Phi Beta Sigmas, Deltas Set for August Sessions

—with Lula Jones Garrett—

The 34th annual conclave of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity will be held August 11-14 at Los Angeles. Dr. R. O. Johnson, national president of the organization, announced last Thursday.

"In making the announcement Dr. Johnson disclosed that the Fraternity has added seventeen new chapters to its rolls since January 1. He said four hundred delegates will attend the conclave.

Theme of the conference will be "Reviewing the Past, Building for the Future." During its four-day session, Government officials, business leaders and a member of Congress will be presented.

Among the persons scheduled to address the conference are Dr. Ambrose Caliver, specialist in higher education and director of the Adult Education Project of the U.S. Office of Education; Dr. George-A. Beavers, vice president, Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company of Los Angeles and Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democrat, of California.

Marked for special consideration by the convention will be a program of bigger and better business which will be under direction of Dr. Edward S. Gilbert, national director of Bigger and Better Business, St. Louis, and Billboard Jackson, national business counsellor, New York City.

The convention will also feature the newly formed American Council on Human Rights, a co-operative venture of six national Greek letter fraternities and sororities founded to seek the extension of civil rights.

A further consideration of the convention will be the fraternity's expanded program of education which includes a national high school essay contest and the granting of scholarships for graduate and undergraduate study. More than one hundred scholarships will be awarded at the conclave, Dr. Johnson said. Another feature of the education program will be the developing of plans for awarding an annual scholarship of $1000 to a student of chemistry to do special research with the Carver Research Foundation at Tuskegee. Dr. Horace F. Johnson of Chicago is head of the education program.

Among former national presidents of the organization expected to attend the August meeting are John W. Woodhus of Baltimore, Major W. A. Clarke of Tuskegee, George W. Lawrence, attorney, of Chicago; Dr. R. A. Billings of Atlanta, George A. Parker, attorney, of Washington; W. Sherman Savage of Lincoln, Missouri; Dr. I. I. Scruggs of Buffalo, and James W. Johnson, attorney, of New York City.

Social activities for the convention include a party at the home of actress Hattie McDaniel.

DELTAS' SESSION SCHEDULED

"Meet Me In St. Louis, Deltas" has become the pep song of the hundreds of sorors headed towards the Missouri City, come August 24, when Delta Sigma Theta will hold its twentieth annual conclave.

The session, which will last through the 28th will be held in the Henry W. Kiel Municipal Auditorium, with Lambda Sigma and Alpha Omega chapters as hosts. Dorothy Height of the National YWCA is president.

GUARDSMEN TO FROLIC

And even earlier, August sixth and seventh, to be exact the Guardsmen from along the Coast will rally for a week end of gaiety at Seaview Beach Club, Norfolk, Va.

The Norfolk Chapter, hosts, has scheduled their "Nocturnal Sabbonner" for City Beach, on the Friday eve, beginning at eleven o'clock; and set their "Cappakanna Dawn Dance" for the following morn from twelve to four o'clock.

PEREGRINATORS:

Florence Dennis and Laura Weaver, who have been absorbing the wonders of Mexico City while studying at the university there, this summer, will stop in Chicago en route home. The Rev. J. Timothy Boddie, pastor of New Shiloh Baptist Church, is back from New Rochelle, N.Y., where he went to serve in the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of Bethesda Baptist Church.

Bernice Buckner left, this week, to attend the annual convention of the National Business League and the National Housewives League in Atlantic City. She's a national officer in the latter, and a delegate from the Baltimore unit. Marian Valentine Coombs, executive secretary of the Northwest Branch Planned Parenthood Clinic, has returned after a brief vacation. She represented Howard University at the American Alumni Council Conference at the University of Michigan last week.

Flying home to Bridgeton, Barbados, BWI, on Tuesday, was Donald Boyce, local GOP ward executive, who will spend six weeks visiting his 91-year old mother, Mrs. Annie S. Boyce.

Guest of Mrs. Alma Miller of 2007 Etting St., last week end were her cousins, Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Moore, who are returning to Charlotte, N.C., after a vacation in New York.

Mrs. Natalie Tilghman of Morgan Park will honor her brother, the Rev. Marmaduke Carter of Chicago, at a reception on Monday. He was guest speaker on Sunday at St. Matthews Lutheran Church.

A former Baltimorean, he is the brother also of James Carter, business manager of Morgan State College; and Susie Cordery, teacher. Sharing honors with him at the reception, will be the Rev. H. J. Lehman, pastor of St. Matthew Church.

Raymond I. Johnson, organist, of Philadelphia and Wiliam Meredith H. Birche Jr., conductor-music instructor of this city, will be guests this week at Ocean Grove, N.J., where they will attend the annual conference of Sacred Music. They will be joined by Dr. Hall Johnson and Mrs. Madelaine Preston of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, who visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Henderson here, were guests at a number of socialites. They were accompanied by Miss Francelyn Corporan of the same town. Mrs. Margaret Robinson and Mrs. Mabel Johnson each entertained at dinners for the visitors, and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Butler and Miss Anne White were joint hostesses at another dinner party for them.

Mrs. Mary C. Holman was hostess at a small luncheon given in the honor of her former high school teacher, Mrs. Frankie Wilson of Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Wilson has been visiting her relatives, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Dedmond. Guests were Mrs. Dollie Walker, Mrs. Baker C. Pearle, Mrs. Elnielia Clark, and Mrs. Annie Moore.

Mrs. Eleanor Randolph, just back from a vacation in Toronto, Canada, and a jaunt to Atlantic City, was the guest of honor at the session held by the Modern Belles club, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Randolph is president of the group. The meeting was held with Mrs. Lydia Keene, treasurer, and pokeno followed luncheon. Taking the prizes were Mesdames Gertrude Williams, secretary; Mae Kennedy, vice president and Mrs. Keene.

Others playing included Miss Anna Campber, recording secretary; Miss Phillis Williams, Mesdames Delores Kennedy, Miss Betty Lee Williams, DeWitt Williams and Dennis Keene.

June Butler (she's the daughter of the Everett Butlers) is the only non-white counselor at Rose Center Camp in Michigan, this season. She's teaching dramatics, dancing and craft. She is a this year's graduate from Coppins Teachers College. Her sister, Shirley, is taking an educational course at Northwestern, at Evanston, Ill.

VITAL STATISTICS:

The J. Edward Wilsons (Morgan College) and Mrs. Estella Lee (retired principal) are grandparents! A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee (Frances Wilson) at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Monday. And the Lloyal Randolphs (he's the Democratic politico) welcomed a daughter at Provident Hospital, Wednesday dawn. The Ralph Shipleys (Thelma Derricks) are in their new home on Pulaski Street as of last Saturday.

Delores Miller, Coppin Teachers College graduate and teacher at Robert Brown Elliott School No. 104, and Joseph Davis, Howard University student, were at their wedding hour for 5 p.m., Sunday, at her Carrollton Avenue home.

Wearing a smart rope frock of white silk accentuated with a corsage of red roses, the William Adkins' daughter, Erma, plighted her troth to Allen M. Mecheam of Aiken, S.C., Tuesday.

The ceremony was held at the altar of Metropolitan Methodist Church with the Rev. John C. Dyson, assistant pastor. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Mary, is a social worker with the Department of Public Welfare, and her bridegroom, a student at Hampton Institute. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mecham of the South Carolina City.

Add, also, to mergers of the week those of Joseph R. Courtier, Hampton Institute student, and Margaret—M. Sanders, school marm, of this city; and Allen T. Moore, Howard University student, and Mrs. Cleaver Reynolds of this town.

Miss Jones Is Summer Bride

CHEWS LANDING — Miss Emma Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones of Clementina Rd., and Alfred Davis, son of Mrs. Mary Davis of 1024 S. Second St., Camden, were married on Saturday evening at the home of the bride.

The Rev. J. S. Brown, pastor of Macedonia AME Church, Camden, officiated.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall and the Rev. Frank Davis, brother of the bridegroom, were attendants.

Bride Wears White

The bride wore a white satin bridal gown made along fitted lines and a wide buffant skirt. Her finger-tipped veil of French illusion was held in place by a head band of seeded pearls.

She wore white pearl jewelry and carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

The bride is a native of Chews Landing. The bridegroom is a veteran of World War II. He is a stock clerk at the J. C. Penny Store in Camden.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's sister at 1706 S. Sixth St., Camden.

Among the guests present were: Messrs. and Mesdames John W. Merrill, Benjamin Jacobs, Alfred Jones, Robert McNutt, Harry Davis of Newark, Howard Jones Mary Ann Davis, Misses Ruth Stanley, Julia Lancaster, Beulah Mims, Geraldine Murray, Elizabeth De Vane and Jacob Johnson.

The newly-weds will honeymoon in Atlantic City. They will reside at 1706 S. Sixth St., Camden.
