DODGERS CALL CAMPANELLA FROM ST. PAUL

Roy, Star at St. Paul, Returns as Reserve Catcher

Release of Bobby Bragan Paves Way for Campy's Chance With Parent Club

NEW YORK—Roy Campanella, the clouting catcher who has been burning up the American Association for the St. Paul farm team of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was recalled by the Dodgers Wednesday night.

Campanella, who moved up to the Dodgers the first part of the season from the Montreal Royals where he performed last season, was on 24-hour recall at St. Paul.

The possibility of his early recall by the Dodgers loomed Monday when the Dodgers released Bobby Bragan, third-string catcher, to Fort Worth, Brooklyn's Texas farm club, where he will serve as manager.

At the same time, Manager Leo Durocher switched Gil Hodges, the Bums' second-string catcher, to first base, and shifted Jackie Robinson to second base in an attempt to get more batting power in the lineup.

St. Paul Sensation

This turn of events left the Dodgers with only the No. 1 catcher, Bruce Edwards, as a regular backstop, and Edwards, ailing most of the season, has been in and out, a situation which opened the door for Campy's return.

Campanella, who two weeks ago became the father of a 7½-pound boy, has been a sensation at St. Paul. As of Monday (June 28), he was banging the ball at a .336 clip and was third in the American Association home-run race with seven circuit clouts.

Roy had hit four doubles, two triples and 12 homers in 29 games. He had collected 34 hits and 36 runs in 104 officials times at bat.

Besides he set a record with six home runs on six successive days.

A teammate, Bill Tipton, tops the league's home-run production with 15 while Les Fleming of Indianapolis is second with 14, and both have played the entire season in the loop.

Campy's batting power had been such a potent factor in St. Paul's success that he was used in right-field when he is not catching.

24-Hour Option

When President Branch Rickey farmed Campanella to St. Paul on the 24-hour basis, it was because he wanted Roy to get regular work and preferred to have him catching every day rather than sitting on the Dodger bench as third-string catcher.

Now with Hodges playing first, if Durocher decides to keep him there, Campanella returns as second-string catcher, and is likely to get plenty of work unless Edwards's physical condition improves.

Scenes at AAU National Decathlon Championships

James Roberson (left) of Stone Harbor, N.J., and Indiana University talks with a former school mate, Dave Brown, of Rutgers University, at the AAU national decathlon championships at Bloomfield, N.J. Roberson, only Jerseyan given a chance to make the American decathlon team for the Olympics, finished fifth with 6775 points.

Wilbur Ross of Newark and Baldwin-Wallace College tallies his points in the decathlon for relatives. He scored 5700 points in the two-day competition for all-around track and field athletes, finishing in eleventh place and dashing his hopes for competition in the Olympics. From left to right are Mrs. Daisy Satterfield, 61, Edgar St., East Orange; Ross and Mrs. Mable Ross, his mother, of 31 S. 12th St., Newark; and Miss Alma Fields, 13 N. 13th St., Newark.

Russell Thomas of the Jeanette Harriers, Jeanette, Pa., autographs a program for Richard Fox of 210 Glenridge Ave., Montclair. Thomas, 13th in the field of 20, had 5612 points. Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., Irving Mondschein of New York and Floyd Simmons of North Carolina won first, second and third, respectively.

Doby's Streak Halted by Injury

CLEVELAND — Larry Doby, who was sidelined with an ankle sprain last Sunday, is expected to rejoin the Cleveland Indians during the Tribe's home stand next week.

Doby, who is resting at his home here while the Indians are on an 8-day trip, was reported doing fine. X-ray pictures taken by Dr. Edward B. Castle disclosed the injury to be a bad sprain.

Doby said he turned the ankle when he hit the edge of the bag trying to round second on the play. "I looked around trying to see what was happening at first and just nicked the corner," Larry explained.

Hits .412 at Home

The injury halted the brightest spot in Doby's play since he became an Indian last July. He had played both centerfield and right-field for the Tribe in the recent home stand, and boosted his batting average from .252 to .286 by rapping out 14 hits in 34 times at bat. He pounded the ball for a .412 mark during the home stand.

Included in the hits were two doubles and two triples and one single which was the important blow that won for Bob Feller a week ago last Sunday.

Wilbur Ross 11th in Decathlon

NEWARK

Chances for colored athletes to vie in the Olympic decathlon in London this summer were eased Saturday and Sunday when the three men for the U.S. team were chosen in the national tryouts at Foley Field, Bloomfield.

However, Joseph Yancy of New York, director of the New York Pioneer Club, was pleased that one of his products held the Eastern banner with Irving Mondschein, while, a member of the three-man squad.

Wilbur Ross, former Barringer High School athlete and a student now at Baldwin-Wallace College, was buried in 11th place.

Thigpen in Specialty

Phil Thigpen of Seton Hall College, one of the State's outstanding distance runners, probably ran one of his fastest heats in a specialty Saturday against Gil Dodds of Boston, National AAU mile titlist, in a mile event.

Dodds's feat in winning the event was so outstanding that Phil was noticed only as second to reach the finishing line although he was only 40 paces behind the flying parson.

Two Big Track Meets to Decide Olympic Squad

Nationals at Milwaukee and Olympic Finals Promise to Uncover Tan Talent

CHICAGO (ANP) — With final Olympic trials for the United States track squad coming up at Dyche Stadium July 9 and 10, it has become more and more apparent that American hopes rely a great deal on colored stars, many of whom are listed for competition in this week's national championships at Milwaukee.

The big three in this group are considered to be Harrison Dillard, Charles Fonville and Willie Steele.

Dillard has won everything and beaten everybody in the hurdles. He is considered the peer of every one in the 100-meter highs by coaches all over the country.

Fonville, the only man to ever toss the shotput more than 58 feet, is considered a cinch to take the shotput title. No one has come close to him this year.

Four in Broad Jump

In the broad jump, Willie Steele, who has leaped 27 feet, in practice is considered the No. 1 man. And his competition, what there is of it, comes from colored stars, also. Lorenzo Wright of Wayne, Jim Holland of Northwestern and Fred Johnson of Michigan State are his chief rivals.

Qualifiers in the 800-meter run are expected to be all colored, too. Mal Whitfield, Ohio State; Reggie Pearman of New York and Phil Thigpen of Seton Hall have proved themselves the best in 1946 competition so far.

The former Colorado ace, Dave Bolen, is expected to be the chief United States threat in the 400-meter run. The sensational 18-year-old San Francisco high school flash, Ollie Matson, may also prove to be a U.S. Olympics star.

Barksdale Entered

Don Barksdale, the basketball titeo, Panama and Cuba star and formerly of UCLA, will be a leader in two events, the high jump and the hop, step and jump. Dave Albritton is also one of the nation's better high jumpers.

In the sprints, Bill Mathias, former Illini star, and Barney Ewell are two of the top men. Mathis is the AAU 100-meter champion, and Ewell is the 200-meter titlist.

A couple of colored track stars, running for other nations, Herb McKenley and Lloyd LaBeach, are expected to star in the Olympics, too.

McKenley, representing Jamaica, is expected to be a cinch in the 400 meters. If he runs the 200 meters against Dillard, who could possibly make it in this dash, too, fans and coaches expect one of the best sprint races in history.

LaBeach has tied the 200-meter record, and is considered one of the world's best in the 100 meters. He will represent Panama.

According to Walter Christie, former coach at the University of California, colored people have developed in the track field because of the achievements of Jesse Owens in the 1936 Olympic Games.

Asheville Blues to Play Richmond Giants in D.C.

Two strong contenders for the Negro American Association championship, the Asheville Blues, current titleholders, and the Richmond Giants, have been booked for a night game at Griffith Stadium next Thursday, July 8.

The Blues and Giants are close rivals in the Southern loop, and are expected to give local fans a good show during the absence of Cole Grays, whose Cubicle prevents them from playing here on that date.

The Richmond club is managed by Bob Clark, former Baltimore Elite Giants catcher, and sparked by Bill Hoskins, also an ex-Elite star.

Panthers Oppose Cubs at Westport

Night Game Launches Heavy Week-End Slate

Night baseball will be inaugurated at the new Westport Baseball Park tonight (Friday) when the Baltimore Panthers, the home club, plays the Martinsburg Cubs of West Virginia.

The downpour of rain Tuesday night forced cancellation of the scheduled night contest between the Panthers and the Frederick Hustlers. Early arrivals were entertained with recorded music, but the heavy rains made it impossible to play.

Tonight's contest, slated for 8:30 p.m., will initiate a heavy week-end schedule for the Panthers who will play five games in four days at the Westport Park.

Royals to Play

After the nocturnal game, the Panthers engage the Norfolk Royals in four games on Sunday and Monday. The Sabbath twin bill is set for 2 p.m., and the holiday attraction on Monday at 1:45 p.m.

The Panthers, who won their only two local starts, will rely on Lefty Gadsen and Russell Valentine for their topflight hurling, with Gadsen slated to face the Cubs in tonight's encounter.

The Royals, who play here on Sunday and Monday, are managed by Jerry Benjamin, former Homestead Grays standout centerfielder, who, recently released from the New York Cubans to take the managerial spot.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Three Tennessee State College co-eds hope to make the Olympic team. They are:

Audrey (Mickey) Patterson, who holds the national AAU junior 200-meter championship and the national AAU senior indoor 200-meter championship, seems to be well on her way to represent Uncle Sam in the 1948 Olympic Games; Emma Reed, winner of the national AAU indoor high jump, and Mary Hardaway, who won the 50-meter run in the annual Tuskegee Carnival.

The Tennessee State trio will participate in the women's national AAU meet which is to be held at Grand Rapids, Mich., on July 8. The relay team, composed of Misses Marvellen Wilson, Mary Hardaway, Emma Reed and Audrey Patterson, will be entered. They also will enter the women's Olympic trials at Providence, R.I., on July 12.

Newcombe Clouts Homer for Royals

MONTREAL — Don Newcome won another International League victory here Tuesday as the Montreal Royals took a double-header from the Syracuse Chiefs, 6-5 and 10-6.

Newcombe hurled the second game, walking three and holding the Chiefs in check until the seventh when they staged a 6-run rally. Don, who allowed 11 hits over the 7½-inning distance, was removed at this junction, with Clyde King finishing the game.

The Royals were well out in front at the time and eventually won, 10-6, with Newcombe the winning pitcher. Don helped the Royals' cause at bat, clouting one of the three Royals' home runs.

Arcade-Pontiacs Win 2 Games at Scotland

WASHINGTON

The Arcade-Pontiac Indians swept both ends of a doubleheader from the Scotland (Md.) nine, taking the first game, 14-4, and the nightcap, 6-4, on the losers' grounds.

Charles Williams hurled seven innings for the Indians and gave up seven hits before being overcome by the heat. He was relieved by Guy Willis.

Willis Hits 2-Run Homer

Maurice (Sonny) Willis homered in the second game, with one aboard, to give the Indians a lead which they never lost.

Virginia and Maryland teams seeking games should contact George H. Penn, Atlantic 2253.

Ezzard Charles to Fight Jimmy Bivins on D.C. Card

Light-heavyweight Ezzard Charles and Heavyweight Jimmy Bivins will figure in the final bout of a series of heavyweight bouts in the made scramble to uncover a successor to the crown vacated by Champion Joe Louis.

The two principals have been signed by the Variety Club of Washington to meet at Griffith Stadium, Aug. 2 for the benefit of the club's welfare fund.

The bout will be promoted jointly by the Variety Club and the Turner-Menefee combination which released its Aug. 2 date for the show. At the same time, Clark Griffith is turning over Griffith Stadium to the show without charge.

Commission Sanctions Bout

The bout has been sanctioned by the National Boxing Association, which has announced that the match would be recognized as the first step in the elimination of the ranking heavyweight contenders in an effort to establish a successor to the abdicated crown.

Charles, a 175-pounder, has been avoided by the majority of the heavies. Following the death of Sam Baroudi who died from a severe beating at the hands of Charles this year, it has been increasingly difficult for the Cincinnati boxer to get fights with anyone.

Charles has met Bivins three times since 1943, each time stopping the first encounter, notched a 10-round decision and a four-round kayo.

There is apprehension, however, that Bivins's stock as a fighter may fall in view of the fact he dropped a split decision to Archie Moore, who has been fighting twice a week and has been fighting heavies in the past three years.

Tabbed Good Prospect

During the war years, Champion Joe Louis tabbed Bivins as the cleverest fighter who had possibilities but lacked initiative, and had to be prodded along.

The fight is expected to attract a guaranteed a 30% take, and Bivins's $100,000 gate with Charles is 25% cut.

Archie Moore Wins Over Jimmy Bivins

Archie Moore, St. Louis light heavyweight, registered his second victory over Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland, Monday night at the Coliseum, winning a majority decision in the 10-round feature.

The bout was marked by roughness with four foul blows being called. The sixth was ordered scored on its merit when both battlers landed punches below the belt, while Bivins was penalized in the third and ninth and Moore in the eighth for low blows.

Moore came off the floor to win. He took a eight count in the fourth when Bivins landed a solid right to the chin, but came back slashing with both fists to send St. Louis scrapper outboxed and outpunched his foe the rest of the way.

Judges Bill Ellis and Lee Halpenny favored Moore while Referee Eddie Leonard called it a draw. Moore weighed 175, and Bivins, 187.

Finos Upset Bisons, 18-1

The Finos AC upset the dope, sending the strong Bisons AC down to an 18-1 defeat. Instead of the expected contest, the Finos opened up with a four run rally in the first and scored seven in the third and fourth to complete the route. Over 200 spectators witnessed the upset at School No. 122.

The Ritz AC defeated the Topper, 7 to 6, in the second game at School No. 122, behind the erratic pitching of Stewart, who was relieved by C. Webb in the seventh.

Lutherville Beats Gents

Lutherville AC shellacked the Gents AC 18 to 7, on Lutherville home diamond. Lutherville scored 9 runs in the first inning and was never headed thereafter. Chatman, third baseman of Lutherville, was the outstanding player of the game, collecting three hits and a walk, one a home run with none on.

J. Sheppard, Lutherville pitcher, allowed nine scattered hits to receive credit for the win. Buster pitched good ball for the Gents, but errors proved costly to the losers.

Jim Bruce, CIAA Champ, Enters AAU One-Mile Run

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. — Bespectacled James Bruce, elongated Howard University freshman, finished fourth behind Gallogoly Gil the Dodds in his first major test in national competition here, Saturday, in a feature event of the Olympic decathlon tryouts.

Dodds, easy-striding Boston minister, pushed by Carl Joyce, Seton Hall schoolboy, turned in the best outdoor time of the season with a brilliant 4:08.8 clocking. He finished 125 yards a head of Joyce.

Phil Thigpen, veteran middle-distance runner from Seton Hall College, finished third.

Bruce, CIAA 880-yard and mile champion, running in his first competition since May 29 when he turned in a creditable 4:28.1 against Phil Thomas, white Oberlin College, was entered in the meet by Coach Tom Johnson as a tuneup test preparatory to the NCAA track carnival slated today (Friday) and Saturday, in Milwaukee, Wis.

Seeks AAU Title

The former Dunbar High School (Washington, D.C.) athlete has been entered in both the junior and senior divisions scheduled on successive days.

Then on the following week Bruce, who will join Coach Ted Chambers, Howard University track coach, at Milwaukee, Wis., will enter the Olympic tryouts at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. Coach Chambers is doing advance work at the University of Michigan.

Stars' Hush-Hush On Miller Puzzles

AFRO Told Pitcher Not in Cleveland Tryout

Sportswriters were puzzled this week over the top secret cloak put on Pitcher Henry Miller's tryout with the Cleveland Indians in the front office of the Philadelphia Stars.

The Stars' ace right-hander reported to Cleveland last week, but the deal, he all but crossed his heart making denials.

"There is positively nothing to the report," Gottlieb told the AFRO. "Miller has not been bought by Cleveland and is not getting a tryout with them."

On Plane Then

Even as Gottlieb was throwing denials all over the place, Miller according to reports, was flying to Cleveland. Oscar Charleston, manager of the Stars, didn't give out any information, but he didn't say it wasn't true, either. He simply referred all questions to Gottlieb. Ed Bolden, owner of the team, could not be reached.

The suspected Miller who is about 30, joined the Stars team five years ago after hurling three consecutive no-hitters for the Darby Township Boys Club team. His record in the Negro National League was not sensational, however, until last year when he won 11 in a straight.

Although Cleveland scouts have been keeping tabs on him for several weeks, the decision to try him out in big-league competition was not reached until he humbled the Baltimore Elite Giants recently, allowing only three hits in eight innings.

This year, Miller has won four games for the Stars, lost none. In 52 innings he permitted 48 hits, gave up 19 bases on balls and struck out 33. His batting average was .308.

MAN ABOUT TOWN
MR. WILLIE [BLUE TOP] WYNN
All you fight fans recognize "Blue Top" Wynn, this week's MAN ABOUT TOWN, 'cause he's down there at the fights every Monday night. And during the day, "Blue Top" is known as the unofficial manager of the Dreamland Cafe. Yes, sir, he's got plenty of friends up and down the "avenue," and here's what he tells 'em—
"I'm telling you—that R.W.L. wine is really good stuff. I'm in the business myself and I wouldn't drink anything else. Man, that R.W.L. is swell!"
