. Gault and Dorothy W. Stewart were graduated from Thomas A. Edison Vocational and Technical High School for Girls last week.

Miss Gault was awarded a special letter for work in social studies, and Principal Caroline E. Nourse said that both did credible work in dressmaking and design.

300 Ministers Opposed to Draft

influential ministers in the country and is entitled "A Letter to American Christians of Draft Age."

Strike Held Peace Move

The letter, signed by Edgar Chalmers, professor in the Boston University School of Theology, and A. J. Muste, Presbyterian minister and national secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, released the message, which states:

"We believe breaking with war machinery, refusal to enlist in the Armed Forces; withdrawal from Armed Forces for those now in them; and refusal to register or render any service under a conscription act."

It was further advocated that "the girl friends, sisters, mothers, fathers, Christian ministers and fellow-church members of these young men should support them openly and so far as possible identify themselves with them."

War Camouflaged as "Cold"

It asserts that "political and military leaders will not have the incentive to abandon war as a 'last resort' so long as they know that in the showdown they can depend upon the youth of the nation to adhere to conscription again."

"The effect is," the letter states, "that war (now camouflaged as 'cold') remains the first and only resort of national policy."

The Revs. Messrs. Chalmers and Muste anticipate at a conference to promote the non-registration movement will be held soon.

Under 19-25 Eligible

The draft law, as passed in the closing hours of the 80th Congress, requires that young men 19 through 25 years of age register and that those from 19 through 25 be drafted into the Armed Services for 21 months.

It is estimated that approximately 225,000 will be needed the first year.

Ministers, National Guardsmen, organized reserve members, conscientious objectors, post military officials and scientists, agricultural and industrial workers covered by regulations made by the President, are exempted.

Outstanding Protestants

Among those ministers whose names appear as having signed the letter are:

Alden Knight Chalmers, professor Boston University School of Theology; Reinhold McNeill Niebuhr, president Eugene - Rochester Divinity School, Rochester, N.Y.; Bernard J. Clausen, Euclid Ave. Baptist Church, Cleveland; Frederick K. Elk Head Speaks at Dedication

Pride of Towson Lodge Opens New Home

Progress made by Elk lodges and temples during the past 26 years were reviewed by J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler, at the dedication of the Pride of Towson Elks home on E. Pennsylvania Ave., Sunday.

"When I became head of this order 26 years ago, there were only 200 lodges with two homes paid for and today there are over 1200 lodges and 800 active temples," Dr. Wilson said.

He continued, "We have decreased 816 homes and burned 356 mortgages with a total value of $25,000,000. Our educational department has sent 792 boys and girls to colleges at $1000 per person.

"Our health program has included the organizing of Purple Cross units, the donating of iron lungs and oxygen tanks to many hospitals and the birth of a Blood Bank in Provident Hospital.

"Thousands of our Antlered Guards served in the two World Wars and stand ready to double the number if called on again," the speaker added.

The enclosed address was given by James Lee, host exalted ruler, welcomed the guests. Mrs. Ida R. Cummings, daughter ruler of the F.E.W. Harper' Temple; Daniel Murphy, district deputy; and other Elk officials.

A parade over a three mile route through the business and residential districts of Towson preceded the dedicatory program. A large number of Elk units from in and around Baltimore participated under the leadership of Brig. Gen. Edward C. Wooden, State commander of the Antlered Guards.

Rev. Edwards Returned to Charge for 17th Time

By RUFUS WELLS

Returned to his charge for the 17th time, the Rev. G. M. Edwards, pastor of the Pennsylvania AME Zion Church, has big plans for his 18th year of service here.

The dynamic minister intends to enlarge the church building to accommodate his ever-increasing congregation and to convert a nearby 12-room house into a recreation center for young people.

He discussed these plans during an interview shortly after his reappointment at the recent Philadelphia-Baltimore Annual Conference.

Church on Paying Basis

In addition to being returned to his charge year after year for over a decade—an unusual feat in his denomination—the Rev. Mr. Edwards has pulled his present pastorate out of the red and put it on a paying basis.

Taking over in 1931 when the church had 150 members and was $7,000 in debt, he led the organization until the church paid off boasts of 2,532 members and property in excess of $100,000. The church is debt-free.

Born in Worth County, Ga., on July 4, 1885, and educated in Georgia and Florida, he was taken to Baltimore at five months later. There he received his early education and worked as a farm boy.

Worked Way Through School

He studied four years at Lincoln University and Morgan State College while he carried mail and served as a Pullman porter to pay for his board and lodge.

After graduation, he entered the ministry and served pastorates for two years before going into the ministry. His first charge was Grace AMEZ Church in Philadelphia.

The Rev. Mr. Edwards served in Prange during World War 1 and has been pastor of four different churches since his return to the Army. He also served as presiding elder of the Salisbury District during his long tenure at the Pennsylvania Avenue Church.

Other Church Property

In addition to the church proper, the congregation owns all of the land and property from 1114 to 1126 on the west side of Pennsylvania Ave. as well as two other five-room houses.

Miss Esther I. Lyons, secretary and clerk of the church, has held that position for the past 15 years. The pastor has been married to Mrs. Eva L. Edwards for 30 years. They have one and only child, Pfc. James Edwards, was discharged recently after three years in the Army.

If the ambitious pastor's plans for this year are successful, the church will have its present seating capacity increased and the children of the neighborhood will have a well-equipped center in which to play.

Bishop Hemingway Gives 1st District Sermon at Allen

In his first Baltimore sermon since his election as AME Bishop of the Second Episcopal District, Bishop L. H. Hemingway urged members of Allen AME Church, Sunday morning, to "live a good life."

Bishop Hemingway delivered the morning sermon during the observing of Men's Day at Allen. Some $500 was raised during the day, and 600 persons attended the morning services.

Taking his text from Genesis 5:24, "And Enoch walked with God and he was not; for God took him," Bishop Hemingway pointed out that despite the short period of Enoch's life, his goodness resulted in God's recognition of him.

He compared this type of man with Methuselah who lived 969 years, did nothing but "beget children," died and was forgotten.

Likening these Biblical comparisons to everyday life, Bishop Hemingway declared, "We should live the good life, realizing that the things we do are the things which count."

In conclusion, the bishop repeated his formerly announced program of relief from illegal abortionists, and his declaration, "I don't want a penny from anyone."

Praises Fraternity

He praised the members of Allen for the church's progress during the pastorate of Rev. Freeman.

Attorney Russell was chairman of the Men's Day program. Afternoon speaker was Charles Reid who listed ways to make Baltimore a better place in which to live; and evening speaker was Lennox Branch, insurance man.

Rivers to Hold 1-Man Exhibit at Museum

Lynwood Rivers of Baltimore is among three Maryland painters to whom one-man shows at the Baltimore Museum of Art have been awarded for the fall.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Shelby S. Cox, chairman of the artists' committee which selected the winners.

Museum to Buy Painting

Mr. Rivers won a prize in the 16th all-Maryland show, which was held at the museum in March. His winning picture, "Tailor Shop," has since been selected by the museum's committee on contemporary art as a purchase for a permanent collection. The one-man shows will open on Sept. 25.

Highlights of the 27th annual communication program of the Most Worshipful Hiram Grand Lodge, A.F. & A.M. and Scottish Rite of the State of Maryland.

A most impressive Masonic line of march preceded the religious services which were held at Perkins Square Baptist Church, on Sunday, June 20th. The order of the communication marked a new high in Masonic circles, with the appearance of eminent speakers on the 3-day program. Business was concluded with the election of officers, followed by a banquet Tuesday night at the Temple, 1522 Madison Ave.

An enthralled group of men and women listened with rapt attention to the deliveries made by Rev. Ward Yerby, Mr. Elmer Henderson, Bro. Fleming B. Weaver and Bro. L. G. Koger.

The essence of Rev. Yerby's sermon "Keeping Your—Eyes—on Jesus" was that one should always have high and worthy objects in view, with the results that his accomplishments would be in keeping with these aims.

Mr. Henderson, Asst. Supt of Public Schools, complimented the order on the spirit of co-operation and the manner in which the services were conducted. He added that the men and women who sat before him represented the bone and sinew of the citizenry of Maryland.

Bro. Weaver, white, member of the Greensboro Lodge No. 97 A.F.&A.M. Scottish Rite of North Carolina, told the order that he had visited lodges from Africa to Alaska and had communicated with brethren of all nationalities. He emphasized the fact that he had not and would not practice bias because of a man's affiliation with a particular order, nor would he refuse aid or relief to anyone because of color or creed.

Bro. L. G. Koger's address to the order on Tuesday stressed a plea for more lasting and realistic love for one another.

The communication closed with the stirring address by the Grand Master of the order, Ill. Clarence Wycoff.

Tuesday night marked the election of the following officers: Ill. Clarence Wycoff, 33°, re-elected M.W. Gr. Master; Ill. John H. Thornton 33°, re-elected Rt. W. Deputy Gr. Master; Ill. Cordesa Adams, 32°, Rt. W. Sr. Warden; Ill. Joseph Brown, 32°, Rt. W. Jr. Warden; Dr. Wm. Watts, re-appointed Gr. physician, and Ill. L. G. Koger, 33°, re appointed Gr. Attorney—Adv.
