Mighty Fine Way to Spend That Summer Day

Meet the Bride

Miss Caroline B. Manns, charming public school teacher, who will become the bride of Dr. Garnet C. Wilkinson, first assistant superintendent of schools, in Washington, on Sunday.

Former Baltimorean to Become Bride of District School Head

"Music Hath Charms!" At least it has for Dr. Garnet C. Wilkinson, first assistant superintendent of schools, and Miss Caroline B. Manns, 1119 Fairmount St., N.W., who will be married on Sunday afternoon, after a courtship nurtured through their mutual love for good music.

Miss Manns, charming enough in her own right without the music, who has taught at Garrison School for 28 years, will become Dr. Wilkinson's bride in a quiet private ceremony, at the home of a life-long friend, the Rev. H. J. Callis, 72 R St., N.W. who will officiate.

Canadian Pacific Honeymoon

The couple will leave the city immediately after the ceremony for the Pacific Northwest, where they will honeymoon on beautiful Lake Louise, the Emerald Lake and Banff Springs in the Canadian Rockies.

They will live in a swanky hotel at Banff 10,000 feet above sea level. Upon their return they will reside at 406 U St., N.W., where Dr. Wilkinson now lives.

Dr. Wilkinson, a subscriber to the Wednesday National Symphony Orchestra Concerts, often attends concerts of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

"Because I too am a great lover of symphonic music he often carried me along for company, which helped to ripen our friendship," Miss Manns told the AFRO Wednesday.

Miss Manns said she has been a friend of the Wilkinson family for many years.

Dr. Wilkinson was left a widower when his first wife died about five years ago. There have been many rumors during that time about him getting married, but he has always laughed them off when queried about their authenticity.

This time it is the real thing, as he applied for the license on Monday and will be a much married man by next Monday.

Native of Baltimore

Miss Manns is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Manns of Baltimore and the sister of Edgar Manns, who still resides there. She is a native of the Monumental City herself, but came to Washington at the age of 12.

She graduated in the first class of Dunbar High School, attended Miner Normal School and received her A.B. degree from Howard University. She also holds an M.A. degree from Columbia University, New York City.

She likes languages, speaks french and reads Spanish and Italian. She teaches the sixth grade at Garrison. Miss Manns says she is particularly fond of children, that her work isn't hard and that she intends to continue teaching in the school system.

Here From Richmond

Mrs. Minnie Moore of Richmond, who was cured of her physical ailments during a 40-day fast, will appear at the Glorious Church of God in Christ at 927 N. Barnes St., where Elder Fred D. Morton is pastor.

Mother Entertains for Visiting Son

WASHINGTON

Mrs. M. B. Seymore, assistant director of nurses at Freedman's Hospital gave a dinner and a party at the Nurses' Home in honor of her son, Emmet Palmer, who is on his vacation from Liberia, where he has been making his home for several years.

Mr. Palmer is employed by the executive department of the government of Liberia as the secretary to the President of Liberia. In the large reception hall of the Nurses' Home there was a large collection of neckwear, pocketbooks, and blankets which he had made and given to his mother. Mr. Palmer will be here until September at which time he expects to return to Liberia.

South Baltimore Notes

Planning to take advantage of the good weather, the May Waste Coin Club, at its meeting on Monday, discussed plans for its annual bus excursion slated for Aug. 15.

Mrs. Ida Campbell is club president; James Woodland, business manager; Mesdames Bettie Coates and Lucille Flunn, secretaries.

Pearson-Shaw Rites

Simple nuptial rites were held on Sunday for Miss Margaret Shaw and Ninmark Pearson, who were married at the home of the Rev. J. Green, 506 Hamburg St.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Shaw of 2444 S. Paca St. Mt. Winans. Son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. G. Pearson of Manning, S.C., the bridegroom is a student at the GI School of Photography.

Pfc. Christian Gives Rites

Dignity marked the impressive funeral rites for Pfc. William H. Christian, which were held on Monday at the Star of Bethlehem AME Church. He was the nephew of George S. Hill, barber and AFRO sub-station manager.

MRS. EVELYN DYSON JOHNSON

Speakers included Chaplain Litleton of Fort Howard Hospital where the young soldier died, and the Revs. G. Oliver Wing, Clinton Johnson and W. M. Bell, the latter three eulogizing the life of the deceased.

Choirs from three churches sang. A special corps of police aided in handling the crowd that attended the hour-long service.

Southside personality of the week is Mrs. Evelyn Dyson Johnson, whose musical ability was discovered at the age of five, she was taught piano by Louis E. Toomey.

Mrs. Johnson, who has served as organist at Metropolitan Methodist Church for 15 years, has won signal recognition in and around Baltimore for her musical ability.

Interest Develops in Housing Group

NEWARK

Builders in the North Jersey area were busy this week working out plans to organize a chapter of the National Builders Association.

Stimulation for the move came last week from a meeting at which Walter H. Aiken, of Atlanta, Ga., builder, who said that he has constructed 1000 homes in his area. The costs range from $7,500 to $10,000.

Mr. Aiken told a conference last week at a meeting at Bloomfield Community House that he was able to get sites through cooperation of city officials and was able to get financing through the Federal Housing Authority.

He stated that such a program should be duplicated in this area.

Mr. Aiken was invited to come here by the Bloomfield Council on Race Relations, of which Leo H. Fields Jr., is secretary.

Dr. Pearl to Be Buried in Calif.

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Dr. Frank A. Pearl, physicist and surgeon and husband of the former Miss Ella Mae Smith, one time teacher in Baltimore public schools, died of a heart attack here, Saturday.

Dr. Pearl received his medical degree from Howard University in 1912 and returned to his home State, Kansas, for his internship in the Kansas City General Hospital.

He served in World War I, having been commissioned a first lieutenant in the Medical Reserve Corps, and saw service at Brest, France.

Honored in Medical Field

He was commissioned a captain in the AEF forces and received acclaim for developing a new technique for handling war wounded. He began his practice in California after he came out of the Army in 1919.

Dr. Pearl held the position of Fellow in the College of Physicians and Surgeons. Active in the community, he was a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, the medical associations of the city and a charter member of the Boule.

He is survived by Mrs. Pearl and a brother, Milton Pearl of Warm Springs, Mont. Mrs. Pearl's sister, Mrs. Jennie Wilson of Baltimore, flew here Monday to assist with the funeral arrangements for Thursday.

Mrs. Allener Wallace BEAUTY IS HER BUSINESS

Mrs. Wallace, one of Baltimore's foremost hair stylists, has made beauty her business for the past ten years. Right now Mrs. Wallace owns the Allener Beauty Salon at 709 N. Gilmor Street, where she will be creating the most beautiful hair-do's in the city.

Mrs. Wallace is also busy teaching beauty culture at the Baltimore Institute of Cosmetology, where her very fortunate students may reap the benefits of her vast experience. Mrs. Wallace is very enthusiastic about the new short hair cuts, because she feels that they really compliment the new look in fashions.

And when it comes to fashion . . . Mrs. Wallace says she has never seen clothes to equal the unusual styles at HENDIN'S. Why, Mrs. Wallace says that she could walk into HENDIN'S with her eyes closed...and come out with the smartest wardrobe in Baltimore!

Army Romance Led WAC Sergeant to Dentistry

WASHINGTON

An Army romance may have had some influence on Mrs. Ruth V. McLeon, former WAC sergeant, entering the dental profession, it was learned this week.

The attractive young dental student, one of two girls enrolled at the Kerpel School of Dental Technology, 820 Seventh St. N.W., met and later married Addison McLeon, a former Lincoln U. (Pa.) pre-medical student, while they were serving in the Army in Spokane, Washington.

"By choosing a profession so close to his," Mrs. McLeon told the AFRO last week, "I felt we would always be closer together and we could fair better financially." She plans to open a dental laboratory in the same offices that her husband opens his practice.

Dental Aide in WAC

Another reason for Mrs. McLeon entering the dental school is that she worked as a dental assistant while in the Army. "I found the work very fascinating," she stated.

Mrs. McLeon, who is pursuing her dental course under the GI Bill of Rights, enlisted in the WACs in December, 1944, from East St. Louis, Ill. She received her basic training at Fort Des Moines, Ia., served with the 463rd Army Air Corps, and was discharged from the service August 31, 1946, at Camp Beale, Calif.

Liberian Ambassador Host at Brilliant Social Affair

WASHINGTON

In celebration of the Liberian National Day of 101 years ago, the Liberian Minister and Mrs. C. D. B. King entertained at a brilliant reception, Monday night.

The soft-hued walls and furnishings of the Legation made an effective background for the red roses, red and white gladioli and blue larkspur used in decoration.

Mrs. King wore a chiffon gown of palest gray with a flesh-colored bodice, lace-trimmed, blue bands showing through and outlining a deep-pointed waistline in front. Her corsage was of red, white and blue flowers.

Miss Sarah King, the Minister's niece, wore a red crepe gown, gold trimmed. Buffet tables were placed in the dining room, on porch and on lawn.

Screens were set up and movies featuring Liberian scenes afforded further enjoyment for all.

The guest list included:

Ambassador Joseph D. Charles of Haiti; Ambassador and Mme. Bonnet of France; Ambassador Silvercruys of Belgium, Tarchiani of Italy, Elizalde of the Philippines, Panyushkin of Russia; also Minister Imru of Ethiopia; Charge d'Affaires of India and Mme Nehru; U.S. Ambassador to India and Mrs. Loy Henderson; Ambassador of Nicaragua and Senora Sevila-Sacasa; the Minister of South Africa, H. T. Andrews; the Minister of Uruguay and Senora Mora; the Minister of Iran and Mme. Noury-Esfandiary; Assistant Secretary of State, George V. Allen;

Justice and Mrs. Burton, Dr. F. A. Price, Liberian Consul General and Lester Walton, former U.S. Minister to Liberia, and new adviser to Liberian delegation at United Nations;
