White N.C. Girl, 13, Says Farmhand Sired Her Child

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (ANP)—Horace York, 29, was arrested and spirited away to an undisclosed jail Friday, on charges of criminally attacking and carnal knowledge of a white girl under 12 years of age, because he is said to be the father of her three - month old baby.

The girl, Bettie Ann Jacobs Howell, gave birth to a child in Hamlet Hospital last May. She refused to reveal to her stepfather and mother the identity of the baby's father.

Last week, however, she told her mother that York had relations with her while he was working on her step-parent's farm; and York, who lives with his mother near Hamlet, was arrested and turned over to Richmond County Sheriff Carl Hicks.

Admits Relations Sheriff Says

According to his story, he first worked for the Howells in 1946 and then in 1947, on a farm four miles south of here. He is alleged to have admitted having relations with the girl in the summer of 1949 and once again in August or September, 1947.

Bettie Anne, now 13, was born on Sept. 4, 1934. Her three-month-old child, delivered by Caesarian operation, is normal and healthy. It closely resembles the alleged father, who is brown-skinned, Sheriff Hicks said.

Mother Wants to Keep Baby

The young mother apparently intends to keep the infant at the home of her step-parents. Her father, whose name was Jacobs, is dead.

While the case attracted a considerable amount of attention when word of it leaked out here, the sheriff said that he did not believe there was any threat of mob action against York.

Just to be on the safe side, however, he kept secret the name of the jail in which the suspect is being held without bail, pending a preliminary hearing.
